Nineteenth Report of the State Civil Service Commission

STATE OF NEW YORK—EXECUTIVE CHAMBER

ALBANY, March 21, 1902

To the Legislature:

I have the honor to transmit herewith the Nineteenth Annual Report of the State Civil Service Commission, the same being for the year 1901.

B. B. ODELL, JR.

REPORT

ALBANY, N. Y., January 15, 1902

To the Governor of the State of New York:

The State Civil Service Commission herewith submits its annual report for the year ending December 31, 1901.

In January of that year Hon. John E. Kraft, of Kingston, was appointed a member of the Commission to succeed Hon. Silas W. Burt. He was duly confirmed by the Senate and met with the Commission at its meeting on January 31st and at all subsequent meetings. No other change in the membership of the Commission has occurred.

Independently of the work of the Commission, which is indicated by the annexed statistical tables, the past year has been one of a vast amount of detail work for the Commission. The duty of passing upon all applications for changes in the classification of the offices of all the cities of the state, as well as of the state service itself, and of extending the rules whenever practicable to the county service, coupled with the duty of hearing all requests for suspensions of competition, exemptions, transfers, promotions and reinstatements—all of which matters have to be separately considered upon the merits of each individual case—imposes upon the Commission a great amount of work concerning which the public has but a slight idea. Yet in the opinion of the Commission the careful consideration of these requests for exceptions from the general rule of open competition, and conscientious conservatism upon the part of the Commission in exercising the powers which it possesses to make such exceptions, are among the main duties of the Commission. The merit system on the one hand might easily be brought into disrepute or contempt because of its failure, if an attempt was made to extend it to the impracticable; while on the other hand exceptions and exemptions, if granted inconsiderately, would practically abrogate the system. While we have never been forgetful of the fact recognized both in the constitutional provision and in the civil service law that some exceptions from competition are absolutely required in order that there may be an efficient administration of the civil service by the responsible superior, yet it has been our constant endeavor to see that the general principle of open competition has not been silently and steadily repudiated by exceptions so numerous as to become the rule. It should, however, be borne in mind that the increasing functions of the government undertaken by the state call more and more for work of specialists, and that very frequently either these specialists are persons of such high and recognized attainments that it is impracticable to ask them to submit to an examination, or that the term of employment is for so short a period that competition is for that reason impracticable. The full list of the exceptions made by us from competition pursuant to the three paragraphs of section 14 of the civil service law and rule VIII of the civil service rules, with the reasons therefor in each case, appear annexed hereto and are made a part of this report as required by law.

Since the extension of the civil service rules to the counties of New York, Kings, Erie, Richmond and Queens, made in June,

1900, the Commission has been in receipt of an unusually large number of requests for authority to transfer persons from one position in the civil service to another, in very many instances from the municipal to the county service or vice versa. The apparent object in many of these cases was a desire to save some person in office, and in a great majority of the cases the applicants for transfer neither owed their positions to appointments from lists established as a result of competition nor seemed inclined to show their qualifications by entering such examinations, but made their request seemingly thinking that the Commission possessed some discretionary power in this respect enabling it to abrogate the constitutional requirement of competition. This matter of the right of persons in the civil service to be transferred from one position to another is one upon which the civil service law is at first glance somewhat obscure. Two provisions concerning it appear in the law—one in section 13 and the other in section 15. To the consideration of the proper construction of these sections and to the further consideration of what, if any, additional restrictions the Commission should in its discretion impose, we have given much time during the past year. The result has been a series of rulings which it is intended by the Commission to submit to you for your approval as a rule, the matter having been held back in order that at the same time we might submit to you for approval further amendments to the rules which we believe are required by the act and by the interests of the civil service of the state. A rigid application of these rulings has compelled the Commission to refuse a great majority of the recent requests for transfers. While in so doing it is possible that in occasional cases the state has been deprived of the services of experienced employees, yet we believe that our conservative action has done very much to preserve the merit system in full force and effect, and that the persons who have been appointed to the vacancies because of their standing at the head of the eligible lists established as a result of competition open to all residents of the state, either in or out of the public service, have been fully as competent, if not more so, than would have been the persons who sought transfer. It may be noted that with all the restrictions upon the right of transfers which the statute contains a most decided advantage is given to the person in the service, for under the statute such person, if he passes the examination for the position to which he seeks to be transferred and obtains a position anywhere upon the eligible list, may, with the permission of the Commission, and possibly in certain cases without the permission of the Commission, be transferred to a vacant position in preference to the right of a person standing at the head of the eligible list to secure an original appointment to that vacancy. While it is undoubtedly true that the legislature intended to recognize the fact that an experienced person in the public service frequently will be a more competent public employee than will some one without official experience who may possibly stand higher upon the civil service list, yet this is such an exception to the general principle of open competition which the constitution and the statute seek to establish that the Commission is carefully watching the effect upon the public service of those transfers which have been allowed pursuant to statute to see whether or not further restrictions should be made by the Commission itself. If in our judgment the allowance of these requests for transfers shall show that they are impairing the principle of open competition, and that the transferees are not in fact more efficient as public servants than those likely to be chosen as the result of open competition, we shall submit to your Excellency a rule embodying further restrictions upon this right.

In our last annual report attention was called by us to the extent to which our time was occupied with consideration of resolutions submitted to us for approval by municipal commissions relating to the rules, and more especially, to the classification, or changes in classification, of positions in the various cities in the state. It has been the policy of the State Commission to give heed to the expressed judgment of the municipal commission as being presumptively correct in its application to local conditions, yet we have not hesitated to disapprove such resolutions in cases where the proposed action departed from the policy which the general experience of the cities of the state showed to be best, and where no satisfactory evidence was offered that local conditions were peculiar and exceptional.

The powers conferred by the civil service law upon state commissions to conduct investigations as to the administration of the civil service law and rules, and the effect thereof in the state departments and also in municipalities, have been exercised by the State Commission in a number of instances during the past year. The most important was an exhaustive investigation made by us into certain police promotion examinations made by the municipal commission of the city of New York. Charges in writing were presented to us by various persons alleging that in the conduct of this examination the municipal commission had been deceived by the certificates of the police commissioners of the city of New York as to the efficiency and previous good conduct of the candidates for examination, which certificates of the police commissioners were called for by the municipal commission in accordance with their rules based upon the statute. After a protracted investigation, during which many witnesses were called and in which the State Commission had the efficient but gratuitous services of Mr. Samuel H. Ordway, of the New York bar and of the New York Civil Service Reform Association, the Commission came to the conclusion that the examination was irregular in that the police commissioners had, as a matter of fact, made unfair, erroneous, incomplete and arbitrary statements as to the previous conduct, efficiency and good services of the various candidates in the examination, and that the municipal commission had been misled by these certificates, so that the ratings of the various candidates were unfair.

We made a report to your Excellency containing all our findings of fact, with our conclusions of law, and afterwards submitted the same to the municipal commission to take proper action, the power to set aside the list being apparently vested in the municipal commission rather than in the State Commission, but the former body at the time not having authority to conduct investigations and to swear witnesses, an authority which, however, has been given to it by the revised charter of Greater New York. The municipal commission, after a consideration of the evidence submitted by us, did revoke the eligible list established in this examination, and a taxpayer's action has been instituted by Mr. J. Warren Greene, of Brooklyn, N. Y., to enjoin the disbursing officers of the city from paying salaries to the nineteen persons who were appointed from this fraudulently established list, and thus to secure the practical revocation of those appointments.

The Commission has also made personal investigation of alleged violations of the civil service law in the cities of Middletown and Newburg and in the office of the commissioner of records of Kings county, but is happy to report that in those cases the complaints were ascertained to be not well founded. The mayor, civil service commissioners and other authorities of Rensselaer were summoned to appear before us during the year to explain their failure to enforce the civil service law. Inquiries show that this failure was largely a result of ignorance and of a feeling that because of the smallness of the municipality the civil service law was not applicable. After a candid discussion of the situation the authorities of this city agreed to abide by the provisions of the law and to enforce them, and we believe that they have since done so. Complaints were also received by us from officers of one of the labor unions situated in the city of Little Falls as to the enforcement of the civil service law in that city. After an investigation by our secretary, Mr. Birdseye, matters were adjusted satisfactorily, and in that city we believe the civil service law has since been fairly enforced.

Doubtless some of the most important work of the Commission during the past year has been in the application of the civil service law and rules to positions in the county service. As stated in our last annual report (in June, 1900), the Commission, pursuant to the powers vested in it, extended the civil service law and rules to the counties of New York, Kings, Erie, Richmond and Queens, the first three being the most populous counties of the state, and having several departments and offices in which there was a large number of subordinate employees whose duties were apparently similar to those of clerks and subordinates in the state and municipal service who are universally recognized as properly being in the competitive class. Our original classification of the county service exempted all positions the incumbents of which were compensated wholly from fees paid to them by their superiors, and which fees were in fact personal property of the superiors no part of which they were obliged to return to the city, county or state, and for which they were obliged to give no account. As was said by us in an earlier report, such subordinates so paid were practically personal employees of their respective superiors. It is possible that the Commission should not have placed them in the exempt class, but should have ruled that such persons were not in the state service. So far as the civil service law was concerned it seemed hardly applicable or enforceable in such cases; yet inasmuch as these subordinates, although paid by their superiors, were apparently, in many cases at least, vested with certain powers as public officers, they were so treated by us; but because of the impracticability of enforcing competition in such cases and because of the fact of their being personally paid out of moneys of their superiors presumptively guaranteed the choice of competent men upon good business principles and was a restriction upon an excessive number of appointments and other evils which the civil service law is designed to remedy, we placed them in the exempt class. The status of these employees has become a matter of great interest and of vital importance in Kings county (Brooklyn) by reason of the taking effect on January 1, 1902, of the three statutes passed by the legislature of 1901, making the offices of county clerk, sheriff and register in that county salaried instead of feed offices. The growing strength of the principle that subordinate employees shall be chosen as a result of a competitive examination of their qualifications is well shown by the fact that in each of these laws making these offices salaried a clause was inserted providing that all appointments and removals in such offices should be made in accordance with the civil service law. During the months of November and December we have had frequent conferences with the officials of Kings county with regard to positions in these offices. Many questions as to the status of the employees under the old fee system and as to the applicability of the resolution passed by us in June, 1900, extending the civil service rules to the several counties above mentioned, and as to changes in the classification of these three offices made necessary by their reorganization, and as to the proper scope and character of the examinations to be required for those positions which are left in the competitive class, have been presented to us for solution. Numerous hearings have been given at which the various officials and numerous organizations and classes of subordinates, as well as veteran organizations, have appeared by their attorneys and representatives. The Commission has adhered to its previous rulings that the subordinates who were paid wholly from the fees of their superiors were, so far as the civil service law was concerned, personal rather than public employees, and were not perpetuated in office by the laws making these offices salaried, but that the resolution of June, 1900, extending to the then feed offices of county clerk, sheriff and register in Kings county as well as to all other offices and departments in that county, and that all positions in those three offices, except those which are specifically placed in the exempt class either by statute or by action of the Commission, must be filled as the result of competitive examination. Our chief examiner, pursuant to our direction, has made a personal investigation of the various positions in these offices to ascertain the specific duties and qualifications of the incumbents, and examinations have been advertised to be held on the 25th of January, 1902. Already over eleven hundred applications have been received. The Commission at a hearing on the 31st of December, 1901, made a few exemptions in the offices of the county clerk and register and several in the office of the sheriff, all of them seeming to be absolutely required by the statute and by the character of the relations existing between the subordinates and their superiors. It is expected that a further hearing will be given upon this question, it having been asserted by the attorneys for the interested officials that important facts relating to the specific duties of several of the subordinates had not been presented to the Commission for its consideration.

Ever since the extension of the civil service rules to counties the Commission has been confronted with the questions as to the practicability and propriety of requiring that registers, sheriffs and county clerks should select their subordinates from civil service lists. Although in the counties to which the rules have been extended by us the practical organization of the working force seems to be in all vital respects similar to organizations of departments in the cities and states; although the duties of a great number of subordinates seem to be as routine and clerical and ministerial in their character as that of a great majority of the clerks and subordinates, employees in the city and state service, yet there is claimed to be a legal difference in the relations existing between the three county officers above mentioned and subordinates in their offices, and superiors and subordinates generally. The civil service of the counties has been a growth from small beginnings, where at the start the official seems to have been able without assistance to perform all of the duties of his office, and where his compensation in a majority of cases was not an annual salary but a payment by fee for each particular act or service. When in the course of an increase of business it became necessary for the official to secure assistance, the policy of the legislature seems to have been to make the employment of such assistants purely optional, and to regard the superior as practically a principal liable for the acts of the subordinate, with a right to hire such and so many as he chose upon such private terms as to compensation and duties as he chose. Hence it has been contended that as a matter of law sheriffs, county clerks and registers are liable to persons having business with their respective offices for any damage which they sustained by reason of negligence, malfeasance, misfeasance or nonfeasance of the subordinates of these various officials. The Commission has, however, felt that such liability, even if existing as a legal proposition, is not one which in all cases constitutes an insuperable objection to the application of a system of appointments as the result of competitive examination. Independently of the fact that cases in which these superiors have been held liable for the acts of their subordinates are rare, and also independently of the fact that it is probable that the selection by them of persons whose qualifications have been actually tested by open competitive examinations renders the probability of neglect or erroneous action less likely, we have felt that the provision of the civil service law authorizing superiors to exact from their subordinates a bond in many cases gives protection to the superiors, and that the further provision of the law contained in section 9, directing us from time to time to make rules for the classification of offices, places and employments in such other civil divisions of the state, except cities, as after due inquiry by the Commission shall be found practicable, was intended to apply to counties and justified, if it did not in fact require, the extension of the rules to the populous counties of the state. Furthermore, when county offices become salaried instead of feed offices, the relations between the superiors and subordinates, as well as between the superiors and the public, would seem to have become somewhat changed.

In connection with this matter of the applicability of the competitive system to county officers and of the relations of the subordinates to the superiors in such offices attention should be called to a mandamus proceeding brought against the Commission by one Blust, a person employed as engineer in the jail of Erie county, but who was also deputized as a deputy sheriff by the sheriff, and who not only had charge of the heating apparatus of the jail but who at certain hours had custody over persons confined in the jail. To the Commission the latter services seemed to be not only incidental but in fact to have been an unnecessary incident, if indeed not an incident created for the express purpose of establishing a confidential relation between the sheriff and his subordinate. This seemed to be a fair inference from the fact that it was alleged that no such incidental duties were performed by the person who held the same position under the preceding sheriff. Therefore, although we had exempted all of the deputy sheriffs in that county authorized by law generally to act for and in place of their principal and also those who rendered services which are usually performed by such deputies, and also the deputy sheriffs whose duties seemed to be principally those of court attendants, assigned as such by the sheriff for the terms of court to be held in Erie county pursuant to the statute, we insisted that the engineer be in the competitive class, and the sheriff refusing to abide by that classification and appointing Blust to the position without examination we refused to certify to the validity and legality of his appointment and consequently his salary was not paid him by the proper disbursing officer. Blust brought a mandamus proceeding against the Commission, alleging that his position was of a confidential character and that it was not practicable to fill the same as the result of competition, and that the Commission had erred in not putting it in the exempt class. By the kindness of the attorney-general one of the deputy attorneys-general was assigned as attorney for the Commission and the proceeding was litigated. At the trial term the relator, Blust, was successful and the Commission was ordered to change the classification and to certify to the validity of his employment. The question seemed to be of such importance that an appeal was taken, but the Appellate Division unanimously affirmed the decision below and held that as it was a fact that the engineer was made a deputy sheriff by the sheriff, and that incidental to his duties as engineer of the jail he performed the duties of a deputy, he was a deputy, and it was further held that the relations existing between a sheriff and his deputy were highly confidential. (See opinion of the Appellate Division in People ex rel. Blust v. Collier et al., composing the State Civil Service Commission, 62 App. Div. 478.)

In order that that important section of the law which forbids the levying of political assessments and contributions upon public officers and employees might be the better observed, the Commission during the progress of the last campaign sent a circular letter to the heads of the various departments, offices and institutions of the state calling their attention to the provisions of the statute and directing them to bring the same to the attention of their respective subordinates.

We would again call attention to the introduction in the legislature of numerous bills designed to authorize the payment of persons who have been employed in violation of the civil service law and rules. Some of these cases may be meritorious, and to such relief should be given; but in the great majority of instances they are merely attempts to condone violations and evasions of the statute, and are not only repugnant to its clear provisions but tend to break down one of the strongest safeguards of the system. It should not be forgotten that by the present civil service law (section 7) the superior who appoints a subordinate in violation of the civil service law or rules is personally liable for the compensation of the subordinate, and that the statute specifically provides that "no public officer shall be reimbursed by the state or any of its civil divisions for any sum so paid or recovered in any such action." It is equally clear that it is wholly repugnant to the statute to pass laws authorizing payment directly to the subordinate employed in violation of the civil service law and rules, and such acts should not be passed unless possibly in a few meritorious cases where the violation was apparently made unknowingly, or where some public urgency necessitated action which was a technical rather than a substantial violation of the civil service law. It is with pleasure that we acknowledge that bills of this character introduced in the previous session of the legislature did not meet with approval of the Governor, and our sole reason for mentioning the subject at this time is the fact of the reintroduction of these bills in the session of the legislature which began on January 1, 1902.

In conclusion we would acknowledge the constant and vigorous assistance of your Excellency in our efforts to enforce the civil service law, a law which established a method of appointment which is designed to secure that which has at all times been the great aim of the present administration—an efficient, economical, businesslike administration of the affairs of the state.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ALBANY, N. Y., June 19, 1901

To the Governor of the State of New York:

On December 29, 1900, the civil service reform association sent a letter to the State Civil Service Commission charging gross irregularity and violation of the civil service law and rules in the manner of rating the efficiency, character and conduct of candidates for promotion from sergeant to captain in the police department of New York city, and in the selection of candidates for promotion. The Commission was asked to make an investigation as to the facts in accordance with the provisions of section 6 of the civil service law. The Commission replied on February 2, 1901, requesting the association to submit its specifications. The memorial presented on behalf of the association in return, supported by statements and affidavits of various candidates, was considered to have established a prima facie case and to warrant a thorough investigation. Accordingly a joint meeting with the New York city commission was held on April 10th, and on April 11th, 12th and 19th the State Commission held a public investigation at which witnesses were examined by counsel and a large amount of testimony taken. At a meeting of the State Board held in Albany May 17th it was decided to consider the case as originally submitted as closed.

A review of the evidence discloses the following facts:

I—The manner in which vacancies in the rank of captain were filled from January 1, 1898, to December 27, 1900

On the coming into force of the new charter on January 1, 1898, a number of vacancies in the rank of captain in the police department were found to exist. The police board filled these vacancies between January 1st and May 9th by the promotion without examination of six men, under the powers which it was claimed were conferred on them by section 287 of the charter (Exhibit K). The testimony in regard to the division of appointments between the democratic and republican members of the board has a bearing upon the case in hand. Commissioner York testified at the hearing held April 19, 1901, that he appointed White and Riordan, and that they were democrats; that Commissioner Sexton appointed Halpin and Kane, and that he assumed that they were democrats; that Commissioners Hamilton and Phillips named respectively Diamond and Lawson, and that he assumed they were republicans. Commissioners York and Sexton were the democratic and Commissioners Hamilton and Phillips were the republican members of the board (York test., pp. 395-398).

No promotions to the rank of captain were made after May 9, 1898, until December, 1900. Vacancies as they occurred were filled by the assignment of men as acting captains, or technically, "commanding sergeants," and no attempt was made to obtain an eligible list until the White civil service law was signed by the Governor April 19, 1899. The day following the police board made application to the civil service commission for an eligible list from which to make promotions to the grade of captain, and directed all sergeants desiring to compete to file their applications with the chief clerk on or before April 27th (Exhibit L, Delamater test., p. 27).

The competitive mental examination was not held until November 2, 1899. The physical examinations took place in March, 1900. The list was finally made up and published November 24, 1900. This delay, according to the testimony of President Knox, was due to the inability of the civil service commission to get the ratings for conduct and efficiency from the police board (Knox test., p. 430).

II —Delay of the police board in forwarding the records of efficiency, character and conduct

In October, 1899, the police board took up the matter of rating for conduct and efficiency and applied to the civil service commission to furnish a form of certificate. The following reply was received:

"MUNICIPAL CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

"NEW YORK, October 9, 1899

"WILLIAM D. DELAMATER, Esq., Deputy chief clerk, Police department:

"DEAR SIR: In response to your request of the 14th instant for a formal certificate to meet all requirements in examination for promotion, I would inform you that in addition to furnishing this commission with a copy of the records of the department it is required that in each case the blank form as contained herein requiring the character, conduct and efficiency of the officer entering the examination for promotion be filled out by the department and forwarded to us. We send you under another cover a number of promotion blanks, and it is requested that you will have them filled out in due form and forwarded along with the copy of the records at your earliest convenience.

"Yours respectfully

"LEE PHILLIPS

"Secretary"

(Exhibit A)

The chief clerk was then directed to ascertain who should sign the certificate. To this question the civil service commission replied as follows:

"MUNICIPAL CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION

"WM. H. KIPP, Esq., Chief clerk, Police department:

I desire to inform you that it has always been the practice for the chief of police to sign as the immediate official superior, and the president or chief clerk acting for the board of police to sign as the appointing officer.

"Yours respectfully

"LEE PHILLIPS

"Secretary"

Resolved further, That the chief clerk be and is directed transmit a copy of the foregoing resolution to the president the municipal civil service commission of the city of New York (Exhibit L, p. 3).

In accordance with the resolutions of October 6, 1899, Chief of Police Devery sent the blank certificates forwarded by the municipal commission to the immediate superior officers of each of the candidates accompanied by an order of date October 22, 1899, directing them to send as soon as possible written answers to questions Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 8, 9, 10 and 11 of the blank, and also to state upon what facts, records, tests or examinations they based their answers (Exhibit I). These blanks were duly filled in and returned. According to his best recollection they were sent to President York's room and remained there for some time (Devery test., pp. 310, 299, 300). Chief Devery testified that he got these answers to aid his judgment in recommending candidates for promotion. This power to recommend he claimed was secured to the chief by section 288 of the charter. A controversy arose between the chief and the president of the board on this point which lasted several months, and was finally decided by the board against the contention of the chief. Having no further use for the reports of the immediate superiors, he caused them to be filed in his office. They were produced at the investigation April 12th, and are now in possession of the State Commission (Devery test., 301; York, 197-201).

The White law came into full force and effect in New York city upon the adoption of new rules on July 11, 1899, but the civil service commission took no steps to put an end to the assignments in the police department, nor following completion of the ratings on the mental and physical examinations did the commission take any action to compel the police board to send the records of efficiency, character and conduct until the autumn of 1900. At that time an investigation of the matter was undertaken by the State Civil Service Commission through its inspector, and upon his report to the municipal commission that body adopted the following resolution, which was forwarded to the police board in a letter of October 20, 1900:

"OCTOBER 20, 1900

"Hon. BERNARD J. YORK, President of the board of police:

"DEAR SIR: I beg to advise you of the following resolution adopted by the municipal civil service commission at a meeting held October 17, 1900: 'Resolved, That the secretary of this commission be and he hereby is instructed to write to the police commissioners requesting them forthwith to send to this commission their joint or several certificates as to the efficiency, character and conduct of the persons who have entered the police promotion examination,' and calling the attention of the police commissioners especially to the fact that the certificates mentioned may be several under the rule; and it was further stated that 'if these certificates are not received by the municipal civil service commission on or before October 31, 1900, it will be the duty of this commission to inspect the records of the police department, as provided for by civil service rules XXXVIII and LIV, and if such records have not been regularly and properly kept, it will be the duty of the civil service commission to determine the relative merit and fitness of the candidates by other tests.'

"LEE PHILLIPS

"Secretary"

(Test., pp. 76-77.)

Up to the time of the receipt of this letter the police board appears to have done nothing towards making up and forwarding the records except the action taken requiring the chief of police to certify as to the efficiency and conduct of candidates, which proved abortive. There is no note in the minutes of the police board rescinding this action. No other explanation of this delay was forthcoming, except the statement of President York, to which the inspector of the State Commission testified that the commissioners were unable to come to an agreement on the ratings (Briscoe test., p. 94). Commissioner York testified that an order was sent out to the superior officers of candidates between April 20 and May 1, 1899, for the purpose of obtaining a report on their efficiency and conduct. (This report was put in evidence and marked "Exhibit C".) (York test., pp. 192-195.) These reports were examined by the board, and as they read in every case "Good" they were discarded. That these reports were not, however, a bona fide attempt to obtain the opinions of superior officers of the efficiency, character and conduct, is apparent from the form itself:

POLICE DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK

Precinct No. .....

.....1899

I, ... do hereby certify, as the immediate official superior of ....., an applicant for promotion to the rank of ....., in this department, that the efficiency, character and conduct of the said ....., while under my command, have been in all respects good.

It will be seen that the form itself read "Good" and called for the signature of the superior. Chief Clerk Kipp testified that it was merely a formal report, made under a rule then existent, accompanying the application for promotion, and that there was no attempt to grade efficiency and conduct (Kipp test., pp. 60-61).

The police board held frequent and protracted meetings upon the receipt of the letter of October 20, 1900, from the civil service commission, and forwarded their joint certificates not on or before October 31st, as required by the resolution, but on November 1st. The certificates were accepted and copies of the records sent for, which were forwarded on November 2d (Delamater test., p. 49).

III—Method of rating adopted by the police board

(a) SUBJECTS OF RATING

Rule LIV of the municipal civil service rules, as amended April 16, 1900, prescribed regulations to govern the promotions in the fire and police departments, and enumerates seventeen subjects of examination. The standing of applicants in regard to six of these subjects is to be determined by examination; their standing in reference to the other eleven "shall be determined by the records of the department, in which each man's actions and conduct shall be entered, and by such additional satisfactory evidence as the municipal commission or examining board may deem necessary and pertinent."

In accordance with the last provision, the examining board required the police department to forward copies of the record of each candidate, and sent them also a certificate to be filled out and returned. The following is a copy of this certificate:

MUNICIPAL CIVIL SERVICE COMMISSION, NEW YORK—EXAMINING BOARD

Does he use it at all?

Habitually? To what extent?

Occasionally? To what extent?

10 What is his deportment towards citizens?

11 Is he thoroughly acquainted with United States infantry tactics and with the manual of the use of the club?

Please state upon what facts, records, tests or examinations you base your answers to questions 1, 2, 3, 4, 8, 9, 10 and 11.

Questions 1, 5, 6, 7 on this certificate could only be answered from the permanent records of the department. The other questions called for an intimate knowledge of the candidate. They could only be answered satisfactorily on the evidence of those possessing this knowledge or by relying entirely on the records. The correctness of the copies of the records which were forwarded to the municipal commission and of the answers to questions 1, 5, 6, 7 of the certificate which were based on the records has not been successfully impugned. The answer to question 9 in regard to the use of liquor was in every case, "Does not show in records." The discretionary rating by the police board of questions 2, 3, 4, 9, 10, 11 was the subject of thorough investigation by the State Commission, which disclosed the following:

(b) USE OF ONE ADJECTIVE TO ANSWER ALL THE QUESTIONS

In its resolution of November 15, 1899, above quoted, the police board decided to make use of six adjectives in rating—"Excellent," "Very good," "Good," "Fair," "Poor," "Not good," and fixed the weight in percentage to be attached to each. The adjectives were accepted by the examining board, and in a circular letter to the departments dated January 4, 1900, they were recommended for general use, but it was expressly stated that the examining board did not accept the weights suggested by the police board (Ireland test., p. 374).

The testimony of the police commissioners shows that they made no attempt to answer the questions specifically; on the contrary, in every case they were all answered by the use of the same adjective, without direct reference to the separate subjects covered. The questions so answered are all enumerated in rule LIV as subjects of examination, and as such required a separate rating on each. The method of rating the certificate pursued by the police commission was therefore a violation of rule LIV

(Knox test., p. 443). It is clear from the certificate itself that the specific answers were required. President Knox and Commissioner Mason of the municipal commission testified that this was the intention of the commission (Knox test., p. 435; Mason test., p. 384). Commissioner York testified in explanation of the fact that appeared on the certificate, that in every case if a man was marked "Excellent" in one characteristic he was marked "Excellent" in all; or if "Fair" in one, he was "Fair" in all; that the commissioners considered the general capacity of the candidate only, or, as Commissioner Abell expressed it, in agreeing with President York, "We rated him in a lump" (York test., p. 273; Abell test., p. 287).

(c) THE RATING WAS NOT IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE DIRECTIONS OF THE EXAMINING BOARD AND THE EXAMINING BOARD WAS MISLED THEREBY

The police board did not rate the certificates on the basis of the schedule of six adjectives which they had adopted, and which had been approved by the examining board, but arbitrarily divided the candidates into three classes—"Excellent," "Fair" and "Poor," without informing the examining board of their intention (Ireland test., p. 375; York, p. 206). Commissioner Abell concurred in all that Commissioner York testified to in reference to the procedure in marking the certificates (Abell test., pp. 275, 276).

It is evident at once that the amalgamation of three classes, the "Very good," "Good" and "Fair," into one class, "Fair," without the knowledge of the examining board would mislead them in their rating. The certificates and records were marked by two examiners. Under the system of marking adopted by one, the basic percentage for "Excellent" was 90 per cent, for "Good" 80 per cent, for "Fair" 70 per cent, etc. (Exhibit BB). Under the system of the other, 65 per cent was the basic percentage for "Fair" (Gallagher test., p. 450). By the schedule of adjectives adopted by the examining board, "Fair" was the fourth class and was rated accordingly. The police board, by arbitrarily using a schedule of three adjectives, placed "Fair" in the second class. Chief Examiner Ireland testified that under the system of both examiners "Fair" was regarded as a fourth grade, and that he was unaware at the time of rating that "Very good" and "Good" were discarded by the police board and that "Fair" represented a second grade; that if he had been informed of it he would have called the attention of the examiners to it; that in his opinion it would have been proper to put "Fair" to the second division, and that if he had been informed that "Fair" had been rated as second grade, it was almost a mathematical certainty that it would have made a material difference in the marking of the officers that were rated "Fair" (Ireland test., pp. 356-8).

The evidence shows that by the action of the police board in arbitrarily adopting a schedule of three adjectives without the knowledge of the examiners the certificates were rated upon a false basis, and the comparative standing of a large proportion of the candidates was affected thereby.

(d) THE POLICE BOARD BASED ITS RATING ON PERSONAL CONSIDERATIONS RATHER THAN ON THE RECORDS AND REPORTS AS WERE CERTIFIED BY THEM

Each certificate sent to the municipal commission bore the signatures of all four police commissioners. The last question on the certificate, "Please state upon what facts, records, tests or examinations you base your answers to questions 1, 2, 3, 4, 8, 9, 10, 11," was answered in every case, "From records and reports." When this answer was called to the attention of Commissioner York, he stated that it was due to an oversight; that "they were from the records, reports and personal knowledge of the commissioners" (York test., pp. 242, 215). Commissioners Sexton and Abell admitted or concurred in this (Sexton test., pp. 150, 153-155, 179; Abell test., p. 276).

The records that the commissioners had before them were a yellow slip labeled "Record," on which were entered all complaints against the candidate since entering the department, and the disposal of them, and a pink slip labeled "Service record," on which were entered the dates on which the candidate had been appointed and promoted, the complaints which he had brought as sergeant against subordinates, and the disposal of them. These were summarized on a typewritten list of all the candidates (York test., p. 205). Questions 1, 5, 6, 7 had already been filled in on the certificates from the records. No reports were on hand, except the formal reports of the superior officers on the mimeographed pink slips which read in every case "that the efficiency, character and conduct of the said ..... while under my command have been in all respects good." The valueless character of those reports and the purpose for which they were obtained has been considered (pp. 7, 8). They were disregarded by the police board in rating. Those above enumerated were all the records and reports that the police board had before them when the ratings were made.

The reports of the immediate superiors of candidates which were made on the certificate form of the civil service commission in accordance with the order of Chief Devery, dated October 22, 1899 (Exhibit I), were available reports in regard to the efficiency, character and conduct of the candidates, but were not considered notwithstanding the police commissioners had previously called for them for this very purpose. Commissioners Sexton and York denied all knowledge of their existence at that time. If this report had been produced, Commissioner York testified, "It would have made no difference in our marking; not a particle * * *" (York test., pp. 210, 228).

The evidence shows that the ratings were based in but a small degree on the "Records," that no "Reports" were considered, and that the chief basis of rating was the "personal knowledge" of the commissioners. It was impossible for the commissioners to know all these one hundred and seventy-three candidates; Commissioner York testified that they did not (York test., p. 238). The system upon which the candidates were rated as "Excellent," "Fair" and "Poor" was as follows:

The police board rated twenty-three men as "Excellent" with a full knowledge of the conditions under which the examination was held. It was known to them that the mental and physical examinations together were to count as 25 per cent in the final rating and that 75 per cent was allowed to the certificate and the records. The examining board had adopted a system of rating ranging from "Excellent" to "Very poor," and it was known to the police board that the adjective they applied would have great weight in determining the standing of the candidate on the eligible list (Sexton test., pp. 164-165). For the number of vacancies then existing from twenty-three to thirty men would be certified. The candidates marked "Excellent" were those known to the police board and those whom the police board wished to appoint. They were so rated without reference to their records in the department. Commissioner York so testified and Commissioner Abell concurred.

Q. Do you mean by the words "Excellent," "Fair," "Good," entirely independent of any charges there might be against this man, that that is your judgment of him as an officer?

A. Yes, sir; just as I say we divided these into three classes—poor, fair and excellent. Those marked "Excellent" were marked so because in our judgment they were the ones preferred for appointment, being equal, if not superior, to every one there (York test., p. 416).

Q. You don't wish to be understood that your certificate corresponded in every case with the records and reports?

A. Not at all.

Q. Three men might have the same records substantially, and yet in making your certificate the commissioners might rate one of them "Excellent," another "Fair" and the other "Poor"?

A. Certainly.

Q. And that would be based upon the personal knowledge?

A. Personal knowledge.

Q. And not upon the records?

A. Not at all (York test., pp. 215, 216). * * * Those that we marked "Excellent," in our judgment, we believed to be the ones that ought to be captains, and if you will eliminate all rules of the civil service commission from it, they would have been (York test., p. 206).

Q. In making up these certificates, did you not have in mind the men that you were desirous of appointing if it had not been necessary to go over this?

A. Some of them, not all.

Q. But in those cases you had them in mind?

A. Most of them, yes.

Q. And that influenced your rating, did it not?

A. No question about it (York test., p. 266). * * * I am brought in contact with men in the department constantly and know their character and their work, and I form my own judgment as to what that man is; now, if he is fortunate enough to be so situated in the department as to be thrown in contact with me or other members of the department so that we can see what he is, that is to his benefit, and he is entitled to that benefit, and that is all there is to it (York test., p. 241).

Commissioner Sexton testified as follows:

Q. Commissioner, if you had the entire list of upwards of 160 sergeants to select your captains from, would your action have been any different in voting for promotion than it was under these circumstances, or would you have promoted the same men that were promoted from the eligible list?

A. Well, I don't know; we couldn't go down the list any further than we went; how could we pick from a list of 160?

Q. I am asking you a hypothetical question; if you had the power would you have made any different choice than you did?

A. I don't think so (Sexton test., p. 173).

The eighteen candidates rated "Poor" by the police board were so rated on precisely the same basis as that just described. Commissioner York testified that twelve or more were marked "Poor" and that in his judgment "there is nobody marked 'Poor' that hadn't ought to be marked 'Poor,' absolutely and unconditionally" (York test., p. 207). He stated that the ratings expressed the commissioners' "judgment as to what the standing of these people was," and claimed that that was a record (York test., p. 245). "I say my knowledge obtained as an executive officer of the department is just as much a record in my opinion as a paper upon which something is written" (York test., p. 243). Commissioner Abell also claimed that his personal knowledge was a record of the department so long as he stayed there, "An unrecorded record unless I did put it down in writing" (Abell test., pp. 286-287).

It is evident that twenty-three men were marked "Excellent" because the police board wished to promote them, and that this roughly corresponded to the number that would be certified for the number of vacancies then existing. In like manner, on "personal knowledge," eighteen men were marked "Poor" because the board did not wish to promote them under any circumstances. Their conjecture as to the weight that would be attached to their opinion as expressed in these adjectives proved correct, for the twenty-three marked "Excellent" all appeared among the first thirty names on the list. Of the eighteen marked "Poor" seventeen failed and the one who got on the list did so because the examiners were so struck by the discrepancy between the records and the adjective used that in this single case one of the examiners departed from his basis percentage and marked him on the basis of "Excellent" and the other gave him 45 per cent for honorable mention, medals, etc. (Gallagher test., p. 454, Exhibit BB).

It is equally clear that the records were practically disregarded in the case of the one hundred and thirty-two candidates rated "Fair," and that they were so rated without distinction because of a lack of "personal knowledge" of them or personal interest in them. No use was made of the reports of the immediate superior officers of the candidates, although they were records of the department on file in the office of the chief of police and had been called for by the police commissioners for this very purpose. If a candidate was not known to the commissioners, then, without regard to records and reports, and without any attempt to ascertain his actual merit, he was classed by the police board as "Fair." It should be borne in mind that "Fair," as used by the police commissioners, meant 60 per cent, while "Excellent" meant 100 per cent. In other words, those whom the police commissioners knew, and whom they wanted to promote, they rated 100 per cent. Those whom they did not know they uniformly and deliberately and intentionally marked down to 60 per cent.

A. * * * Whether the record carried with it any weight or not I couldn't really say, but if there was any absence of special knowledge or special capacity of the individual he went into the "Fair" column or below it (York test., p. 421).

Q. What happened to a candidate whom none of the commissioners knew anything about, if there was such a candidate?

A. Put in the "Fair" column; he was placed in the second class; it was his misfortune, that is all (York test., p. 239).

Q. When you speak of marking him "Fair," that was because he didn't have the luck to be known?

A. I didn't put it that way.

Q. I think you did; that is not very far wrong, is it?

A. It will work out about that way; the man who is known will be preferred over the one who is not (York test., p. 416).

The examining board was left as completely in ignorance of the fact that when the members of the police board did not know a candidate they rated him "Fair" as of the fact that the police board rated on a schedule of three adjectives instead of six. Chief Examiner Ireland testified that it was unknown to him, and that, in his opinion, it was not in the least in accordance with the intention of the questions which were asked of the police board by the commission (Ireland test., p. 373).

Commissioners York and Sexton were also asked to explain a number of single cases in which their rating did not at all agree with the evidence of the records. In the case of Sergeant Gaus, who was marked "Excellent," Commissioner York testified that he knew him personally, and knew his record and something of the charges against him. If that record came to me cold-bloodedly without any knowledge of the individual, he would have been marked "Poor," and yet in their certificate they declared that it was based upon records and reports (York test., pp. 410, 411). Sergeant Churchill was marked "Excellent" in spite of a record admitted to be poor, because Commissioner York knew him personally. "And if he hadn't known only one of the commissioners he might have suffered also" (York test., 417-419). Sergeant Gilligan was marked "Fair" because the commissioners did not know anything more about him than about the general run of the officers in that department (York test., p. 419). Sergeant Ivory, with an admittedly good record, was marked "Fair" for the same reason (York test., p. 420). Sergeant Cray was rated "Fair" by Commissioner York because he didn't know him. Later, on his own application, he was rerated by the police board as "Excellent" (York test., pp. 421-423). Commissioner Sexton, confronted with Lantry's record, explained that he knew him personally (Sexton test., p. 179). Lantry was rated "Excellent," and later was promoted on Commissioner Sexton's nomination. Reference to similar cases are as follows:

Sexton test., pages 145-155—Rating of Sergeant Brown.

York test., pages 419-420—Rating of Sergeant Lampe.

Of the five veterans at the head of the eligible list, who had to be first appointed under the veteran preference law, only one was rated "Excellent" by the police board. He had been previously favored by an assignment as an acting captain. The other four proved their status as veterans after the list was originally made up (Smith test., pp. 475-476).

IV —Action of the municipal civil service commission

Although the municipal commission was misled by the action of the police board, it must be said that they appear to have been dilatory in applying the corrective measures which lay within their power to secure a proper eligible list made up in accordance with the law and rules. It lay within the power of their chief examiner to examine the records for himself. The matter was brought before them by the inspector of the State Commission in October, 1900. Not until after that date was any attempt made to compel the police board to forward their certificates, and meanwhile the numerous assignments, as a means of evading the law in regard to promotion examinations, were allowed to continue unmolested. When the certificates were finally forwarded, a cursory examination showed that no attempt had been made to answer specifically the questions that are enumerated as subjects of examination in rule LIV, and they should not have been accepted. A further ground requiring their rejection would have been the inconsistency in a very large number of cases between the ratings and the records. To accept these certificates, which on their face were not in accordance with the regulations or the intentions of the commission, and then to attach a percentage to the adjective used by the police board, which in every case but one was taken as a basis of marking and varied only in a comparatively light degree by the evidence of the records, was, as proved to be the case, to set aside competition and to allow the police board to fix arbitrarily, and at least approximately, the status of candidates upon the eligible list (Gallagher, method of marking, test., pp. 449-452. Exhibit BB, Storey's method).

The civil service commission gave undue weight to efficiency, character and conduct, based on certificates and records, and too little weight to the competitive examination and seniority. The law requires that "Promotion shall be based upon merit and competition and upon the superior qualifications of the person promoted as shown by his previous service, due weight being given to seniority" (civil service law, section 15). The rating for the previous service in this case counted as 75 per cent of the final rating, and the competitive examination as 25 per cent. Seniority was rated by Examiner Storey on the basis of adding one per cent for each five years, or fraction more thereof, which the candidate had served in the grade of sergeant. Examiner Gallagher added one per cent for ten years' service in the department, three per cent for fifteen years, four per cent for twenty years and five per cent for thirty years and over. The allowance under either system would clearly be too small to materially affect the status of candidates on the eligible list (Exhibit BB, Gallagher test., p. 451).

EVIDENCE THAT THE PROMOTIONS WERE POLITICAL IN CHARACTER

Attention has been called to the division of appointments between the republican and democratic members of the police board in the early part of 1898 and to the political character of the appointments at that time. The evidence shows a similar division between the two parties represented on the board of the appointments made on December 27, 1900. The promotions on December 27, 1900, numbered sixteen; of these five were veterans who, under the law, the commissioners were obliged to appoint. Of the eleven others, five appear to have been appointed on the nomination of Commissioner Sexton, democrat, Tammany hall; four on the nomination of Commissioner York, democrat, Brooklyn, and one each by Commissioners Abell and Hess, republicans. This was the division as announced in the public press December 28, 1900, on the basis of interviews with some of the commissioners and as testified to by Commissioner Sexton.

Q. How were those outside the veterans divided up among the four commissioners?

A. Commissioner York got four.

Q. How many did you get?

A. Well, I am only joking in that; how many did you say there was? Eleven?

Q. Whom did you nominate or suggest or pick out—whatever name you chose to use—which one of the sixteen; what were the names?

A. Have you got the list here?

Q. Yes (list handed to witness).

A. Well, there were Cooney, Flood, Foody, Kear and Lantry.

Q. Were the men promoted by President York Captains O'Toole, Colgan, Murphy, Gaus and Mara, and did Commissioner Hess recommend the promotion of Captain Gannon?

(Note—Mara was one of the veterans.)

A. I believe he did.

Q. Well, Captain Gannon was a good man, wasn't he, with excellent record for meritorious service?

A. A good republican.

Q. And Commissioner Abell recommended Captain Buchanan?

A. I believe he did, yes (Sexton test., pp. 158-163).

Q. You had five; you only nominated five?

A. That is all, I think, or six.

Q. Six?

A. Five, I believe.

Q. And Commissioner York five?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Commissioner Abell had one and Commissioner Hess one?

A. I believe so (Sexton test., p. 178).

Q. Don't you think they (the republican members) would have liked to appoint more than one?

A. Probably.

Q. Why didn't they have a chance?

A. I can't answer that question.

Q. Wasn't it a question of taking what they could get, or tying up the board in deadlock and getting nothing?

A. Yes, sir (Sexton test., p. 182).

Commissioner York testified to this division as follows:

Q. You heard Commissioner Sexton's testimony on this subject. Was that true?

A. Yes.

Q. Did you hear his testimony on the subject of his suggesting five names and you suggesting five names, and Commissioner Hess one and Commissioner Abell one?

A. That is true, and yet it could be put in a little different way—substantially, he wanted more if he could get them (York test., p. 252).

The political character of the promotions was proved by the testimony of the commissioners examined, York, Sexton and Abell. Commissioner York made the following admissions on this point:

Q. You knew the politics of the ones actually selected, promoted, did you?

A. I knew what their politics were assumed to be; I knew what their politics were assumed to be, I think I can safely state that (York est., p. 257). * * * A man might make a first rate sergeant and make a miserable failure as a captain; a man might make a fair captain and make a miserable failure as an inspector, and so on; and when you are going to promote a man you take one whom you know and can fill the position; you may state that it is political influence that will dictate and control it; I grant you, all things being equal, it ought to control; I challenge anybody to say that any of those who were promoted in this case are not as good as anyone (York test., p. 217). * * * Now, if you mean to say that, in the selection of the man, other things being equal, I wouldn't give preference to a democrat, you are very much mistaken; I want you to understand that; make no mistake about it (York test., pp. 250, 251). * * * Those things were talked about between all the commissioners, and I say right now that in giving these places to a democrat that the democratic party was entitled to it while I was in the police department, and they got it without any question; when it came to a question of patronage, the legal and moral right to get it, it belongs to his party, and the party who does not give it to his party has no right to be in his office; no question about that.

Q. You mean by that, so far as the selections rested with you, you would prefer a democrat to a republican?

A. Every day in the week and every hour in the day.

Q. And you applied that rule in making the selections you did?

A. I didn't; I didn't apply that entirely in the marking of a man; they were there on the list, and if I was to select any one from that eligible list when it came to me, it was a democrat.

Q. Even if a republican on the list was equally good?

A. Well, other things being equal, that applies; do you know of any reason why a republican should be selected by me?

Q. Because the law provides that political opinions and affiliations shall not be regarded in making appointments.

A. No question about political affiliations; simply a question of a man's right (York test., pp. 254-255).

Commissioner Abell testified that he knew the politics of the man whom he nominated for promotion (Abell test., p. 278).

Q. And do you agree with Commissioner York, when he testified that, other things being equal—or rather, do you differ from Commissioner York that, all things being equal, you would select a republican rather than a democrat?

A. I think I would, notwithstanding.

Q. As I understand him, he said, other things being equal, he would prefer appointing a democrat instead of a republican?

A. Precisely, and you see just where we were in our proceedings.

Q. You would agree with him, except that you would reverse it?

A. Everything being equal, as a representative of a political party,. I would—as a commissioner, I would, if there were nothing unequal (Abell test., p. 283).

Commissioner Sexton was handed a clipping from the New York Sun of December 28, 1900, purporting to contain an interview with him, and asked to point out anything in that part of the article which professed to give his interview which was incorrect. After examining it he stated unequivocally that it was true (Sexton test., pp. 163, 164). That part of the article to the truth of which he bore witness read:

"At the conclusion of the meeting Commissioner Sexton gave out the names of the men whom he had recommended for promotion, and the names of the men who had recommended them to him. His men were Captains Cooney, Flood, Foody, Kear and Lantry. Captain Cooney was recommended to the commissioner by Matthew Donohue, deputy commissioner of sewers, and former Police Inspector Thomas McEvoy, who is the Tammany hall leader of the twenty-third assembly district.

"Captain Flood was recommended by President Haffen of the borough of the Bronx, who is Tammany leader of the thirty-fifth district, and by Park Commissioner Moebus of the Bronx, who is Tammany leader of the upper part of the thirty-fourth. Senator Bernard F. Martin, of the fifth district, recommended the promotion of Captain Foody. Former Police Justice Daniel F. McMahon, who is chairman of the Tammany hall executive committee, recommended Captain Kear, while Captain Lantry had the indorsement of his brother Francis, commissioner of correction. Commissioner Sexton made no bones about the political character of the recommendations of the men whose promotions he secured."

Commissioner Sexton was examined on the facts as stated in this interview and substantiated them in his testimony (Sexton test., pp. 159, 162, 165, 167).

He was asked directly the following question:

Q. And you "made no bones" about the political character of the recommendations of the men whose promotions you secured?

A. No (Sexton test., p. 162).

In addition to Commissioner Sexton's own testimony, George McAneny, secretary of the civil service reform association, testified to an interview he had with him at the Democratic club on the evening of December 28, 1900. Mr. McAneny was accompanied by a member of his office force, George F. Carter, who was present at the interview. Mr. McAneny testified that he presented the clipping from the New York Sun of December 28, 1900, and asked the commissioner if this was a correct report; that Commissioner Sexton said that it was correct; that the list of the political backers of his men was a correct list, and that he had seen it himself before the reporter had seen it, and that he gave it out to the reporter. Mr. McAneny further testified that he asked Commissioner Sexton how the police commission had been guided in making the divisions of appointments by which he had received more than any of the others, Mr. York four only and the others but one each; that Commissioner Sexton replied "that the commissioners had talked the matter over beforehand, and that this seemed to them the proper distribution; that the political organization which he represented—which I (McAneny) understood was Tammany hall—being the predominant element in local politics, was entitled to most of the appointments." As a further reason, Commissioner Sexton stated that when the present administration came into power seventy per cent of the captains then in the department were republican (McAneny test., pp. 324-326). Mr. McAneny's testimony was corroborated in all essential points by Mr. Carter (Carter test., pp. 339-342).

It has been shown by the testimony taken:

1 That the police board delayed the holding of a promotion examination from sergeant to captain under the civil service law for over two years, and that meanwhile the vacancies were filled arbitrarily by the assignment of favored sergeants as acting captains without any examination.

2 That the police board pretended to answer specifically the questions on the certificate of conduct and efficiency, but in fact did not do so, but having arbitrarily and without records or the reports of immediate superiors, and without inquiry as to the previous service of the great number of candidates who were not personally known by all the police commissioners, determined which of their acquaintance they would rate as "Excellent" and what general term they should apply to the others without giving any consideration to the various traits of character and various qualifications as to which specific inquiry was made by the questions, and used the same adjective to answer all the questions so far as any particular candidate was concerned without reference to the separate subjects covered. That this was a violation of rule LIV, in which the questions on the certificate are specified as separate subjects of examination, and contrary to the purpose of the commission in requiring this certificate, and with manifestly a false certificate.

3 That the police board, after informing the civil service commission that they should use a schedule of six adjectives, "Excellent," "Very good," "Good," "Fair," "Poor," "Not good," in rating the certificates, arbitrarily and without the knowledge of the civil service commission, divided all the candidates into three classes only, "Excellent," "Fair" and "Poor." By this action the civil service commission was misled in their rating, and the final standing of a majority of the candidates was materially affected.

4 That although 173 sergeants applied for the competitive examination required by law, only those personally known to the police commissioners, those whom they desired to promote, received the rating "Excellent," and those who were unknown were marked as "Fair," regardless of their actual merit, and without any effort to ascertain it, and that those whom the police board did not wish to promote under any circumstances—among them a number of veterans—were marked "Poor."

5 That although the answers to the questions were certified by the police board to be based "on records and reports," in fact they were based almost exclusively on the personal knowledge of the police board, and in many cases were in direct contradiction to the records.

6 That the municipal commission was in error in accepting certificates which were not answered in accordance with their instruction and in attaching fixed weights to the ratings of the police commissioners when from the records before them it was clear that the police board had falsely certified that they were based on records and reports. Further, that the civil service commission in their rating did not give "due weight" to seniority as is required by the law, and gave undue weight to the certificates and records as evidence of efficiency, character and conduct.

7 That the result of the foregoing actions of the police board and the civil service commission was that competition was set aside, and that the police board arbitrarily and at least substantially fixed the status of candidates upon the eligible list. That this was a violation of article V, section 9 of the constitution, which provides:

"Appointments and promotions in the civil service of the state and of all the civil divisions thereof, including cities and villages, shall be made according to merit and fitness, to be ascertained, so far as practicable, by examination, which, so far as practicable, shall be competitive."

8 That the motive of the police commissioners in conducting an unfair and illegal examination is shown by the admissions of Commissioners Sexton and York that the promotions to be made were dictated by individual members in pursuance of a prearranged plan of division, and that this division was based on the political or other claims of individual members.

9 That the promotions made by the police board were based on political considerations, in violation of section 23 of the civil service law.

Inasmuch as by the statutes the sole power of the State Commission in these cases is to investigate and report, and inasmuch as the State Commission is given no power whatever to set aside an examination conducted by a municipal commission (no matter how tainted with fraud or how irregular it may be) and can not declare any appointment made to a municipal position invalid, even though resulting from such an examination, the State Commission respectfully recommends that a copy of this report, with the full testimony in the matter, be forwarded to the municipal civil service commission of the city of New York, with the statement that the State Commission desires them to take forthwith such steps as they are empowered or required to take by the statute or by the civil service rules of the state or of their own municipality.

The State Commission also believes that the rules of the municipal commission in relating to promotions should be amended substantially as follows:

That rule XXXVIII of the municipal civil service rules be amended by striking therefrom the entire fourth paragraph, and substituting in lieu thereof the following:

"The test of actual service being the main factor for fitness in promotions, there shall be kept in every office continuous and comparative records of the efficiency, punctuality, attention and general good conduct of all persons employed therein. Such records shall at all times be open to inspection to the municipal commission for the purpose of verification or otherwise, and if the same shall have been regularly and properly kept, they shall constitute one of the elements in such promotion examination, with such relative weight as shall be assigned to them by the examining board, subject to the approval of the municipal commission. If such records have not been regularly and properly kept, the chief examiner shall prescribe such tests as to him may seem best calculated to determine the relative merit and fitness of persons entitled to enter the promotion examination."

And, further, that the seventh paragraph of said rule XXXVIII be amended to read as follows:

"It shall be the duty of the officer or officers constituting the appointing power in the department in which a vacancy exists to make and forward to the municipal commission a certified copy of the record of the department showing the efficiency, character and conduct of every person in such inferior grade who desires to become an applicant for such promotion. The municipal commission shall not be bound to accept such certified copy as final, but may, in their discretion, call for the original records instead. The examining board shall have the right to call upon the appointing officer for further information upon any of the matters before them."

That rule LIV of said rules be amended so as to read as follows:

Rule LIV —Promotion of firemen and policemen

Promotions to all positions included in schedule C shall be made from the next lower grade for ascertained merit, seniority in service and by competitive examination.

The relative weights to be given to the different elements shall be:

One-third to the competitive mental examination;

One-third to the permanent records of previous service;

One-third to seniority in rank.

No person shall be placed upon the eligible list who has not attained at least 70 per cent in each of these subjects.

No person shall be admitted to further examination unless he shall have previously passed the proper medical and physical tests.

The subjects of competitive mental examination shall be as follows:

1 Writing a report to a superior officer.

2 Questions upon subjects connected with the city government and the administration, organization and discipline of the police or the fire department.

3 General knowledge of localities.

4 Handwriting.

5 Knowledge of rules and regulations.

6 Knowledge of laws and ordinances relating to his duties.

Each candidate shall be rated for efficiency, character and conduct as shown by his previous service solely upon the permanent and continuous records of the department, in which each man's actions and conduct shall be entered. Special consideration in rating shall be allowed for conspicuous acts of bravery.

In any examination for promotion to the grade of assistant foreman in the fire department, candidates who have served in the position of engineer of steamer, or who hold a place upon the eligible list for engineer of steamer, shall be given special consideration in rating.

In rating for seniority 70 per cent shall be allowed for two years' service in the grade. An additional 2 per cent shall be allowed for each of the next five years' service (after the first two years) in the grade, and an additional 1 per cent for each of the next twenty years' service in the grade after the first seven.

No fireman or patrolman shall be eligible for examination for promotion who has not reached the rank of first grade in his respective position as defined by chapter 378 of the laws of 1897.

Whenever positions in schedule C, for which promotion is sought, call for special or technical knowledge, not covered by the above requirements, the examining board may fix such subjects as they deem appropriate and necessary, and such subjects shall conform, as far as practicable, to those fixed in the examinations set for similar positions in other schedules.

The facts elicited upon our recent investigation constitute the strongest argument in support of the proposed change. It is, we believe, enough to state, in our opinion, the proposed scheme gives full recognition to the three elements which the statute says shall be used in determining fitness for promotion. So far as mental and physical qualifications are involved, the weight proposed to be given to them will, we believe, be conceded by all persons to be ample. The judgment and opinion of the superior as to the efficiency of the subordinate, as shown by the latter's previous service, is by no means eliminated as an important element, for the superior can make that judgment and opinion a matter of record, and the requirement that entries in the records shall be practically current with the events—made at the time the events transpired—is, in our opinion, a guarantee of greater fairness in the expression of a superior's judgment than if he is allowed to make a general certificate at the time of the promotion examination. The scheme for giving weight to seniority recognizes the well-established fact that the early years of experience are the most valuable, and that after a certain number of years of service seniority adds little or nothing to one's qualifications; however, believing that everything else being absolutely and exactly equal, the promotion of a senior instead of a junior is an act less apt to disturb harmony and cause discontent, we have proposed a scheme which gives a slight advantage for each additional year's service in a grade up to twenty-seven years' service. It is doubtful if any candidate for promotion who is able to pass in the other subjects will ever have served more than twenty-seven years in the next lower grade. On the other hand, we make two years' service a minimum and give to the first five years after this minimum of two years relatively more weight than to succeeding years.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ALBANY, N. Y., December 31, 1901

To the State Civil Service Commission, Albany, N. Y.:

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to submit the following report of the examination division for the calendar year 1901:

Organization of the division

Few changes of importance have occurred in the organization of the division since the last annual report. Mr. Briscoe, who held the position of assistant chief examiner and inspector, resigned on March 1, 1901, to return to the service of the municipal commission of New York city. I regret that this resignation was compelled by the fact that no appropriation could be obtained for his salary, as the work which he did in the investigation of the municipal civil service commissions was important and productive of much good, and there has been no one to carry it on systematically since his resignation. Mrs. Warner, who has held the position of stenographer to the chief examiner for nearly six years, has given her resignation, to take effect at the end of the year. As a result of her resignation the salary of Miss Paterson has been increased to $900 per annum, and Miss Rose J. Mehan has been appointed to fill the position heretofore held by Miss Paterson. With these exceptions the force of the division remains the same as at the last annual report.

As a result of the establishment of a permanent examining staff in the office of the Commission, I am able to report that the expense for services of expert examiners outside of the office force, which amounted last year to $2,326.21 and which has averaged about $2,700 for the last five fiscal years, is reduced to $48.75 for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1901. In addition to this the examination work, which is done in the office by the regular staff, is better done than ever before or than it could be by examiners who are employed only occasionally and therefore cannot become experienced in the technical work of examining. The saving in expense alone is equivalent to the entire salary of one examiner, and the advantage of greater uniformity and accuracy in the examining work more than outweighs the extra cost of the additional examiners.

Statistics of examinations

The work of the examination division for the year 1901 may be summarized as follows:

Examinations of 1900 completed in 1901

	No. of examinations	No. of candidates
Open competitive examinations	7	303

	No. of examinations	No. of candidates
Open competitive examinations.....	5	192
Competitive promotion examinations.....	1	18
Competitive examinations, state and Oswego city service (janitor, normal school).....	1	13

The number of candidates appearing at open competitive examinations again shows a slight decrease, due mainly to the fact that several large examinations usually held annually have been postponed beyond the end of the year. Such examinations are those for clerk, court attendant, chainman and one or two others. The number examined in competitive examinations during the last six years is as follows:

1897	3587
1898	3072
1899	2407
1900	3193
1901	2639

The number of applications received for competitive examinations is also slightly decreased for the same reason. The numbers for the last six years are as follows:

1896	5108
1897	3908
1898	3124
1899	3087
1901	3845

As will be seen by the statistics given above the amount of uncompleted work is very small. It results entirely from examinations held in the month of December which will be completed early in the coming year.

New examinations

The great variety of the examination work is shown by the titles of examinations held in 1901 in the tables appended hereto. Of the titles there given, the following are entirely new, representing positions newly established or classified for which the Commission had never before been called to hold examinations:

Foreman of machine woodworking, state prisons
Inspector of charitable institutions, Comptroller's Office Keeper, Queens county jail
Folio writer, register's office, New York county
Foreman in horticulture, Agricultural Experiment Station
Physician, New York county jail Transfer agent, Elmira Reformatory Orderly (pharmacist), Queens county jail
Bakery keeper, state prisons
Chef; head cook, state institutions
Instructor in blacksmithing
Kitchen keeper, state prisons
Optical surgeon
Student assistant, Agricultural Experiment Station
Instructor in brass-smithing
Instructor in masonry and bricklaying
Instructor in plumbing
Instructor in laundering (woman)
Keeper, New York county jail
Laundry engineer (woman)
Marshal (woman), state institutions
Instructor in machinery
Assistant superintendent, State Hospital for Crippled and Deformed Children Foreman of foundry, state prisons
Clerk, transfer tax bureau, Comptroller's Office
Foreman of chair industry, state prisons
Librarian, district attorney's office, New York county Operator of inclined railway, State Reservation at Niagara

Police constable, State Reservation at Niagara Assistant industrial superintendent, Auburn prison Instructor in painting
Superintendent, State School for the Blind
Janitor, State Normal School
Assistant, antitoxin laboratory, Department of Health
Assistant bacteriologist, Department of Health Custodian, office of public administrator, New York county
Dairy helper, Agricultural Experiment Station

Such special examinations are not only more expensive and troublesome to conduct than general examinations, but through lack of publicity and general knowledge of the existence of such positions they fail to attract the wide and free competition that is made for the positions for which the Commission maintains eligible lists at all times. There is objection to special examinations in all cases where they can be avoided, and it has been my policy as well as that of the secretary to insist to every reasonable degree upon the filling of positions from existing lists in preference to granting special examinations.

Repeated examinations

The positions for which more than one open competitive examination has been advertised and held during the year are:

Apothecary	2 examinations
Clerk, Regents' Office	2 examinations
Elevator conductor, city and county hall, Buffalo	3 examinations
Folio writer, register's office, New York county.	3 examinations
Foreman, machine woodworking	2 examinations
Gardener	2 examinations
Guard, Elmira Reformatory	4 examinations
Instructor in bookbinding	2 examinations
Instructor in machine woodworking and cabinet making	2 examinations
Instructor in machinery	2 examinations
Instructor in tailoring	2 examinations
Keeper, Queens county jail	3 examinations
Keeper, New York county jail	2 examinations

Library assistant	2 examinations
Officer, male, state institutions	3 examinations
Officer, woman, state institutions	2 examinations
Physician, first and second grades	2 examinations
Physician, third grade	2 examinations
Physical instructor	4 examinations
Pupil nurse, Erie county hospital	2 examinations
Regents' examiner, group 4	2 examinations
Stenographer, first grade	2 examinations
Teacher	2 examinations
Teacher, head, State School for the Blind	2 examinations
Trained nurse	2 examinations

The duplicating of these examinations has usually been necessary because of the small number of qualified applicants, or because those who have attained places on the eligible list will not afterward accept the appointments offered. The most frequent cause of such declinations is the insufficiency of the salary, and this cause is particularly frequent in case of the eligible lists for woman officer and trained nurse in the state institutions. At no time have we been able to certify sufficient names to fill the existing vacancies in these positions. In the case of women officers the authorities of the houses of refuge and reformatories for women are continually complaining of the lack of ability or efficiency of the eligibles certified and are asking for better eligibles, while the best of the candidates examined repeatedly decline to accept the positions offered. Although the usual salary of these positions ($25 per month and maintenance would seem to be enough to attract women of considerable ability, yet the work is very hard and there is almost no chance of an increase in compensation. The difficulty, it seems to me can only be met either by an increase in compensation allowed by the schedule of salaries and wages at the beginning of the employment or by a sliding scale so that stated increases shall be given at the end of stated periods of service. In the case of trained nurses it seems impossible to obtain graduates of hospital training schools, as required by the schedule of salaries and wages, who will accept positions at $25 per month and mai tenance. We have not felt justified in disregarding this requirement, as it is not established by the Commission, and in any case it seems to be reasonable that persons employed as nurses should have the training ordinarily presupposed in such employment. I believe that an increase of $5 per month in the compensation for both of the positions mentioned would greatly relieve the difficulties we have experienced in finding sufficient eligibles.

Medical examinations

For the first time since the establishment of the system of medical and physical examinations of candidates by the Commission's examiners we have completed our list of local medical examiners so that we are able to conduct these examinations in all the cities where written examinations are held. The use of these examinations has been limited to prison and jail positions, as those positions seem to especially require agility and good physical condition, and as the funds at the command of the Commission would not warrant the extension of the system to some other positions where it might be useful.

Information to the public

No serious changes have been made in the methods adopte for gaining publicity of the Commission's examinations. Notice of all open competitive examinations are mailed to about 120 postmasters and about 300 newspapers published throughout th state, and the manual of examinations has been sent to appl cants who have requested general information concerning exan inations or copies of previous questions. The supply has bee conserved so as to last to the end of the calendar year. It i just about exhausted, however, and the advisability of publis ing a new edition at the increased cost under the present prin ing contract is doubtful. An edition of manuals which cost $65 under the old contract will now cost about $1700, and unless th legislature will give us an appropriation for this specific purpos I cannot see my way clear to incur the expense. I would su gest that such an appropriation be asked for.

I have under consideration the establishment of a mailin list in a more suitable form than any we have kept so far. Ou practice has always been to receive applications at any time f any competitive place, and we have usually told applicants wh desired to know the date of examination that the only way insure notice of examination is to file an application. The pra tice of the Federal commission is quite different in that they not receive applications until after the dates for examinati are fixed, and in order to insure notice to prospective compe itors they have a standard form of request for information whi is kept on file in the office until the kind of examination call for is about to be held. I am inclined to think that it is be for us not to promise information to those who have not fil applications, as a failure to send information might subject to criticism in cases where it is almost impossible to discov from the letter of inquiry what kind of information is want At the same time there are a good many people who are int ested in knowing what examinations are pending, although th do not contemplate competing for positions themselves. O office force is small and unless we can reduce the giving of formation to a system we cannot attend to it at all. I should be glad to have any instruction or suggestion of the Commission on this point.

Promotion examinations

The number of promotion examinations, both competitive and non-competitive, shows considerable increase this year. The full effect of the provisions of the civil service law and rules is just beginning to be felt and this branch of the work is likely to increase in the future. The requirements in such examinations differ so much that it will be some time before precedents will be so well established as to make these examinations a matter of rule. In almost every case that has arisen I have made a personal investigation of the needs of the office or department interested and have endeavored to make the examinations meet these needs as closely as possible. So far I believe the results of promotion examinations have met the approval of appointing officers and I expect, as they become more familiar with the opportunities presented by the promotion rule, that they will more frequently avail themselves of its provisions. A full list of the promotion examinations held is given in an appendix to this report.

Appeals

The subject of appeals and their treatment is becoming more important and the number of appeals is on the increase. At the same time, with our greater care in the original examination and review of the papers, we find very few cases in which we are obliged in fairness to modify the standings first announced. I am gratified that the Commission finds so few instances of serious error on the part of its examiners. The correspondence and other executive work of the division takes my own time so completely that I have little to do with the actual work of examining beyond the settling of doubtful cases or questions of marking, the occasional marking of a set of papers on a subject of which I have an intimate knowledge, the review of experience ratings and the consideration of appeals. I try to give my personal attention to the appeals in all cases, and especially where there appears to be a chance that a revision of the rating may seriously affect the candidate's standing.

Non-competitive examinations

The number of persons examined for positions in the non-competitive class is 2177. The majority of these examinations are conducted by the local boards of examiners in the various institutions, but the papers are given some review in the office of the Commission and are all recorded there. In some cases we are called on to furnish questions for these examinations to the local boards and such assistance is promptly afforded. For the positions in the Department of Public Buildings and the Forest, Fish and Game Commission the non-competitive examinations are conducted directly by the Commission's examiners. Such examinations have numbered 16 for the year. No important changes in the non-competitive classification have been made during the year.

Miscellaneous

I beg to repeat the recommendation made last year that the House of Refuge on Randall's island be brought within the scope of the rules and classification. This institution is wholly supported by the state, and there seems to be no good reason why it should not be treated as a state institution.

Many legal decisions have been given by the courts during the year which I have briefly digested in an appendix. The official reports are so generally available that it seems better to digest these reports briefly in the Commission's report than to print them in full as was formerly done.

Appendices

I have in preparation and will submit to be published in the annual report appendices as follows:

1 AMENDMENTS TO STATE CIVIL SERVICE RULES

2 AMENDMENTS TO STATE CIVIL SERVICE CLASSIFICATION

3 REQUESTS FOR CHANGES IN THE STATE CIVIL SERVICE CLASSIFICATION DENIED

4 AMENDMENTS TO STATE CIVIL SERVICE REGULATIONS

5 EXTRACTS FROM THE MINUTES, ARRANGED CHRONOLOGICALLY, SHOWING SPECIAL ACTIONS AND RULINGS OF THE COMMISSION

AMENDMENTS TO STATE CIVIL SERVICE RULES

Rule V, section 5

Resolved, That rule V, subdivision 5, second paragraph, be amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "or unless the salary of such office or position is paid wholly from the salary or official emoluments of the head of the office, no part of which is to be returned or accounted for as public funds," so that the same shall read as follows:

"No office or position shall be deemed to be in the exempt class unless it is specifically named in this rule, nor shall more than one appointment be made to or under the title of any such office or position, unless a different number is specifically mentioned in this rule, or unless the salary of such office or position is paid wholly from the salary or official emoluments of the head of the office, no part of which is to be returned or accounted for as public funds."

(Adopted January 31, 1901. Approved by the governor February 5, 1901.)

Rule XXIII

Whereas, Rule XXIII of the state civil service rules, in so far as said rule attempts to place restrictions upon the power of superior officers to remove subordinate persons who are public officers, is beyond the authority of the Civil Service Commission, and has been so declared by the Court of Appeals in the case of the People ex rel. Percival v. Cram (164 N. Y. Rep. 166); and

Whereas, In so far as said rule affects persons who are merely public employees, it also seems beyond the power of the Commission and it has been practically so held by the Appellate Division, Third Department, in the case of the People ex rel. Ray v. Henry (47 App. Div. Rep. 133); and

Whereas, It further appears that said rule affords no effectual protection in any event for the reason that if the causes alleged for removal are substantial in form, the court will not inquire into the merits of the case as is shown in the case of the People ex rel. Kennedy v. Brady (166 N. Y. Rep. 44); therefore be it

Resolved, That rule XXIII of the state civil service rules, which reads as follows, be and hereby is repealed:

"To secure compliance with the provisions of the civil service law prohibiting removals because of political opinions or affiliations and in accordance with the further provisions regarding the removal of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines and exempt volunteer firemen, no removal of any person in the classified service of the state shall be valid unless and until a statement of the causes of such removal shall be filed with the Commission and a copy of the same furnished to the person sought to be removed, and until such person has been afforded an opportunity to present an explanation in writing."

(Adopted May 17, 1901. Approved by the governor October 17, 1901.)

Resolved, That the classification of positions in the exempt class in the office of the county clerk of Erie county be amended by adding thereto the words "One secretary," for the reason that such position has been created by resolution of the board of supervisors of Erie county and the county clerk is now authorized to appoint a secretary.

(Adopted February 1, 1901. Approved by the governor February 12, 1901.)

State charitable and reformatory institutions

Whereas, The schedules adopted by the state comptroller and the president of the state board of charities October 15, 1900, and approved by the governor November 13, 1900, in accordance with the requirements of chapter 383 of the laws of 1899, and which went into effect January 1, 1901, classify into grades the officers and employees of the various charitable and reformatory institutions subject to the civil service rules, and fix uniform salaries and titles of positions; and

Whereas, Said schedules have changed the titles of positions as now enumerated in rule XVIII; therefore be it raphers referred to is one for consideration by the New York city civil service commission, as the question is not as to the validity of the employment of these persons by the district attorney, but has reference to the legality of the appointment of the stenographers by the appointing officers under whom they serve.

City of Rensselaer

The secretary reported relative to the failure of the municipal civil service commission of the city of Rensselaer to make its report for the year 1900, and stated that he had been informed by the mayor that the common council had failed to make any appropriation for the work of the municipal civil service commission. The secretary also reported that he had conferred with the secretary of the municipal civil service commission and had been informed that the municipal commission had been unable to carry out the provisions of the civil service law and rules for the reason that no appropriation had been given the commission, and that the failure of the municipal commission to comply with the request of the State Commission was due largely to the fact that it had nothing to report.

Resolved, That the mayor and the city clerk of the city of Rensselaer be subpoenaed to appear before the Commission at its office in the capitol in the city of Albany, N. Y., on the day of the next meeting of the Commission, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, to testify and give any evidence concerning all matters touching the enforcement and effect of the provisions of the civil service law and rules of the city of Rensselaer, and their action as mayor and city clerk in respect to the execution of said law and rules.

Report of Commissioner Pound upon the question of transfers

The report of Commissioner Pound in the matter of transfers, submitted at the last meeting of the Commission, was taken from the table. By consent Commissioner Pound amended the resolutions appended to said report, making the report and resolutions read as follows:

"APRIL 19, 1901.

"To the State Civil Service Commission:

"At a meeting of the State Civil Service Commission held in the city of New York on the 12th day of April, 1901, the following resolution was adopted:

"'Resolved, That the question of transfers as regulated by the civil service law and rules, with special inquiry as to whether rule XV is in any way inconsistent with the provisions of the civil service law, and the general question as to the limit of the power of the Commission in relation to transfers, be referred to Commissioner Pound for consideration and report.'

"In compliance with said resolution I herewith respectfully report:

I

"Section 13 of the civil service law provides that 'No person shall be transferred to * * * any position subject to competitive examination, unless he shall have previously passed an open competitive examination equivalent to that required for such position, or unless he shall have served with fidelity for at least three years in a similar position.'

"Section 15 provides that 'No transfer shall be made from a position in one class to a position in another class unless the same shall be authorized by the state or municipal commission, nor shall a person be transferred to a position for original entrance to which there is required by this act or the rules an examination involving essential tests different from or higher than those required for original entrance to the position held by such person, unless he shall have passed the examination or attained a place upon the eligible list for such higher position.'

"These two sections are not, in my judgment, inconsistent. Out and out transfers from the exempt to the competitive class are prohibited by section 15, but under section 13 persons who are holding positions in the competitive class otherwise than by virtue of a competitive examination (for example, when the classification was made after appointment), may be transferred to similar positions only if they have served for three years with fidelity in the former positions. In section 15 the words, 'passed the examination,' refer to positions in the non-competitive class, and the words, 'attained a place upon the eligible list,' refer to positions in the competitive class, and no transfer can be authorized from the exempt to the competitive class unless the person to be transferred is on the eligible list for the position for which it is desired to transfer him. This is the only rational construction to be placed on section 15, and any other construction would be inconsistent with the plain language of the section, nor can it be said that any position in the exempt class is 'similar to' a position in the competitive class.

"In passing upon applications for transfers the constitutional mandate that merit and fitness shall be ascertained, so far as practicable, by competitive examination, must be observed. It is anomalous to permit a transfer from the exempt to the competitive class under any circumstances, and it would result in injustice to those who have attained a place on the eligible list as the result of a competitive examination. For these reasons the three-year clause should be strictly construed and read in connection with section 15. I am satisfied that the action of the Commission in authorizing transfers under the three-year clause alone was based upon an erroneous construction of the law, and that such precedent should not be followed.

II

"That important question arises as to the power of the civil service commissions to authorize or approve transfers from the civil service of the state to the civil service of a county or city, or from the civil service of a county or a city to the civil service of the state, or from the civil service of one city to that of another city, or from the civil service of one county to that of another county, etc. The law seems broad enough to empower the Commission to authorize transfers otherwise permitted by law from the civil service of the state to that of one of its civil divisions and vice versa. In my opinion, however, such transfers should not generally be allowed. The civil service of the state and each of its civil divisions should be regarded as distinct. Separate examinations by independent examiners are conducted for the state service and for the services of the several cities. It cannot be assumed that these examinations are the equivalent one of the other when there is no provision for securing uniformity either in the examinations or in the rating of the examination papers.

"When appointments are made from the same list for both state and county service it would appear that transfers from the state to the county service and vice versa are sufficiently safeguarded, but in my opinion more satisfactory results would be obtained if no transfers from one service to another were authorized.

III

"I do not recommend any amendment to rule XV which, read in connection with the law, is, in my opinion, consistent with it, but I recommend the adoption of the following resolutions as a guide for the action of the Commission:

"1 Resolved, That no transfer from a position in the exempt class to a position in the competitive class can be authorized unless the person to be transferred is on the eligible list for the position to which it is desired to transfer him.

"2 Resolved, That the three-year clause in section 13 of the civil service law applies only to service in a similar position in the competitive class where the person transferred did not obtain his position as the result of an open competitive examination, but was lawfully in the office when his position was placed in the competitive class.

"3 Resolved, That transfers from the competitive class of the civil service of the state to that of any of the civil divisions thereof and vice versa be approved only in cases where the person to be transferred obtained his appointment by virtue of an open competitive examination conducted by or under the direction of the chief examiner of the State Commission.

(Signed) "CUTHBERT W. POUND."

On motion the report and resolutions were adopted. (May 17, 1901.)

Report of President Collier upon the application of the civil service law to the removal of veterans

President Collier submitted the following report with reference to the application of the civil service law to the removal of veterans on account of a reduction in the force, which matter had been referred to him at the last meeting.

"ALBANY, N. Y., May 17, 1901.

"To the State Civil Service Commission:

"GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to the direction of the Commission, I have examined into the question of the application of the civil service law to removals on account of reduction in the number of employees, and I am satisfied, from a study of the constitutional provisions, the statutory provisions and the adjudicated cases, including a recent case in which Comptroller Coler was defendant, that where it becomes necessary to reduce the number of positions of a certain kind, persons who are veterans are entitled to retention in preference to non-veterans, and that the court will direct the reinstatement of veterans who may be removed if it appears that non-veterans have been retained to do precisely the same work as that formerly done by the veterans. That was the decision of the court in a recent case of the People ex rel. Stutzbach v. Coler, 34 Misc. Rep. 119. See also Matter of Sullivan, 55 Hun, 285; Matter of McCloskey v. Willis, 15 App. Div. 594; People ex rel. O'Connor v. Adams, 53 Hun, 141; People ex rel. Broderick v. Morton, 24 App. Div. 563, reversed on another point.

"What is applicable to the right of a veteran to be retained is equally applicable to exempt firemen, and under the term 'veteran' both veterans of the civil war and the Spanish-American war are included.

"I think the Commission should enforce this provision of the law as construed by the courts so as to carry out the manifest intention of the legislature and the people to give to veterans this preference in appointment and employment. Preference in employment implies preference as to retention in employment as well as preference in original designation. When in the future facts are brought to the attention of the Commission, showing that veterans have been removed and non-veterans have been retained, I recommend that the secretary call the attention of the appointing officer in each case to the constitutional and statutory provisions and to the recent decisions holding that veterans should be retained in preference to non-veterans.

"Respectfully submitted.

(Signed) "WM. MILLER COLLIER"

On motion the report of President Collier was adopted. (May 17, 1901.)

Report of Commissioner Kraft upon the administration of the civil service law in the city of Newburg

"KINGSTON, N. Y., May 7, 1901

"To the State Civil Service Commission:

"GENTLEMEN: In pursuance of the resolution of this Commission upon the complaint of James R. McCullough, that there existed abuse of the civil service law in the city of Newburg, I hereby report my examination of the same.

"On the 22d of April, 1901, Governor Odell received a communication from the regular and volunteer army and navy union of the United States which stated that the authorities of the city of Newburg had entirely ignored the civil service law of the state of New York in making the appointments, thus depriving veterans of their rights under the law.

"The foundation of this complaint was from the same source as the one already filed with the Commission. On April 24, 1901, I visited Newburg and first obtained from James R. McCullough a full statement of what he regarded as a violation of the civil service law, which statement forms part of this report. I then obtained from D. J. Coutant, city clerk and secretary of the municipal civil service commission of that city, a full statement covering the facts set forth in McCullough's complaint. Mr. Coutant's statement was verified by Hon. Jonathan D. Wilson, mayor of the city of Newburg, and Charles E. Snyder, president of the municipal civil service commission, which statement and verifications also accompany this report.

"From the evidence produced by Mr. McCullough and the statements made by the authorities of the city of Newburg, and the examinations of the records of the civil service board, I failed to find that there is any violation of the civil service law, neither do I find that veterans are discriminated against. As far as I could ascertain there is every effort made by those in authority to follow the directions of the civil service law.

"The complaint seems to be based upon the supposition that although no vacancies exist, examinations should be ordered and an eligible list made up, and that veterans should be given the advantage accorded to them by law by being placed at the head of the list, and that the present officers, although they have served for a number of years with fidelity, should be dismissed and the positions filled by selections from the veterans on the eligible list. Inasmuch as this has not been done, some of the veterans believe that they have been discriminated against.

"I recommend the adoption of the following:

"Resolved, That sufficient evidence has not been produced and an examination into the operation of the civil service law in the city of Newburg does not show that there have been any violations of the civil service law, neither is it shown that veterans are discriminated against in the appointments made in that city.

"Respectfully submitted.

"JOHN E. KRAFT
"Commissioner"

On motion the report of Commissioner Kraft, together with the resolution contained therein, was adopted.

A communication from Secretary McGarr, state commission in lunacy, dated May 9, 1901, requesting the consent of the Commission to the employment of Charles Caldwell as an expert in place of B. H. Brevoort, was read. On motion the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That Charles Caldwell, employed by the state commission in lunacy as an engineer to examine the water system at the Hudson river state hospital in place of B. H. Brevoort whose employment was authorized under date of April 20, 1901, be and hereby is excepted from examination under the provisions of civil service rule VIII, section 9, it appearing that Mr. Caldwell is a person engaged in private business and that the services to be rendered are professional and expert and of a temporary and exceptional character; provided, however, that the compensation of Mr. Caldwell shall not exceed the sum of $75.

Removal of public officers

Resolved, That the secretary write to Dr. Ira Van Gieson and inform him that under the recent decision of the court of appeals in the case of the People ex rel. Percival v. Cram, it seems to be an established rule of law in this state that where the term of office of a public officer is not fixed by statute, his removal can be restricted only by action of the legislature, and that rule XXIII of the State Civil Service Commission, in so far as it affects public officers at least, must be deemed to be overruled by that decision.

(Adopted May 17, 1901.)

Request for exception from examination denied, State commission in lunacy

Resolved, That the state commission in lunacy be notified, in answer to its communication of May 10, 1901, that its request for the employment of Dr. George Blumer to render certain services, and for a suspension of competition in that case, is denied, inasmuch as it appears that the reasons upon which the request was based no longer exist, a medical member of the lunacy commission having been appointed since the receipt of said letter by the Civil Service Commission.

Food expert, Elmira reformatory

Resolved, That A. P. Bryant, employed as food expert at the New York state reformatory at Elmira, be and hereby is excepted from examination under the provisions of civil service rule VIII, section 9, it appearing that Mr. Bryant is a person engaged in private business and that the services rendered are professional, scientific and technical and of an exceptional and occasional character; provided, however, that the compensation of Mr. Bryant shall not exceed the sum of $250.

Resolved, That Bula E. Lincoln, employed as a substitute teacher at the Thomas asylum, Iroquois, be and hereby is excepted from examination under the provisions of civil service rule VIII, section 9, it appearing that Miss Lincoln is a person engaged in private business and that the services rendered are professional and of an occasional and exceptional character, and it appearing that the state superintendent of public instruction has issued a temporary license authorizing Miss Lincoln to teach in said institution; provided, however, that the term of employment shall not exceed two months from May 1, 1901, at the rate $50 per month.

(Adopted May 17, 1901.)

Eligible lists

A communication from C. V. Collins, superintendent prison department, dated May 16, 1901, was read, regarding the recent examination for the position of kitchen keeper in the state prisons and asking that the Commission take some action relative to the establishment of another eligible list for said position. On motion the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That Superintendent Collins be informed that the Commission has no authority to set aside an eligible list, and that his attention be respectfully invited to the provisions of the civil service law and rules relative to probationary appointments, and that he be advised that in the opinion of the Commission the law affords sufficient protection against incompetent appointees.

(Adopted May 17, 1901.)

Employees, Commissioner of records of Kings county

President Collier presented the following report concerning the employment of certain persons in the office of the commissioner of records of Kings county, which matter had been referred to him at the last meeting:

ALBANY, N. Y., June 8, 1901

"To the State Civil Service Commission:

"GENTLEMEN: I report with reference to the correspondence between the commissioner of records of Kings county and this Commission that after a study of the law it is my opinion that public employees, as distinguished from public officers, have a tenure dependent upon the pleasure of the employer, terminable upon the cessation or expiration of the employment, and that no person can be regarded as being a public employee if he is not actually employed, and that a suspension of work assigned to a public employee is an actual separation of that person from the service.

"I report that in my opinion the rule of the Commission permits reinstatement only within one year after the separation from the service of the party who is to be reinstated, and that such rule is an enlargement of the rights of office holders rather than a restriction thereupon; that in the case of the persons in the office of the commissioner of records whose rights are referred to in the correspondence, under the rule and the statut they cannot be reinstated unless such reinstatement takes plac within one year from the time when they were suspended fron actual work, and that it would be inadvisable for the Commis sion to recognize the right of reinstatement after the expira tion of a year from the time of the suspension of service.

"In view of the fact that the Commission, however, throug a misunderstanding as to the conditions, has recognized th validity of the reinstatement of Alfred C. Ostrander, Albert J Disney and Joseph Loesch, I would recommend that the se retary be instructed to continue to certify to their pay-rolls.

"Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) "WM. MILLER COLLIER."

On motion the report was adopted.

Ashley, Lona E. Morton, C. A Hartnagle, Charlotte L. Estes, Ella P. Williams.

Report of Commissioner Kraft upon the appeal of A. B. Wheeler, Middletown, N. Y., from ratings of the municipal civil service commission

"To the State Board of Civil Service Commissioners, Albany, N. Y.:

"GENTLEMEN: The complaint of Annias B. Wheeler from the rating given him in the competitive examination for police constable by the municipal civil service commission of Middletown was referred to me for investigation.

"On the 4th day of June I visited Middletown and obtained from Mr. Wheeler a full statement of what he regarded as an injustice to himself. I also obtained from the municipal civil service commissioners, the mayor and others a full statement of the action and proceedings in the examination for the position that Mr. Wheeler sought. The statements form a part of this report.

"Mr. Wheeler is a veteran of the civil war and has suffered the loss of one eye. The position that he desired is that of policeman, but is termed police constable under the city charter, the duties being only those of a policeman or patrolman.

"A careful examination of the ratings made by the municipal civil service commissioners showed that Mr. Wheeler was rated in every respect upon the same lines as the other competitors; no discrimination was made against him or in favor of those who were placed upon the eligible list. Mr. Wheeler complained that two of the competitors had stated that they did not answer one of the questions. The papers of all the competitors show that they received no mark whatever where questions were unanswered. Considerable stress was placed by the commissioners at this investigation upon Mr. Wheeler's answer to the question in his application as to the reason why his service as a United States letter carrier was terminated. His answer being, "A change of postmaster," while the record at the post office shows that he was dismissed by the assistant postmaster-general for not making his mail collections and going away without permission. This, however, was not taken into consideration by the commissioners in making up the ratings.

"I could not find by the investigation that any injustice had been done to Mr. Wheeler, nor had any discrimination been made in favor of those who were reported to have passed the examination.

"Respectfully submitted.

(Signed) "JOHN E. KRAFT

"State Civil Service Commissioner"

On motion the report of Commissioner Kraft was accepted and the appeal of Mr. Wheeler dismissed.

(June 8, 1901.)

Transfer denied, Comptroller

A communication for E. C. Knight, comptroller, dated May 21, 1901, requesting the consent of the Commission to the transfer of Michael McGrath, elevatorman, department of public buildings, to the position of messenger in his department, was read. On motion the secretary was directed to inform the comptroller that the Commission could not grant his request, as it was of the opinion that a transfer from an exempt or non-competitive position could not be legally made to a position in the competitive class unless the person to be transferred is on the eligible list for the position to which it is desired to transfer him.

(June 8, 1901.)

Experts, State museum

A communication from Head Clerk Knickerbocker, regents department, dated May 23, 1901, transmitting a communication from Director Merrill of the state museum, relative to the

Bean and Prof. Arthur Hollick, employed as expert assistants by Director Merrill of the New York state museum, be and hereby are excepted from examination under the provisions of civil service rule VIII, section 9, it appearing that said persons are engaged in private business and that the services rendered are professional, scientific and expert and of an occasional and exceptional character; provided, however, that the periods of employment and amounts of compensation shall be limited as follows:

Mr. Woodworth, three months, at $5 per day;

Resolved, That Dr. Tarlton H. Bean, employed as an expert by Director Merrill of the New York state museum for special services in the preparation of a catalogue of the fishes of New York, be and hereby is excepted from examination under the provisions of civil service rule VIII, section 9, it appearing that Dr. Bean is a person engaged in private business and that the services rendered are professional, scientific and expert and of an occasional and exceptional character; provided, however, that the amount of compensation shall not exceed the sum of $250.

Health officer, Village of Solvay

A communication from A. E. Waterfield, secretary board of health, Solvay, N. Y., dated May 16, 1901, together with a petition from the village board of health dated June 3, 1901, relative to the appointment of Dr. Daniel F. Matthews as health officer without examination, notwithstanding the fact that Dr. Matthews has not been a practicing physician for five years or more, was read. On motion the secretary was directed to inform Mr. Waterfield that the request for the exception in the case of Dr. Matthews could not be granted as it appeared from his letter that there was an eligible physician who could be appointed to the position.

Engrosser, State commission in lunacy

Resolved, That Z. F. Shafer, employed as letterer or engrosser by the state commission in lunacy, be and hereby is excepted from examination under the provisions of civil service rule VIII, section 9, it appearing that Mr. Shafer is a person engaged in private business and that the services rendered are technical and expert and of an occasional and exceptional character; provided, however, that the amount of compensation shall not exceed the sum of $100 in any one year.

Health officer, Village of Nassau

Resolved, That the appointment of Dr. William C. Griswold as health officer of the village of Nassau, Rensselaer county, be and hereby is authorized, notwithstanding the fact that Dr. Griswold has not been a practicing physician for five years, for the reasons stated in a communication from Samuel J. Lennon, secretary village board of health, dated June 3, 1901; subject, however, to the approval of the state commissioner of health.

(Adopted June 8, 1901.)

Deputy sheriffs, Erie county

The secretary presented the question of the appointment by the sheriff of Erie county of two deputy sheriffs to act as additional guards in the jail, and also asked for instructions regarding the certification of accounts of Blust and Carl, employed in the Erie county jail from the first of January, 1901. On motion the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, The supreme court, appellate division, fourth department, in the case of Blust v. Collier, Pound and Kraft, State Civil Service Commissioners, has handed down a decision that deputy sheriffs are in the exempt class under section 12 of the civil service law, and that the engineers in the Erie county jail are deputy sheriffs and entitled to certification and payment as such; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the secretary be and hereby is authorized to certify to all pay-rolls of deputy sheriffs in Erie county from the first of January, 1901.

(Adopted June 17, 1901.)

Temporary detectives, Niagara reservation

A communication from Thomas V. Welch, superintendent state reservation at Niagara, dated June 14, 1901, requesting authority to appoint without examination ten detectives for temporary services during the Pan-American exposition, was read. On motion the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That Edward N. Perry, Frank Diemer, Henry Whitney, Michael Connell, John F. Reilly, Jacob Gilbert, Henry Knapp, O. E. Wilson, Nicholas Smith and John Stahl, employed as detectives by the commissioners of the state reservation at Niagara, be and hereby are excepted from examination under the provisions of civil service rule VIII, section 9, it appearing that said persons are engaged in private business and that the services to be rendered are professional and expert and of temporary and exceptional character; provided, however, that the employment shall terminate within four months from July 1, 1901.

Interpreter, Department of labor

A communication from John McMackin, commissioner department of labor, dated June 17, 1901, with reference to the employment, temporarily and without examination, of an Italian or Yiddish interpreter to assist the regular employees in his department, was read. On motion the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the request of Commissioner McMackin be denied, and that the secretary be directed to inform him that there is on file in the office of the Commission an eligible list of interpreters, and that it is the opinion of the Commission that the appointment referred to should be made from said list.

Preference of veterans

Resolved, That President Collier be authorized to write to the municipal civil service commission of the city of New York and call attention to that provision of section 20 of the civil service law which relates to the employment of veterans in the labor service, and to inform the municipal commission that in the opinion of the State Commission said law requires the examination and employment of veterans prior to that of any other persons without reference to the order in which applications are filed.

Promotion of stenographers

The following report of President Collier relative to the promotion of stenographers, presented to the Commission at its meeting held June 8, 1901, was taken from the table and on motion adopted:

"ALBANY, June 8, 1901

"To the State Civil Service Commission:

"GENTLEMEN: At the last meeting three communications were referred to me to investigate and report as to facts. One was an application from the deputy secretary of state for permission to promote Miss Murray, as a stenographer, from a position with salary of $600 to that of $900. Another was an application from Dr. Merrill for permission to promote Joseph Morje, and the third was an application from the superintendent of prisons, since withdrawn.

"It appears that the promotions asked for would fall under rule XIV, paragraph 10, in each case, these applicants for promotion being the only persons in those departments in their respective grades who are seeking promotion. The difficulty seems to be that under the scheme of examination prepared by the chief examiner and in force for a considerable period of time, the stenographers are divided into three grades, the first grade being those to whom dictation is given at the rate of 80 words per minute, the second 100 words per minute and the third 125 words per minute, it being provided in the scheme of examination that the salary of first grade stenographers shall not be in excess of $600 and of second grade stenographers $900.

"It is my opinion that this scheme of examination has not the force of law and has no effect if inconsistent with the rules and with the statute, and while I would not recommend that there be any change made in this scheme of examination so far as original appointments are concerned, I do recommend that the right of promotion be recognized in accordance with rule XIV.

"It seems to me that it is perfectly apparent that a stenographer of relatively slow speed, to whose position there are attached other duties than stenographic work, may do that work so efficiently as to be worthy of such a salary as is fixed by the scheme of examination for second grade stenographers, and I do not think that the inability to take dictation at the rate of speed fixed for that grade should prevent a promotion when the facts exist which are provided for by paragraphs 9 and 10 of the promotion rule.

"I therefore recommend that Mr. Morje and Miss Murray be allowed to stand for promotion under the provisions of paragraphs 9 and 10 of rule XIV, and that the Commission declare that it is its opinion that the speed test fixed for stenographers in original entrance examinations should not be imposed in promotion examinations if the Commission is satisfied, after investigation, that such speed is not an essential qualification in the proper performance of the work required.

"Respectfully submitted.

(Adopted June 18, 1901.)

Promotion of stenographers

The chief examiner presented a written report dated June 13, 1901, upon the question of the promotion of Mr. Morje, stenographer to Director Merrill of the state museum, which matter had been referred to him, stating that in his opinion the proposed promotion could be properly made under the provisions of rule XIV, section 10. The chief examiner stated that he was unable to make a written report relative to the promotion of Miss Murray, stenographer in the office of the secretary of state, as no reply had been received to his letter of inquiry. He was, however, of the opinion that the promotion could also be made under the provisions of rule XIV, section 10. On motion the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the promotion of Joseph Morje, stenographer in the department of the state museum of the university of the state of New York, from grade 1 to grade 2 be and hereby is approved under the provisions of civil service rule XIV, section 10, for the reasons stated in the communications of Head Clerk Knickerbocker, of the regents office, dated May 10 and June 12, 1901.

Resolved, That the promotion of Elizabeth L. Murray, stenographer in the department of the secretary of state, from grade 1 to grade 2 be and hereby is approved under the provisions of civil service rule XIV, section 10, for the reasons stated in the communication of Deputy Secretary of State Mongin under date of April 29, 1901.

Attendants, Supreme court, Kings county

"ITHACA, N. Y., June 12, 1901

"To the State Civil Service Commission:

"At the meeting of June 8th a communication from G. M. Stevens, clerk supreme court, Kings county, notifying the Commission of the appointment from the eligible list as court attendants of J. G. Soden and J. W. Wilber, veterans, the appointments taking effect October 1, 1901, was referred to me.

"The question is whether a legal appointment can now be made from an eligible list to take effect at a date subsequent to the expiration of such eligible list.

"'A prospective appointment to fill an anticipated vacancy in a public office made by the person or body which, as then constituted, is empowered to fill the vacancy when it arises, is, in the absence of express law forbidding it, a legal appointment.' (Mechem on Public Offices, section 133. See also cases cited in opinion of Hon. W. A. Sutherland attached to opinion of attorney-general in Munson case.)

"If the appointment is legal when made, the fact that a different eligible list will be in force when the appointment takes effect does not, in my judgment, justify us in withholding our approval of such appointment.

"I assume that there will be no change in the appointing power prior to October 1, 1901.

"All of which is respectfully submitted.

(Signed) "CUTHBERT W. POUND"

On motion the report was adopted. (June 18, 1901.)

Junior clerk, Department of public instruction

The secretary reported that the Commission had received notice, under date of April 16, 1901, of the appointment of Seth

A. Mitchell as junior clerk in the department of public instruction, said appointment to take effect October 1, 1901. On motion the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the secretary be instructed to certify to the validity of the appointment of Seth A. Mitchell as junior clerk in the department of public instruction whenever his name shall appear upon the pay-roll of said department.

(Adopted June 18, 1901.)

Promotion of transfer tax clerk, Comptroller

Resolved, That the promotion of Wilber H. Nangle, assistant transfer tax clerk, from $1400 to $1500 per annum, to take effect May 1, 1901, be and hereby is approved for the reasons stated in the communication of Comptroller Knight under date of June 5, 1901.

Resolved, That the promotion of Drew B. Hall, library assistant, state library, from $720 to $900 be and hereby is approved for the reasons stated in a communication from Head Clerk Knickerbocker, of the regents office, under date of May 31, 1901.

Teachers, State institutions

A communication from Katharine B. Davis, superintendent reformatory for women, Bedford, requesting that the Commission waive its requirement concerning the eligibility of candidates for the position of teacher in the case of Lucy J. Osgood, was read. On motion the request was denied for the reason that the requirement that applicants for the position of teacher in state charitable and reformatory institutions should hold at least a second grade certificate is not prescribed solely by this Commission, but is contained in the classification adopted by the state comptroller and the president of the state board of charities, and also for the further reason that it is the opinion of the Commission that if Miss Osgood is entitled to a certificate she will have no difficulty in obtaining the same from the superintendent of public instruction.

Eligible lists of physicians

A communication from G. A. Smith, M. D., superintendent Manhattan state hospital, Central Islip, dated June 7, 1901, relative to the transfer of the name of Alice E. Leader from the list of junior physician to that of woman physician, was read. It was the opinion of the Commission that the transfer could not be authorized for the reason that under the rules Dr. Leader is at present not eligible to enter an open competitive examination for the position of woman physician, and also for the further reason that as the law prohibits the holding of an open competitive examination for the position of woman physician at this time, any action on the part of the Commission which would place her name upon the list of woman physician would be illegal and unfair to the present eligible candidates.

Transfer of Matthew J. Murphy

A communication from George P. Andrews, justice supreme court, New York city, relative to the transfer of Matthew J. Murphy from the position of librarian and chief messenger in the surrogates' court to the position of court attendant in the supreme court, together with the consent of the surrogates to said transfer, was read. On motion the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the transfer of Matthew J. Murphy from the position of librarian and chief messenger in the surrogates' court of New York county to the position of court attendant in the supreme court, New York county, be and hereby is approved, it appearing from the records on file in the office of the State Civil Service Commission that Mr. Murphy has qualified in an open competitive examination for the position of court attendant and that his name is now upon the eligible list of court attendants established July 25, 1900.

(Adopted June 18, 1901.)

Detective, Department of agriculture

Communications from George L. Flanders, assistant commissioner of agriculture, dated June 13 and 14, 1901, relative to the employment of C. N. Morgan as laborer, were considered. On motion the following resolution was adopted:

Whereas, It appears from the communication of Deputy Commissioner of Agriculture Flanders that Mr. Morgan was employed temporarily as a detective under the title of laborer, and the Commission being of the opinion that the appointment was made in good faith by the commissioner of agriculture, therefore, be it Resolved, That the secretary be directed to attach the certificate of the Commission to Mr. Morgan's account, and to notify the commissioner of agriculture that the Commission will in future withhold its approval from all bills of this character.

A communication from Willis E. Merriman, second deputy comptroller, under date of June 26, 1901, transmitting to the Commission pay-roll of the department of health for salaries in maintenance of laboratory for investigation into the causes and treatment of cancer, together with a communication from Roswell Park, director of the cancer laboratory, dated June 30, 1901, relative to the application of the civil service law to positions in said laboratory, were considered. On motion the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, Chapter 642, laws of 1901, entitled "An act making an appropriation for certain expenses of government and supplying deficiencies in former appropriations", contains the following clause: "To the department of health for the salaries, equipment and maintenance of a laboratory to be devoted to an investigation into the causes, nature, mortality, rate, and treatment of cancer, fifteen thousand dollars; such expenditures to be made on the audit of the department and with the approval of the governor", and

Whereas, The foregoing provision brings the employees engaged in the investigation therein referred to under the authority and jurisdiction of the state commissioner of health, and, therefore, subject to the provisions of the state civil service law and rules, and

Whereas, Prior to May 3, 1901, the employees at the cancer laboratory, university of Buffalo, were not in the civil service of the state within the meaning of chapter 370 of the laws of 1899, the Commission being so advised by the attorney-general under date of May 26, 1899, and the Commission being informed by Roswell Park, director, under date of June 30, 1901, that all persons now employed at the cancer laboratory whose services are paid by the state were appointed prior to February 1, 1901; therefore, be it

Resolved, That all positions in the cancer laboratory subject to the jurisdiction of the state commissioner of health, except director, are in the competitive class of the state civil service classification.

Resolved, That the Commission considers the following named persons heretofore employed at the cancer laboratory, university of Buffalo, as being properly in the civil service of the state, and that the secretary be directed to enter their names upon the roster of employees and to certify to accounts for services when rendered in proper form:

Temporary clerk, Department of excise

Resolved, That D. A. Bump, employed as a clerk in the office of the special deputy commissioner of excise, Monroe county, be and hereby is excepted from examination under the provisions of civil service rule VIII, section 9, it appearing that Mr. Bump is a person engaged in private business and that the services rendered were temporary and of an exceptional character; provided, however, that the compensation of Mr. Bump shall not exceed the sum of $50.

Woodburn, clerk, board of supervisors, Erie county, under dates of May 23 and June 28, 1901, relative to the employment of temporary extra clerks, together with a list of persons whom it is desired to appoint, were presented. Commissioner Pound, to whom the communications had been referred, submitted the following report, which was adopted:

"Relative to the application of R. S. Woodburn, clerk, board of supervisors, Erie county, for the power to employ temporary clerks for work in spreading the state and county tax, I recommend that inasmuch as the said clerks probably come under the unclassified service as being legislative employees, the secretary be authorized to enter on the roster the names of such persons as may be certified to him for such extra and temporary employment, and to attach the certificate of the Commission to their accounts for services. The letter of Clerk Woodburn, dated June 28, 1901, is herewith filed as a part of this report."

Price, county clerk, Erie county, dated June 15, 1901, with reference to the appointment of temporary clerks, and also a communication from the county clerk dated June 28, 1901, submitting a list of persons whom it is desired to appoint, were presented. Commissioner Pound, to whom the communications had been referred, submitted the following report, which was adopted:

"In the matter of the employment of temporary extra clerks in the Erie county clerk's office, for the purpose of redistricting the wards of the city of Buffalo during the month of August, and for election work during the months of October and November, I report that the county clerk has been requested to furnish a list of names, stating what public employment each person thereon has had during the past two years, and also stating the maximum compensation to be paid and time to be occupied by these clerks. The letter of the county clerk of Erie county, dated June 28, 1901, transmitting said list, is herewith filed as a part of this report. I recommend that the names appearing on such list who are named on the county treasurer's season employment list be placed on the list from which the county clerk may legally make such season appointments, and that the secretary be authorized to attach the certificate of the Commission to their accounts for services when submitted."

(July 2, 1901.)

"The attention of the Commission having been called to a change in the municipal civil service commission of the city of Rochester and to charges that such change had been made for the purpose of securing the certification from the eligible list of two clerks who had been employed by the city comptroller since the 1st day of January, 1900, at his own expense, and the matter having been referred to me to investigate and report, I communicated with Mr. Adams, the former president of the municipal civil service commission, and with the civil service commission, asking them to inform me as to the facts

e case. It appears that while the change had been made e municipal civil service commission and that public rumor attached a significance to such change in connection with certification of said two clerks in said comptroller's office ction has been taken by the municipal civil service com

certified from the eligible list or placed on the eligible

Commissioner of records, Kings county

nmissioner Kraft submitted the following report:

"ALBANY, September 23, 1901

the State Civil Service Commission:

he application of William Doggrell to compel the commisr of records of the county of Kings to reinstate him in the ion of computer, having been referred to me to investigate, eby make the following report:

he said William Doggrell was appointed to an undesig-position in the office of the commissioner of records, y of Kings, on June 15, 1899, by George E. Waldo, commis-
r. Mr. Doggrell claimed that on the 15th day of August, he was designated as an official computer in that office stipulated salary of $1500 per annum, and continued as until the date of his suspension on November 14, 1900.
Doggrell also declared that although numerous other emes of said office had been suspended, they had been rein-d and that his suspension as well as the refusal to reinhim was because of his political affiliations.

t the investigation of the complaint Messrs. Reiss & Sparks red for Mr. Doggrell, and Mr. Waldo appeared in person y Levi W. Naylor, his counsel.

r. Naylor offered in evidence the papers in the action, en-
'The People of the State of New York ex rel. William ell, against George E. Waldo as Commissioner of Records of the County of Kings,' being an application for a peremptory writ of mandamus to compel the reinstatement of the said Doggrell, which application has been denied by the court.

"The papers were received in evidence, and Mr. Waldo's counsel contended that as the matter had been passed upon by the court, the present proceeding was unquestionably res adjudicata, and that the Commission had no right to authorize an investigation after the application for the mandamus had been denied by the court. The objection was overruled.

"Upon the demand of Commissioner Waldo, Mr. Doggrell's counsel filed a formal complaint containing all the allegations he desired to place before this Commission.

"The evidence taken and rulings rendered during the investigation form part of this report.

"Mr. Doggrell failed to show that he was suspended or dismissed because of his political opinions or affiliations, or that there was a violation of law or disregard of civil service rules in relieving him from the position that he held, or in the employment of another person in the same department to do work that had formerly been assigned to him.

"I therefore recommend that the complaint of the said William Doggrell against the commissioner of records of the county of Kings be dismissed.

"Respectfully submitted.

"To the State Civil Service Commission:

"At the meeting of the Commission held in Albany on September 23d, a communication from Hon. John McMackin, addressed to the Commission under date of September 18th, was referred to me to investigate and report. I report as follows:

"After considering carefully Mr. McMackin's letter in the light of certain facts in connection with the conduct of various subordinates of his who are charged with the duty of enforcing the provisions of the law relating to the issuing of licenses to workers in tenements and shops, I am convinced that the commissioner of labor should have the absolute and unlimited power of removal of his subordinates. Such a right, however, he has, in my opinion, under the existing statutes as construed by the courts. Feeling that the commissioner of labor was ignorant of his rights and powers in the matter, I addressed him a letter, copy of which I append as a part of this report. I am not yet personally convinced that an exemption of these places is necessary in order to secure good administration. For that reason I recommend to the Commission that the request for exemption be laid upon the table awaiting any further communication or request which the commissioner of labor may make after he has an opportunity to consider his power of removal and the tion whether it is to the interest of his department, when power of absolute removal exists, that the places mentioned ld be put in the exempt class.

ll of which is respectfully submitted.

n. JOHN MCMACKIN, Commissioner of Labor, Albany, N. Y.:

MY DEAR MR. MCMACKIN: Your letter of September 18th, essed to the State Civil Service Commission, was considered hat body at its last meeting in Albany on September 23d was referred to me.

have given careful consideration to it, and admit that for successful administration of any department the superior have, to use your own words, 'full and supreme control of person' who is his subordinate, and such person 'should be ect to discharge' by him without any restriction whatever.

think, however, that you have fallen into the very general that seems to exist concerning the civil service law of this upon the question of removals. The civil service law as w stands places no restriction whatever upon the absolute unqualified power of removal except when the incumbent veteran or an exempt fireman, and the general restriction no removal shall be made because of a person's political on or affiliations. Concerning this last general restriction s been repeatedly held by the courts of this state that the e Civil Service Commission can not enlarge its effect and ire the superior to file with the Civil Service Commission tement of the reasons for such removal and to give to the rdinate a notice of the intention to remove him and of the ons therefor.

he original champions of civil service reform were very natic in their assertions that the law urged by them for the reform of the civil service in no way impaired the power of removal. It is true that many civil service reformers have since that day urged the enactment of statutes tending to limit the power of removal, and there was a limitation in the Black civil service law, but no limitations now exist other than those which I have above mentioned, which, so far as they have any practical effect, relate only to veterans and to exempt firemen as more specifically defined in section 21 of the civil service law.

"If, in your judgment, it is to the interest of your department that you remove any subordinate who is not protected under section 21, our Commission, I am sure, will never question your right to do this. Unless facts were brought to our attention which justified the inference that the removal was for political reasons you would never be asked by us to explain. We have no authority under the recent decisions, as I understand them, to ask you to file with us a statement of your reasons for removing a subordinate, unless very good evidence should be laid before us which justified the inference that the removal was for political reasons. Neither would the subordinate whom you might remove have any right to demand of you that you give him a statement of your reasons for removing him, unless he were a veteran or exempt fireman, as defined in section 21 of the civil service law, in which case he would be entitled to a formal trial upon written charges. The Civil Service Commission will not hamper you in removing any one who ought to be removed, but would feel that you failed in the proper discharge of your duty if you did not remove persons who were inefficient, incompetent or corrupt.

"The decisions of the courts which sustain the propositions of law relating to the right of removal are very numerous. I think you will find them all collated and commented upon in a book upon the civil service law which I recently wrote, and which has just been published by Mr. Bender, law book publisher, 511 Broadway, Albany, N. Y. Should you have access to that book you will find the question of the right of a superior move his subordinate fully discussed in the following pages paragraphs: page 139, The power of removal; page 179, isions of former New York statutes as to the power of val; page 186, Rule as to removals adopted by New York commission—state rule XXIII; page 186, Public employees ell as officials are removable at the pleasure of superiors s legislature enacts otherwise; the subject is also discussed e pages and paragraphs to which reference is made in the under the title of 'Removal'.

ur Commission is very anxious to aid you in the proper arge of the important duties that have been imposed upon y the law relating to the issuing of licenses to workers in and tenements. It may be possible that the persons of ead of the bureau who have charge of these matters should aced in the exempt class, as requested in your letter, but step not being necessary in order to give you the right to ve these persons, and since I personally believe that as a of a competitive examination you would get competent ns to fill these places who would be actuated by a desire charge their duties properly in order to retain their places, l at this time like writing to you only with reference to power without restriction (except in the case of veterans xempt firemen) to remove any subordinate.

"Very truly yours,
(Signed) "WM. MILLER COLLIER."

McGarr, secretary state commission in lunacy, dated July 2 and August 7, 1901, relative to the temporary employment of Goodwin Brown for special services, were considered together with the following report submitted by President Collier, to whom the application had been referred:

"With reference to the communications of Secretary McGarr relative to the employment of Goodwin Brown, I report that I have corresponded with ex-Commissioner in Lunacy Osborn and have had personal interviews with Commissioner Parkhurst and ex-Commissioner Brown, and with other parties, and recommend that the request be granted, believing that the work to be rendered by Mr. Brown is of great importance and that he is especially qualified to perform the same, and that the position is one which should be excepted from competition under the provisions of civil service rule VIII, section 9."

On motion the report was accepted and the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That the request of the state commission in lunacy for authority to employ Goodwin Brown to render certain l services in accordance with a contract entered into be-gnments and transfers, University of the state of New York communication of James Russell Parsons, jr., secretary sity of the state of New York, dated September 21, 1901, e to assignments and transfers, was again considered, er with the following report presented by President

he State Civil Service Commission:

the last meeting of the Commission held in Albany on nber 23d, the communication of Mr. J. R. Parsons, jr., ary of the university of the state of New York, under f September 21, 1901, was referred to me for consideration port. I report as follows:

m satisfied from consideration of Mr. Parsons's letter that ture of the work in his department necessitates that ex-rs shall during a large portion of the year be engaged in l work in order that they may not be idle, and also that ties of assistant librarians are very largely clerical in character. If I understand the situation correctly, the ture in its recent bills has made appropriation sufficient e payment of these very examiners mentioned in Mr.
ns's letter, but doubtless in view of the clerical duties
they must perfomn, has made the appropriation for them as clerks rather than as examiners. I infer that there is and will be no change in the duties performed by these examiners; that no different qualifications are needed, and that their duties are such that the term clerk is quite as appropriate as the term examiner, and that in the other case referred to in Mr. Parsons's letter, the term of clerk is quite as appropriate to the duties to be performed by Mr. Nelson as is the term library assistant. For these reasons and in view also of the fact to which our attention is called by Mr. Parsons that these employees are all of a distinctly higher class than mere clerks, and as a consequence incompetent persons would not, as the result of the action requested by Mr. Parsons, obtain the positions as clerks in that department, I recommend that the request of Mr. Parsons be granted and that the secretary be directed to certify to the legality of the employment and appointment of Lona E. Morton, Charlotte Estes, Kate Hulst as clerks, but in view of the offer of Mr. Parsons that such persons will subsequently take the examination for clerk, so that they can be legally transferred to such positions, I recommend that such certification be continued until such time as these persons have had an opportunity to enter the open competitive examination for clerk and until such examination has been rated. This will prevent our action in this case being cited as a precedent in cases where persons may be desirous of evading the law.

"I infer from Mr. Parsons's letter that Peter Nelson has not yet been appointed a library assistant and that under the terms of the appropriation bill Mr. Parsons although desiring his services in the library must carry him upon the pay-rolls as a clerk. It seems to me that all that is necessary for Mr. Parsons to do in this case in order to appoint Mr. Nelson a clerk, whose work will, however, be limited to the library, is to send a communication to this Commission setting forth the exact character of the services needed, calling our attention to the fact that under the appropriation bill he must be paid as a clerk. The services are such that, in my opinion, this Commission will have to recognize the eligible list for the position of ry assistant as being the eligible list most nearly approe for the position.

recommend the adoption of such resolutions as will carry effect the suggestions hereinabove made.

ll of which is respectfully submitted.

Complaint dismissed

The complaint of W. H. Young, M. D., dated September 20, 1901, relative to the examination for the position of first assistant physician, was again considered, together with the following report submitted by Commissioner Kraft:

"KINGSTON, N. Y., October 22, 1901

"To the State Civil Service Commission, Albany, N. Y.:

"GENTLEMEN: The complaint of Dr. W. H. Young against Dr. Thomas Bamford, a candidate for first assistant physician at the Hudson river state hospital, having been referred to me for investigation, I hereby report as follows:

"On August 1, 1901, the examination for this position was held in the city of Poughkeepsie. It was in charge of E. P. Bogardus and W. H. Van Dyne. Dr. Young charged that Dr. Bamford, one of the six candidates, sought and received assistance in the said examination by telephoning to Dr. J. G. Elliott at the Hudson river state hospital and inquiring of him the answers to two of these questions.

"Both of the gentlemen who had charge of the examination testify in the most positive language that Dr. Bamford had no assistance whatever in any questions that he had not answered before he left the room and that he could not have obtained any assistance or information relating to any question upon either of the two sheets during the examination, neither could any other person who took the examination, for both examiners had followed implicitly the instructions regarding the examination.

"Dr. Bamford testified that he did not receive any assistance, neither did he attempt to obtain any assistance relating to any question upon either side of the sheets. That on the day uestion he was in charge of the hospital, Dr. Pilgrim being nt, and he had arranged with Dr. Elliott that during the hour he would call him up on the telephone and ascertain things were progressing at the hospital. Dr. Bamford was e exercised over the condition of matters under his charge the reason that four physicians from the institution were oughkeepsie taking the examination. Dr. Bamford's testi- y is substantiated by that of Dr. Elliott, Henry J. Case, who present when Dr. Bamford telephoned, W. O. Wheeler, was in the same room with Dr. Elliott while he was talking the telephone to Dr. Bamford. It was also shown by the ence taken that Dr. Young had returned to the hospital night in an intoxicated condition; that he had conducted elf in a very unbecoming manner upon the streets of Pough- sie while in that condition, and because it was necessary eport him to Dr. Bamford, who was then in charge of the ital, Young had threatened to do Bamford all the harm ould in the event of his being dismissed from the hospital.

I could find no evidence upon which to base the charge made nst Dr. Bamford except that of revenge, and from the evi- e taken and conversations with those in authority at the ital, there can be but one conclusion drawn and that is that Young had made use of the State Civil Service Commission urther his attempt to work the vengeance that he had atened.

The examination of the several persons taken in this inves- tion form part of this report, and I recommend that the ge against Dr. Bamford be dismissed.

n re transfers. Reference is hereby made to my report rela- to transfers from the exempt class. In regard to transfers the non-competitive class I have to add,

That a position in the competitive class is not, in my on, 'similar to' any position in either the exempt class or non-competitive class. No clearer line of demarcation can rawn than that which distinguishes class from class.

That a person cannot be transferred to a position in the etitive class by virtue of an examination unless the examination is 'an open competitive examination'. (Civil service law, section 13.)

"3 That there is no authority of law for the giving of mere qualifying examinations to individuals who seek transfer from the exempt or the non-competitive class to the competitive class. They must enter an open competitive examination. It is respectfully submitted that any other construction of the law breaks down the competitive system and that, as it is, the law allows a peculiar preference to the man holding a public position by permitting his transfer from the exempt or the non-competitive class to the competitive class when he simply passes the open competitive examination without regard to his relative standing on such examination.

he matter of purchases, etc., has been lessened so mate-by reason of the hospital buying so largely under joint

In all examinations for appointment and promotion in the civil service of the city of Oneida merit and fitness shall be determined by and upon competitive examinations for all the positions in the competitive class, as herein provided. The merit and fitness of all applicants shall be determined by examination conducted by the municipal civil service commission. RULE IX

Conduct of examination

The actual conduct of every examination for merit and fitness shall be under the responsible direction of the commission or of its designated members, free from the interference or participation or influnce of the appointing officer or of any person other than the assistant examiners or experts directly employed by the commission. No person employed in a department for whose benefit an eligible list is to be prepared shall be employed as an expert upon the examination for such eligible list. The commission may in the examinations give such relative importance to the different subjects or matters of examination, whether mental or physical, or to experience, occupation or training, as to them may seem fit. RULE X

Character of examination

All examinations shall be public and practical in their character, and shall relate to those matters which shall fairly test the intelligence, competency, suitability and character of the applicants to discharge the duties of the service for which they seek to be appointed. The commission, with the approval of the State Commissioners, shall determine when examinations are not practicable in cases relating to the civil service of the said city.

RULE XI

RULE XII

Political opinions of candidates

No recommendation or question under the authority of these rules shall relate to the political opinions or affiliations of any person whatever. Nor shall political opinions be discovered nor considered by the commission in their examinations. The commission shall not receive or consider any communication as to the qualifications or merits of any candidates for a position except such as are herein permitted, and except such communications as they may invite by way of verification of statements made by the candidate.

RULE XIII

Eligible lists

1 Every competitor who attains an average percentage of 75 or over on all the obligatory subjects in any examination, and whose standing on every such obligatory subject is 50 or over, shall be eligible for appointment to the position for which he is examined; and the names of eligibles shall be entered, in the order of their average percentages, on the proper register of eligibles; provided that the names of competitors who have passed as above and whose claims for preference under section 9 of article 5 of the constitution have been allowed by the commission shall be placed in the order of their respective average percentages at the head of the proper register of eligibles.

2 When two or more eligibles on a register have the same average percentage, preference in certification shall be determined by the order in which their applications were filed, but neither priority in the date of application nor of examination will give any other advantage in position on the register of eligibles.

3 The commission shall prescribe the character of the distinct eligible lists, designating the position that may be filled by certification from each of such lists. A transfer of names from one eligible list to another, prepared as above, may be made by direction of the commission.

The term of an eligible list is fixed at not less than one year or more than four years from the date of the establishment of such list.

An eligible list which has been in force for a period of one year shall terminate provided that a new examination has been held and a new list prepared for the same position.

Persons whose names appear upon any such eligible list shall be notified by mail when a new examination is to be held for the same position and informed that their eligibility will cease upon the establishment of a new eligible list as the result of the new examination.

RULE XIV

Regrading

Where an examination for any grade is had before the eligible list for that grade is exhausted, a new list shall be prepared after such examination. The persons upon the former eligible list who have not been examined for the new eligible list shall be respectively placed upon the new eligible list in the position to which the percentage of their aggregate markings upon the former examination would entitle them if such markings had instead been given them upon the new examination, and shall be continued thereon until the end of their term of eligibility.

RULE XV

Written or oral examination

In the creation of new eligible lists the rating shall be based upon such written or oral examinations, or both, as the commission shall determine, which oral examination shall be stenographically recorded.

RULE XVI

Correction of errors

The commission shall have power, in its discretion, whenever in its judgment the interests of the public service require it, to order a re-examination of applicants for any position, and shall have power to correct any error and amend or revoke any schedule, list or other paper or record where it appears that any error or injustice has been done, or where any person whose name appears on any eligible list has for any reason become incapacitated for appointment in the public service, to strike such name from said list; provided, however, that after an eligible list is prepared and certified it shall not be altered or revoked except upon notice by mail or otherwise, as the commission may direct, to all persons whose standing may be unfavorably affected by the alteration. But the reasons for every such action shall be recorded in full in the minutes of the municipal civil service commission.

RULE XVII

Certification for appointment

1 Whenever a vacancy shall occur within any grade of the competitive or labor class which, in the opinion of the appointing officer, the business of the city requires to be filled, he shall forthwith notify the secretary of the vacancy and state whether the same is to be filled by appointment or by promotion or by reinstatement, and the title of the position, the duties to be performed, the number of vacancies to be filled and compensation to be paid.

Appointments shall be made to or employment shall be given in all positions in the competitive and labor classes that are not filled by promotion, reinstatement, transfer or reduction, under the provisions of the civil service law and these rules, by appointment from among those standing highest on the eligible list prepared by the municipal commission, except as otherwise provided in the civil service law.

The secretary shall thereupon, as soon as practicable, certify to the appointing officer for appointment or promotion or for reinstatement from the eligible list most nearly appropriate to such position as it may then exist the names of the three persons standing highest on such eligible list, indicating such of them, if any, as are honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines of the army or navy of the United States in the late civil war, citizens and residents of this state. The certificate of the secretary shall in all cases state the relative standing of each of the persons certified.

The appointing officer shall thereupon fill said vacancy or vacancies by the appointment of one or more of the persons certified. Until an appointment has been made from said certification or until said certification has been canceled, no new certification shall be made to fill said vacant position or positions. In all cases the vacancies shall be so filled within fifteen days after the receipt by the appointing officer of the names certified by the secretary, and the secretary shall be notified within twenty-four hours by the appointing power of the appointments or promotions so made. No certification shall be in force for a longer period than fifteen days.

When a requisition is made to fill a position for which no eligible list exists, the municipal commission shall make certification from the eligible list most nearly appropriate for the group in which the position to be filled is classified, and wherein the qualifications demanded have been determined by examination.

No person on an eligible list shall be certified more than three times to the same appointing officer for the same bureau or institution, except at the request of said appointing officer,

If the appointment shall be made of any person other than one of the three standing highest on the eligible list the appointing officer shall forward to the commission, with the notice of appointment, copies of all correspondence to and from the persons declining such appointment.

RULE XVIII

Suspension of rules

In case of a vacancy in any position in the competitive class where peculiar and exceptional qualifications of a scientific, professional or educational character are required, and upon satisfactory evidence that for specified reasons competition in such special case is impracticable, and that the position can best be filled by the selection of some particular person of high and recognized attainment in such qualities, the commission may, upon obtaining the approval of the State Civil Service Commission, suspend the provisions of the rule requiring competition in such case, but no such suspension shall be general in its application to such place, and all such cases of suspension shall be reported to the State Commission in the annual report made to them, with the reasons for the same.

RULE XIX

Qualifications as to residence and citizenship

Every applicant for examination for appointment to any of the positions enumerated in the competitive or non-competitive class, or for registration for employment in any of the positions enumerated in the labor class, must be a citizen of the United States and an actual resident of the city of Oneida at the time of his application; provided that such requirements as to citizenship and residence may be specially suspended by the commission as to any position requiring high professional, scientific or technical qualifications, but all such cases, with the reasons therefor, shall be entered on the records of the commission opposite the name of the candidate.

RULE XX

Requirements in exceptional cases

In applications for examinations for positions requiring scientific, professional or technical qualifications, the commission may require evidences of special education for or of practical experience for a satisfactory term in such profession, art or trade, and shall require the production of such certificates of competency and license as are provided by the statutes of this state as necessary to enable the practice of any profession, art or trade.

RULE XXI

Candidates unfit for appointment

Blank forms of applications will be furnished by the said municipal civil service commission without charge to all persons requesting the same. The commission may require in connection with such application such certificates of citizens, physicians, public officers or others having knowledge of the applicant as the good of the service may require. The commission may refuse to examine an applicant, or after examination to certify an eligible who is found to lack any of the established preliminary requirements for the examination or position for which he applies; or who is physically so disabled as to be rendered unfit for the performance of the duties of the position to which he seeks appointment; or who is addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating beverages to excess; or who has been guilty of a crime, or of infamous or notoriously disgraceful conduct; or who has been dismissed from the public service for delinquency or misconduct; or who has intentionally made a false statement of any material fact, or practiced or attempted to practice any deception or fraud in his application, in his examination or in securing his eligibility or appointment. Any of the foregoing disqualifications shall be good cause for the removal of an eligible from the service after his appointment. When the position to be filled involves fiduciary responsibility, the appointing officer, where otherwise permitted by law, may require the appointee to furnish a bond or other security and shall notify the municipal commission of the amount and necessary details thereof. No person who has entered upon any examination for any position shall be entitled to be admitted within nine months from the date thereof to a new examination for the same grade of position.

RULE XXII

Temporary appointments

1 Whenever there are urgent reasons for filling a vacancy in any position in the competitive class and there is no list of persons eligible for appointment after competitive examination, the appointing officer may nominate a person to the municipal commission for non-competitive examination, and if such nominee shall be certified by such commission as qualified after such non-competitive examination, he may be appointed provisionally to fill such vacancy until a selection and appointment can be made after competitive examination, but such provisional appointment shall not continue for a longer period than one month, nor shall successive temporary appointments be made to the same position under this rule.

2 When there are urgent reasons for filling a vacancy in any position in the competitive class, and the services to be rendered are to be temporary, the appointing officer may appoint and employ the first person upon the eligible list appropriate to such position who will accept such appointment.

The person declining shall not be deprived of his rights to a future certification for permanent appointment nor shall an appointment under this provision entitle a person to the provisions of the rule governing promotion, transfer or reinstatement.

Such temporary appointment shall not continue for a period of more than ten days. The municipal commission may extend the period of temporary appointment upon the written request of the appointing officer, which request shall be set forth in the minutes of the commission.

RULE XXIII

Methods of examination—Non-competitive class

Positions in the non-competitive class may be filled by the appointing officer in his discretion in respect to the method of examination. The discretion of the officer in such case shall be limited as follows:

First—He may select from the eligible list prepared as the result of an open competitive examination; or,

Second—He may name to the municipal civil service commission three or more persons for competitive examination, and appoint the one graded highest as the result of an examination for merit and fitness; or,

Third—He may appoint or employ any person named by him, who upon a non-competitive examination by the said commission shall be duly certified as qualified to discharge the duties of the position.

RULE XXIV

Certificate of qualification—Non-competitive class

Upon the non-competitive examination into the qualifications of a person named for a position in this class the said commission will give a certificate to such person only when satisfied (1) that he is within the limits of age prescribed for the position or employment to which he has been named; (2) that he is properly certified as free from any physical defect or disease which is likely to interfere with the proper discharge of his duties; (3) that his character is such as to qualify him for such position or employment, and (4) that he possesses the requisite knowledge and ability to enter on the discharge of his official duties. An officer naming a person for examination will at the same time transmit his certificate, that after due inquiry he is satisfied that the character and habits of the person named fit him for the public service, and will append to the certificate such formal vouchers or credentials as to character as he may desire to have considered or to put on file. In the determination of the character or habits of the nominee, the certificate thereof by nominating officer will be considered as essential.

RULE XXV

Selection of method of examination

Whenever a vacancy in this class in any department, office or institution is to be filled, the officer having the authority to fill the same shall notify the said commission which of the three methods, in his discretion, under rule XXIII, he selects; and if the choice be by an open competitive examination, the commission will proceed as for an examination under the competitive class, but if the choice be by a limited competition, or by the appointment of a person to be duly certified by the commission as qualified, the officer aforesaid shall name in such notification the person or persons to be examined, and thereupon the commission shall notify the person or persons so named of the time, place and special rules for the examination.

RULE XXVI

Registration and appointment—Labor class

1 Applicants for positions under the labor class, who produce satisfactory evidence of their capacity for labor and their habits as to industry and sobriety, shall be registered in the order of their application. The register shall state the (1) name, (2) age, (3) residence, (4) citizenship, (5) number and relationship of persons depending for support on the applicant, (6) service in the army or navy in time of war, (7) previous occupation, (8) reference, and such other information as may be required.

2 When the services of the employees in the labor class are required, the officer or person having the appointment shall notify the said commission, stating the number of men wanted, kind of labor for which they are wanted, and the time and place of employment; and the commission shall thereupon send to the officers or the person making the requisition the names and residences of the number of men called for (if the register contains so many), as provided in chapter 370 of the laws of 1899, giving the preference to those who have served in the army or navy of the United States during the late civil war and been honorably discharged therefrom.

3 Such appointing officer shall forthwith return to this commission the names of those employed, with the date of employment, provided that if a less number than those certified shall be so employed they shall be those standing highest on the register.

4 All registry lists shall remain in force for a period of not less than one year nor more than four, and when necessary new lists shall be prepared on the last day of February of each year.

5 There shall be separate applications for the different kinds of labor and employment, and the commission may establish separate labor lists for the various institutions and departments. And where the labor lists of any department or institution extends to separate localities the commission may provide separate register lists for each district or locality. Said commission shall have power to limit the number of lists upon which an applicant's name shall be registered at the same time. The commission shall require an applicant for registration for the labor service to furnish such evidence as to his fitness, etc., or pass such examination as may be deemed proper by them not inconsistent with the law.

6 In case the commission is unable to fill a requisition for laborers, the fact shall be certified to the officer making the requisition, who shall then make the selection under such regulation as the commission may from time to time prescribe.

7 The commission may make such regulations as may be necessary to identify the registered applicants and to preserve a record of their conduct.

RULE XXVII

Probationary appointments

Every original appointment to or employment in any position in the competitive class shall be for a probationary term of three months, and an appointing or nominating officer in notifying a person certified to him for appointment or employment shall specify the same as for a probationary term only; and if the conduct, capacity and fitness of the probationer are satisfactory to the appointing officer, his retention in the service after the end of such term shall be equivalent to his permanent appointment, but if his conduct, capacity or fitness be not satisfactory, he may be discharged at the end of such term without regard to the provisions of rule XXXIII limiting the power of removal.

Whenever two or more persons appointed from the same eligible list are serving as probationers in the same department, and there is necessity for a reduction of the force of such department affecting such persons, they shall be preferred for retention in the order of their original standing upon such list.

RULE XXVIII

Promotions

1 Whenever a vacancy occurs in any position in the competitive class above the lowest grade in any group the commission shall forthwith arrange to hold a promotion examination limited to those persons who have for more than six months served with fidelity in the next lower grade in such group in the same office, department or institution, provided that if there are no persons who have served with fidelity for six months in the next lower grade, or provided all persons in the next lower grade fail in any promotion examination, then all persons in the second lower grade who have served with fidelity for six months in the same office, department or institution shall have the right to compete in said promotion examination. On the request of the appointing officer the commission may permit per-

The written part of the examination shall be confined to the duties of the office in which the vacancy occurs, and particularly to the duties of the position to be filled. Due weights will be given to the candidates' seniority and past record in the office, and to any special fitness for the duties of the higher position.

7 The conduct of such examination and the preparation of the eligible list shall be subject to the general provisions of rules X, XI, and XIII.

8 No recommendation of any person for promotion, whether verbal or written, shall be entertained or received unless made in the ordinary course of duty by his immediate official superiors, and the presentation of any recommendation other than that of such superiors shall be considered an unwarrantable interference with the public service, and the person so recommended may be required to show, before being certified for promotion, that such recommendation was not made by his request or connivance.

No such transfer will be permitted from a position enumerated in the competitive class to a position in the non-competitive class unless the person so transferred passes the non-competitive examination for such position, or from a position enumerated in the non-competitive class to a

e State Civil Service Commission:

NTLEMEN: During the year 1901 the municipal civil serv ission of Amsterdam, N. Y., held sixteen meetings.
iary 8th an examination of applicants for leveler, rodm chainman in the engineering department was held.
examination for rodman was held February 12th. Th were four applicants for rodman, four for leveler and three for chainman. Three passed the examination for leveler successfully, two for rodman and two for chainman.

An examination of applicants for appointment as policeman was held June 10th. Thirteen took the examination and nine passed successfully and were placed on the eligible list. Three have been appointed as patrolmen from the list.

In March those desiring employment as laborers in the street department were listed; and the men employed on the streets last year were on the list.

The water-works and sewer boards do not employ their laborers from the list made up by this commission.

In December this commission received a communication from the secretary of the State Civil Service Commission, asking for information regarding a complaint made by Darwin E. Vunk, captain of the Forty-sixth separate company, N. G., N. Y., to the effect that Maurice Harrigan, who during the year was appointed a policeman from the eligible list, charging that said Harrigan was dishonorably discharged from the company in February, 1891, and therefore not entitled to such appointment, and making the further charge that the said Vunk believed that the Amsterdam municipal commission was not doing its duty. This commission immediately instituted an investigation, summoning Vunk before it and questioning him in relation to the charges made against Harrigan. The findings of this commission in the matter were duly transmitted to your honorable secretary and also to the adjutant-general, and are undoubtedly on file in their several offices.

The gist of the investigation is that there was no foundation for the charges, and that they were made by Vunk to harm Harrigan for reasons best known to Vunk and not divulged to this commission at the investigation. What appeared strange to this commission was that General Oliver, who is credited with issuing a dishonorable discharge to Harrigan, should do so without any report of charges preferred and sustained upon trial, and why the State Commission should recognize the charges of Vunk, as there is nothing that this commission can find that relates in any way to members of the national guard more than any private citizen.

Auburn

AUBURN, N. Y., December 28, 1901

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with the provisions of section 10 of the civil service law of the state of New York the municipal civil service commission of the city of Auburn, N. Y., most respectfully submit the following report of its proceedings from January 25, 1901:

On January 25, 1901, Mayor Burgess reappointed Emmett Rhodes, Charles A. Smith and Harry R. Kidney municipal civil service commissioners, and at a meeting held on that date Emmett Rhodes was elected chairman of the commission.

The commission held twenty-one meetings during the year, and conducted four open competitive examinations, as follows:

February 13, 1901, examination held to create an eligible list from which to appoint caretakers and janitors of public schools. Ten applications were made for examination, all of which were accepted and approved but one; this was rejected for the reason that the applicant had been convicted of disorderly conduct and a breach of the peace; the balance of the applicants were examined and the result was the creation of an eligible list of seven, two applicants failing to qualify.

February 14, 1901, examination held to create an eligible list from which to appoint a superintendent of public school buildings. Seven applications were received and all were accepted and approved; six applicants tried the examination (one applicant not presenting himself) and the result was the creation of an eligible list of two, the balance failing to qualify.

April 23, 1901, examination held to create an eligible list from which to appoint firemen and drivers in the fire department. Thirteen applications were received and all were accepted and approved but one, which was rejected for the reason that the applicant was under the required height. The twelve approved applicants were examined and the result was the creation of an eligible list of nine for appointment to the position of fireman and eight for the position of driver in the fire department; balance of applicants examined failed to qualify.

November 8, 1901, examination held to create an eligible list from which to appoint an elevator operator. Thirteen applications were received and accepted and approved. Nine applicants presented themselves for examination. The result of said examination has not been announced, as there seems to be a question regarding the purchase of the elevator.

On October 21, 1901, the common council appointed John J. Corkery inspector of a sewer about to be constructed, notwithstanding the fact that one W. H. Hagan, an honorably discharged veteran of the civil war, was on the eligible list and then unemployed by the city. After a discussion of the matter the municipal civil service commission determined that inasmuch as the commission had certified Patrick McQueeney, Wm. H. Hagan and John J. Corkery to the common council and called the attention of the council to the right of preference claimed by Wm. H. Hagan as an honorably discharged veteran of the civil war, and it appearing that John J. Corkery had been employed notwithstanding the fact that said Hagan was not at that time employed on any other work by the city, the employment of John J. Corkery seemed not to have been in accord with the civil service law governing preferences to honor discharged veterans of the civil war, therefore the commis felt obliged to withhold its certification of the pay-roll of Corkery. The sewer has not been completed and the ma of payment to John J. Corkery is still in abeyance.

The commission has certified from eligible lists during year the names of eleven persons for appointment to positi in the various departments.

The commission has in all cases conducted examinations lines tending to test the practical knowledge of the applica and as to the duties required by the position or office to filled. Where parts of examinations have been oral a ste rapher has been employed and a record of questions and rep preserved.

The workings of the commission have been in harmony v the various city departments, with the exception of appo ment of sewer inspector, and there is every prospect of the

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with the provision of section chapter 370, laws of 1899. the municipal civil service commis of the city of Binghamton herewith submits its third an report.

The different municipal boards of the city of Bingham amenable to the civil service law of the state of New York h fully complied with the provisions thereof with the excep of the water board. The reason given by this board for complying with the law is that they claim not to be amenable to the civil service law on account of being a separate body corporate and deriving its funds by direct taxation and paying its employees from the moneys so earned.

This matter was reported to your honorable body in 1900 and again in the annual report made by the commission January 10, 1901.

This commission further reports having held two examinations at which sixty-two candidates were examined; further, that there were seven meetings held. There were no transfers or promotions. The only resignations were those of E. G. Radiker, sidewalk inspector, and C. N. Hogg, chief of the Binghamton fire department.

The roster will be mailed under separate cover.

Respectfully submitted.

BUFFALO, N. Y., January 1, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: As provided by statute, the civil service commission of the city of Buffalo respectfully submits herewith its annual report for the year ending December 31, 1901, together with copies of the roster of the classified service of said city.

THE COMMISSION

There have been but few changes in the commission since the date of our last report. Dr. Renwick R. Ross resigned from the commission early in the year and Mr. Joseph Gregory was appointed his successor. Mr. Daniel V. Murphy for the past two years president of the commission, finding that he was unable to spare from his personal and professional duties the time demanded for the proper attention to the exacting and increasing work of the commission, early in December tendered resignation both as president and member of the commis

. Mr. Murphy's resignation was accepted with great re ance and regret, for aside from the personal relations ex ıg between the president and his fellow members, whicl ɜ always of the pleasantest and most cordial character, th mission feels that it has suffered no inconsiderable los eing deprived of his efficient services and able counsel.
ıe vacancy caused by Mr. Murphy's resignation has no ı filled, as it is the announced intention of Mayor Knigh educe the number of commissioners from fifteen to seven a request for such an amendment to the rules is now before commission.

AMENDMENTS

ıe changes in the rules and schedules during the past yea · been few and unimportant. The need of an additiona tor of the truant school required an amendment, and ıge was made in the classification of the paying tellers i city treasurer's office. A more important amendment wa providing for the so-called "season positions," which per the re-employment of persons from year to year wh me temporarily separated from the service by reason o completion of the work upon which they are employed rule especially applies to spreading and collection of taxe ıe offices of the city treasurer and comptroller. The com ion has in mind some other changes in the rules which wil ubmitted for your approval at another time.
ı exceedingly important amendment to the civil service law been brought to our attention through an incident which be mentioned more fully later in this report, and that i an amendment as will give to the municipal commissio ɔower and authority to make investigations concerning th rcement and effect of the provisions of the civil servic and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder an er upon the secretaries of municipal commissions powe dminister oaths, and upon the commissions power to sub poena and compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books and papers pertinent to any investigation it desires to make.

Municipal commissions are now powerless to compel the attendance of witnesses, and are confronted with a most embarrassing helplessness when it seems desirable or necesary to investigate fraud in examinations or infractions of the rules.

This omission of a most important provision of the law should receive the attention of the legislature now in session and the law be amended to apply uniformly to both state and municipal commissions. It is fully as important that such powers should be given to municipal commissions as to the State Commission.

EXAMINATIONS

The examinations for the past year have been conducted along the same general lines as heretofore, special care being taken to make them practical, avoiding so far as possible merely academic tests, a knowledge of which does not form a part of the necessary equipment of an applicant to enable him to perform the duties of the position.

Our belief in practical tests is fully justified by the excellent results of the past two years' work and the entire satisfaction of the appointing officers in the persons certified to them for appointment.

A belief in the fairness of the examinations and the practicability of the tests is bringing to our examinations a superior class of applicants, as a result of which the standing of the public service is being raised and a more efficient corps of public servants is being produced.

The following is a table of the results of competitive examinations for original appointment and of competitive examinations for promotion held during the year 1901:

The wisdom of requiring the certificate of the commission to be attached to all pay-rolls has been fully established and has effected an economy in the administration of the public service by eliminating the temptation to find places for persistent seekers after office who have influential endorsers whose importunities are too great to be withstood by an appointing officer. The fact that a certificate is now required before an appointee can draw his pay has acted as an admirable tonic in stiffening the backbone of appointing officers to refusing to make appointments contrary to the provisions of the civil service law and the rules and regulations adopted pursuant to law, and the commission is in a position to know that its rules and regulations are being observed.

EXCEPTIONS FROM COMPETITIVE EXAMINATIONS

The commission has in the following two instances suspended its rules requiring competitive examinations and consented to appointments permitted in section 14, paragraph 2, of the civil service law, viz:

At the request of the board of assessors, the city comptroller and city treasurer we consented to suspend the rules and permit the employment from time to time in said departments of E. A. Eggert, who is an expert on tax and assessment matters, and who has been employed at various times in the said offices for upwards of twenty years. During all these years he has been employed he has attended the meetings of the common council committee on tax and assessments and has kept minutes and notes and has data which make him almost indispensable to the assessors and comptroller in the special work of spreading or apportioning local taxes and assessments.

The exception was made with the single purpose of benefiting the public service, the commission believing it to be a case in which Eggert was possessed of "peculiar and exceptional qualifications of a scientific, professional or educational character."

The other case was the appointment of Mr. John H. Clausen as director of public playground.

For some two or three years certain public spirited and philanthropically inclined citizens of Buffalo have striven to have established in Buffalo public playgrounds under the charge and supervision of a person competent to teach the use of the apparatus with which the grounds are equipped, and direct the children in their games so that the greatest possible benefit would accrue from its use.

To this end they have endeavored to procure an appropriation from the common council for the establishment of at least one such playground, and last spring succeeded in securing an amount sufficient to develop one of the smaller parks for such purpose.

As the matter was in the nature of an experiment in Buffalo, it was very desirable that everything possible should be done to make it a success, for upon that depended its continuance and further appropriations for its maintenance.

The persons interested in the matter canvassed the city to find if possible some citizen competent to take charge of the ayground, but diligent inquiry failed to disclose any per ho had any experience in such work or who possessed cessary qualifications, and they then turned their inquiries rsons who were connected with similar institutions in ot ties, viz: Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, w e result that thirteen persons were recommended.

The men were corresponded with and required to submi atement of their education, training and experience, togeth ith their photographs, and after a most careful inquiry a vestigation Mr. John H. Clausen, of Boston, was selected ssessing the best qualifications for the position, and the co ission was requested to consent to his appointment. T plication received the careful consideration of the commissi d a committee was appointed to look into the matter. T port of the committee substantiated the claims of the citize mmittee, and upon the subsequent request of those perso terested in the establishment of the playgrounds, who ared before the commission at a meeting, a resolution w opted excepting the position of director of public playgroun d suspending the rules requiring a competitive examinati r the place.

The selection of Mr. Clausen has been amply justified by t ry successful manner in which he equipped the new pl ound and directed its use during the season just past. T propriation was exhausted about November 1, since whi ie Mr. Clausen has not been on the pay-rolls, but it is hop all interested in the excellent work accomplished by him th e city will renew its appropriation for next summer so that y be retained to carry forward the work he has so succe ly inaugurated.

PAN-AMERICAN POLICE.

Early in the spring of 1901 the question of the appointme patrolmen or guards for the Pan-American expositi ounds was brought to the attention of the commission.

The act incorporating the Pan-American exposition comp provided for the appointment of patrolmen required, but as exposition was held within the corporate limits of the city, as the money to pay for the guards was advanced by the and as a large number of citizens of Buffalo took the exam tion for patrolmen the previous year with the expectatio being appointed on the Pan-American police force, and as commission at an expenditure of an unusual amount of and money had prepared a large eligible list of patrolme believed and contended that the Pan-American police shoul appointed from the eligible list it had prepared and endeav to have this done, but after a considerable amount of cor pondence and a number of conferences between President burn and a committee from this commission the exposition pany announced that it would make its own eligible list. few men from our list were appointed, but the majority w men from out of the city, coming from all parts of the coun Seventy-five men were temporarily appointed from our elig list to supplement the regular city police force during the I American exposition, and the reports from the police dep ment show that they did most excellent and satisfactory ser during a time when the city was filled with strangers and demands upon them much greater than ordinary. The were commended for their intelligence and courteous dep ment, and the commission desires to express its sincere re that it was unable to secure the appointment of the men f the eligible list to the position on the Pan-American force.

GOLDEN MATTER

On or about May 10, 1901, written charges in the form of davits were presented to the commission alleging that one J P. Golden, now a member of the Buffalo police force, did in examination of applicants for the police force, held in Dec ber, 1893, procure a substitute to impersonate him in the ph cal and athletic tests in said examination.

The matter was referred to a committee for investigation, a date for a hearing was set and Golden and the alleged substitute, viz: Edward T. Callahan, were requested to appear before said committee. They duly appeared and the statement of Callahan was taken by a stenographer and reduced to the form of an affidavit. Corroborating affidavits were made by William Callahan, a brother of Edward T., and by one F. B. Higgins, who took the examination at the same time Callahan was alleged to have acted as substitute for Golden. Golden was called before the committee but refused to make any statement whatsoever. At his request, however, so that no injustice might be done him, an adjournment was had so that he might procure counsel, and at a subsequent hearing Golden was represented by Hon. John Cunneen, his counsel.

At this point the committee found itself in the unfortunate position of being unable under any authority of law to subpoena and compel the attendance of witnesses, and its investigation was practically brought to a standstill. Golden's counsel appeared only for the purpose of protesting against the authority of the commission to pursue its investigation, denying that it had jurisdiction to hear or pass upon the charges and refusing to submit any evidence. Golden's counsel stated that the commission having no power to conduct the investigation, that should it charge that Golden had procured a substitute to impersonate him in the examination, and in effect that he had committed a crime, that each commissioner voting in favor of the report would be liable to an action for slander by Golden.

However, a prima facie case against Golden having been established, the committee reported "that upon the evidence before it, John P. Golden did procure a substitute, viz.: Edward T. Callahan, who acted for said John P. Golden, and took the athletic and physical tests in an examination for patrolmen in December, 1893, and that the said Golden's purpose in procuring said substitute was to improve his standing upon the eligible list of patrolmen then in preparation, and recommended at the commission take the necessary steps for the removal o

id Golden from his position on the Buffalo police force."

The committee presented its report to the commission Jar ry 13, 1902, and then for the first time a defense was pr ated in the form of affidavits, upon which there was no oppo nity for cross-examination. However, upon the affidavit esented the commission refused to concur in the committee' port, and a resolution was adopted " that the charges agains lden had not been sustained."

This matter is reported for the purpose of calling your atte n to the helplessness of municipal commissions in conductin vestigations, and to recommend and urge that you bring th tter to the attention of and use your influence with the legi ture to secure an amendment to the civil service law conferrin on municipal commissions the same power to conduct invest tions, to subpoena and compel the attendance of witnesse c., that are now possessed by the State Civil Service Com ssion.

REGAN CASE

The right of the commission to refuse to certify to the pay o person deemed to be appointed to office contrary to the civ rvice law and the rules and regulations adopted pursuant t w was denied in the following case:

One Daniel Regan was appointed a patrolman on the Buffal lice force from an eligible list September 21, 1894. On Jul
, 1895, charges were preferred against him to which he pleade ilty, and on August 5, 1895, he was sentenced to be dismisse om the Buffalo police force. He subsequently took the e mination for patrolmen and attained a standing upon th gible list, and was on the 15th day of May, 1901, appointe temporary patrolman, being one of the seventy-five provide r in an appropriation for special patrolmen to act during th an-American exposition.

On October 11, 1901, a communication was received from th lice department reporting among other things the reinstat

ment as first grade patrolman of Daniel Regan, taking e October 1, 1901, more than six years after his dismissal. I diately upon receipt of this communication the secretary not the police department that the reinstatement was unlawful could not be made, and that the commission would refus certify to Regan's pay.

Nothing was done by the police department and Regan's n appeared upon the pay-rolls for the first half of October.
secretary refused to certify to his pay. Threat of suit made by Regan and a statement of the facts in the case sent to the corporation counsel by the secretary with req for a written opinion. The corporation counsel advised commission that it could not attack the appointment of R collaterally by refusing to certify to his pay, and that it no right to so refuse to certify to his name. The commis did not concur in this view of the case and still refused to tify to Regan's name upon the pay-rolls.

Shortly thereafter Regan, by his attorney, petitioned court for a writ of mandamus compelling the commissio recognize his appointment and to certify to his pay. The ma was returnable on December 26, 1901, and the commission represented by Mr. Killem, of the corporation counsel's o
The court was of the same opinion as the corporation cou viz.: That we could not attack Regan's appointment collate by refusing to certify to his pay, and a writ was issued manding the commission to make the certification. The mand was of course obeyed, and by reason of the fact th change in the administration of the corporation counsel's occurred on January 1, 1902, no further action was take he matter at that time. However, it is the purpose of the mission to further test its right to refuse to certify to the of persons improperly appointed in the civil service.

If the views of the court are correct the certification of olls would be superfluous, since they would be unable to vent persons unlawfully appointed from drawing their pay and the purpose of the law would be nullified.

A somewhat unusual problem came before the commission for solution last summer. A firm having the contract for the collection of ashes and garbage for a section of the city became embarrassed and served notice on the city that it was unable temporarily to proceed with its contract.

It was imperative that the collection of garbage should not be suspended, as the public health demanded that it should be promptly removed to prevent illness and possibly an epidemic. The difficulty in the matter was increased by reason of the great number of Pan-American visitors.

The emergency was one requiring prompt action, so the city seized the teams and wagons belonging to the contractor and employed the same persons who were working for the company when it defaulted. The city was protected by a bond from any loss it might sustain by reason of the failure upon the part of the contractor to carry out his agreement, but temporarily the money to pay the laborers, teamsters and others had to be advanced by the city and paid from its funds, and the commission questions the right of the city to employ the men formerly working for the company in preference to those who had registered with the commission. Most of the persons employed being laborers, it would seem that their duties would be simple and soon learned, but it would require some little time as the men would have to learn where to find the garbage cans, how to handle them, etc. The board of public works disputed the contention of the commission, and the opinion of the corporation counsel was asked for. He held that while the city was obliged to advance the pay for the persons employed in the collection of the garbage, yet it would all be recovered from the bondsmen of the contractors, and that the city was not really the employer, and therefore the civil service rules did not apply to the persons so employed, and no further effort was made to compel the employment of registered laborers.

n conclusion we desire to report that there has been an enti ence of friction between the commission and the vario artments of the city civil service, and that we have in almo ry instance received the hearty co-operation of all depa nts in the administration of the civil service regulations.
matter of mutual congratulation that the principles of ci vice reform are now accepted as matters of course and t empts to evade the law are now as rare as they were forme sistent.

HORNELLSVILLE, N. Y., January 15, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: Your favor of the 2d came to hand on the 5th, and in reply I herewith submit the work of the municipal civil service commission of the city of Hornellsville for the year ending December 31, 1901.

The commission has held one examination for policeman for which there were three applications filed, but only one tried the examination and he did not pass. There is now on file one application for the same position.

A non-competitive examination for the position of superintendent of water-works was given October 5th.

The commission adopted the plan of having all applicants in the labor class fill out and swear to a form containing certain questions with reference to their age, occupation, qualifications, etc. This has proved to be of great advantage, especially on the first day of registration.

The commission has certified to all pay-rolls and checks coming under its jurisdiction.

HUDSON, N. Y., January 14, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: During the past year the board has held but one examination, in which there were 7 applicants, 2 absent and 1 withdrawal, for the appointment of fireman at the pumping house to fill vacancy caused by death of Arthur Rightmyer on February 20, 1901.

No other change has been made in any department or notice served to call examinations other than the above-mentioned request.

Each department of the service remains as notified last year, excepting the change in the administrative board, viz:

Mr. Ruluf Neefus having resigned, in place of whom Mr. Henry Buxbury received appointment.

Mr. Robert Storm and Dr. Crawford E. Fritts were retained as reappointees.

The resignation of the retiring member, Mr. Neefus, was for substantial business reasons; his qualifications were competent and fully satisfactory to his constituency.

To the vacancy that occurred through the death of Mr. Rig nyer, Mr. John Mahoney was appointed after due notice. Oth than this one examination the civil service list remains as previous report.

The present civil service commission of the city of Hudson h been most vigilant, rigid and circumspect in regard to the ru and regulations as adopted and regularly amended, of which y have a copy duly filed in your office.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., January 11, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to chapter 370 of the laws of 1899 the municipal civil service commission of the city of Middletown,

. Y., herewith submits its second annual report for your in ation.

The members of this commission were appointed March 02, by Mayor Charles E. Mance and organized March 11, 1 · electing D. C. McMonagle president and appointing as se ry Miss Alice M. Adams.

The work of the commission this year has not been very gr om the fact that most of the incumbents in office were re inted.

However, we have had during the year four open competit aminations, viz:

March 21, 1901—Police constables.

October 31, 1901—Engineer's assistant, fire apparatus drive nitors for schoolhouses.

Of the seven candidates examined for the position of po nstable, four passed the required percentage.

Two were examined for engineer's assistant and one pass our were examined for fire apparatus driver and four pass ne was examined for janitor for schoolhouses and passed.

Of the candidates for police constable, examination of Ma 1901, that did not pass the required percentage one, A.
heeler, demurred against his rating and complained to y norable body, which resulted in a hearing held June 4, 1 mmissioner John E. Kraft of your board presiding, which lted in the report of said Commissioner John E. Kraft, da ne 6, 1901, wherein he recites, " I could not find by the inve tion that any injustice had been done to Mr. Wheeler, d any discrimination been made in favor of those who w ported to have passed the examination."

Withal, in our judgment, the civil service of this city is good healthy condition; the class of city officials under risdiction has become improved and those outside the c rvice who at first treated it with distrust have, on acco the carefulness and conscientiousness of the officials of commission who preceded us, come to regard it with more confidence and are becoming satisfied that it is a good thing and has come to stay.

Yours respectfully.

The personnel of this board remains the same as shown

A very large number of bills received our attention dur

Newburgh

NEWBURGH, N. Y., January 10, 190

o the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN—In compliance with section 10, chapter 370, l f 1899, the municipal civil service board of Newburgh her espectfully submits its annual report as follows:

Regular monthly meetings of the board have been held during the year, and special meetings at such times as have seemed to be necessary. On February 25, 1901, a special meeting was held for the examination of applicants for the position of engineer. There were twelve candidates who filed application papers, but only four of these appeared to take the examination with the surprising result that none of these four succeeded in passing.

On April 9, 1901, a non-competitive examination was offered Thomas M. Hawthorne, assistant librarian, for the promotion to position of librarian of Newburgh free library. Mr. Hawthorne passed the examination, and his name was ordered upon the eligible list for the position of librarian. On April 26, 1901, Mr. Hawthorne was appointed by the board of education to the position of librarian to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles Estabrook, and his name was transferred to the official roster.

On May 20, 1901, the name of Sylvester Ward was placed upon the official roster as patrolman. Mr. Ward is a veteran, and has served for several years, since May 7, 1899, as a special police officer during the summer months on Washington's headquarters grounds. His name was placed upon the official roster upon the advice of the corporation counsel.

On May 13, 1901, an examination was held for the position of assistant librarian in the Newburgh free library. Ten candidates filed applications and appeared for examination. Only two, however, passed. The names of these two, Christina V. Oakley and Agnes Eaton, were ordered upon the eligible list. On May 31, 1901, Miss Christina V. Oakley was appointed by the board of education to fill the vacancy in the position of assistant librarian caused by promotion, and her name was ordered on the official roster.

On December 26, 1901, an examination was held for the purpose of examining candidates for the position of stationary engineer. There were twelve applications filed, but only two persons presented themselves for examination. These two,

Chester Egbert Wolven and John Dohm, were successful in passing and have been placed on the eligible list.

On May 22, 1901, complaint was made to the State Civil Service Commission by James R. McCullough, through the medium of the regular and volunteer army and navy union. This complaint stated that the municipal civil service board entirely ignored the civil service law of the state of New York in making appointments, and that veterans were not preferred as required by law. This complaint was investigated by a member of your Commission. The result of this investigation as reported showed that the municipal civil service board had not discriminated against veterans, but that those in authority had made every effort to follow the directions of the civil service law; that the complaint seemed to be based upon the supposition that veterans should be examined and placed upon the eligible list and then appointed to the various city offices even though no vacancies existed. We are very glad to say that the complaint was dismissed, and the municipal civil service board entirely exonerated from the charges made.

The municipal civil service board further reports that monthly pay-rolls, semimonthly pay-rolls and weekly pay-rolls of the department of board of public works, of board of education, of police department and of public parks are properly presented in duplicate form at the office of the civil service board and certified to by the secretary of this board before payment by the city treasurer. The weekly pay-rolls of the water board are not presented for certification.

Very respectfully submitted.

New Rochelle

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., March 7, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN—As I heretofore advised your Board, by reason of the illness of Mr. Herbert S. Carpenter, chairman of the late board of civil service commissioners of New Rochelle, my own illness, and the constant pressure upon the time of the physician member of the board, Dr. Dalrymple, it was not possible to furnish a report for 1901 prior to January 15th, or indeed since that time.

In point of fact there is very little to be said as to the operation of the law in New Rochelle during 1901, except that we held public examinations for plumbing and milk inspectors, for inspectors in the engineering department, janitor of public schools, axeman in the engineer's department, trolley track inspector, bathhouse keeper, life saver, and drivers and caretakers of the engine houses.

The operation of the law seemed to be better understood and better appreciated during the year 1901 than the year previous; that is to say, that we met with no obstacles, but had the cooperation of the heads of the different departments. I take this occasion to say, in behalf of my associates and myself, who composed the late civil service board, that it was very unfortunate that the late mayor and the late board of aldermen saw fit to make wholesale removals of clerks and employees from office, some of whom had passed the civil service examination, and others, previous appointees, being protected by the law, because this has resulted in one law suit, and others, I understand, are to follow, and in consequence of this condition of things the present civil service board have refused to certify the pay-rolls. I remark upon this because it has a tendency to discredit civil service.

This communication can hardly be treated as a report, but if you should feel that you wanted any portion of it made a little nore formal for embodiment in your own reports please let now and I will do the best I can.

Very truly,

(Signed) QUINTON CORWINE

New York

NEW YORK, December 31, 190

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to the requirements of chapter 370 he laws of 1899 the municipal civil service commission of ity of New York submits this report of the manner in wh aid law and the rules and regulations thereunder have be dministered in said city.

Since January 1, 1901, there have been 170 examinatio hysical and mental, in the competitive class, in which 10, andidates competed; 1 non-competitive examination, in wh person was examined under rule XXXIV, for provisional ointment for one month upon the nomination of appointi fficers, where no appropriate eligible list existed; 4 non-co etitive examinations for reinstatement, in which 4 candida ere examined under the provisions of rule XLIII, and xaminations for promotion, in which 1362 candidates w xamined, making a total of 357 examinations held and a to f 11,797 persons examined during the year.

Details of the foregoing examinations, showing the nat nd results of the same, are given in tables hereto appended

The commission has strictly enforced the provisions of aw in respect to filling vacancies in the higher grades by p notion of those in the lower grades wherever practicable bef esorting to the eligible list for original appointment.

Due consideration has been given by the commission to co laints and appeals of candidates, and every effort has be nade to secure justice to all.

The rules requiring competition were suspended in only one instance, namely, in the employment of a number of inspectors of steel construction by the board of rapid transit railroad commissioners to inspect the construction of steel in the shops and mills at various cities without the state of New York, it appearing to the satisfaction of the commission that the position was one requiring peculiar and exceptional qualifications of a scientific and professional character, and that, after a competitive examination, only one person was willing to accept the employment, and therefore competition was not practicable. In lieu of the examination the rapid transit railroad commissioners were required to furnish to the municipal commission certificates as to the attainments of the appointees in the qualifications required.

The suspension of the rules above mentioned received the approval of the State Civil Service Commission.

Transfers from the exempt to the competitive class were allowed as follows:

Upon the request of the comptroller, dated April 8, 1901, the transfer of Eugene F. McLaughlin from the position of cashier in the bureau for the collection of assessments and arrears in the exempt class to that of assistant deputy collector of assessments and arrears in the same bureau in the finance department in the competitive class was allowed, it being shown to the satisfaction of the commission that the duties of the two positions were, in many respects, similar; that the experience gained by Mr. McLaughlin during six years of service as cashier in said bureau particularly qualified him for the discharge of the duties of assistant deputy collector, and it being further shown that the comptroller regarded the transfer as one that would greatly subserve the public interests.

The Brooklyn public library was authorized to transfer Mrs. Mary E. Gragie from the position of assistant librarian in the exempt class to that of assistant librarian in charge of branch library in the competitive class on the ground of her long and efficient service in the library and her special knowledge of the work.

Upon the request of the city judge, the recorder and the judges of the court of general sessions of the peace and with the consent of the Honorable Robert A. Van Wyck, mayor, the transfer of John F. Scully from the position of confidential messenger in the office of the mayor in the exempt class to that of attendant in the court of general sessions in the competitive class was allowed, it appearing that Mr. Scully had served for eight years as attendant in the city court, to which place he was appointed after a civil service examination; that the duties of attendant in the city court were similar to those of attendant in the general sessions, the attendants in both courts being appointed from the same eligible list as a result of the same examination, and that on January 1, 1898, Mr. Scully had been transferred to the exempted position of messenger in the mayor's office, where he had since served with credit.

The transfer of Mrs. Ida Clarke from bath attendant in the department of public buildings, lighting and supplies, a position in the second grade of compensation in the competitive class. to police matron in the police department, a position in the third grade in the same class, the compensation being fixed by law at $1000 per annum, was allowed at the request of the police commissioner, her name appearing upon the eligible list for the position to which the transfer was desired.

All other transfers allowed by the commission were granted under the provisions of rule XL, authorizing transfers within the competitive class and within the same grade of compensation.

A number of amendments to the rules and classification were made during the year, the changes made in the rules XXXVIII and LIV, relating to promotions in the uniformed forces of the police and fire departments being the most important.

As a result of an investigation held by the State Commission, the eligible list prepared for promotion to captain of police was canceled and set aside by the municipal commission, it appearing from such investigation that the examining board never had before it the certificates of the police commissioners as to the efficiency, character and conduct of the candidates for promotion intended by the civil service rules, and that therefore the test of actual service had never been applied to the candidates and their fitness for promotion had never been ascertained in the manner provided by the law and rules.

An application made by Sergeant Early for a peremptory writ of mandamus to compel the municipal commission to certify his name as eligible for promotion to the rank of captain of police, notwithstanding the action above recited, canceling the list, was denied by Mr. Justice Herrick at special term of the supreme court.

Hereafter under the revised charter the municipal commission itself will have power to make investigations concerning all matters touching the enforcement and effect of the provisions of the civil service law in so far as it applies to the city of New York—a power which has made investigations possible only through the co-operation of the State Commission.

The commission transmits with this report, as required by section 10 of the civil service law, a copy of the official roster of the classified civil service of the city of New York, which, at the date of this report, comprised 32,812 employees.

The provision of law as to the certification of pay-rolls by the commission, while carrying with it a great amount of responsibility and much attention to detail, has continued most effective in maintaining a strict observance of the civil service requirements in respect to public employment.

During the year just closed the commission verified the pay-rolls of 32,812 persons as to regularity of employment, and this involved the examination and comparison of 898,324 names, as follows:

Upon weekly rolls.....	645,352
Upon semi-monthly rolls.....	7,080
Upon monthly rolls.....	245,892

The refusal of the commission to attach its certificate to rolls in cases where the regularity of the employment was questioned has occasioned many applications to the courts.

In the case of the People ex rel. Leary v. Knox, 166 N. Y., 44, it was held that local acts giving the head of the police department power to promote officers for bravery without civil service examination were not affected by the civil service law.

In the matter of Allaire v. Knox, 62 App. Div., 29, affirmed without opinion by the court of appeals, 168 N. Y., held that a veteran has no preference for appointment or remedy by mandamus to enforce the same until he secures a place on the eligible list. The court will not review by mandamus the rejection of a veteran in a competitive examination.

People ex rel. Ludholtz v. Knox, 58 App. Div., 541, affirmed without opinion by the court of appeals, 167 N. Y., 620. In this case the court decided that an employee's grade in civil service rule XXXVII, is fixed by the position he holds and not by the compensation given. If his compensation is less than the minimum amount fixed for his grade by the civil service rules, the head of the department may raise his compensation to the maximum amount fixed for his position and the same is not a promotion which must be preceded by an examination.

The validity of the grading of positions in the competitive class, according to the fixed limit of compensation in group 4, rule XXXVII, in reference to requiring examinations for promotion in passing beyond the limits of the grades established by such group, has been questioned, and in the cases of Shields v. Knox and Kneeshaw v. Knox, at special term of the Supreme court, it was held that an examination was not required.

No attempt had been made by the commission to amend the rules to conform to the recent decisions of the courts. As numerous changes in the rules and classifications will probably be necessary under the revised charter of the city, the commission has preferred to leave the matter to its successors.

The municipal commission has aided the district attorney of the county in the prosecution of persons charged with violation of the civil service law and rules or with criminal offenses under the penal code. As the result of such prosecutions, three convictions have been had, and several charges are still pending in the criminal courts.

The appended tables will show that the labor bureau of the commission has received and filed during the year 8835 applications for schedule G positions, and that 5034 examinations were had, and that the number of appointments was 2331. The following tables and documents are appended to this report:

Table No. 3—Comparison of candidates examined in 1900 and 1901.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., January 10, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: Herewith the municipal civil service commission of the city of Niagara Falls submits its report for the year ending January 15, 1902.

During said period the commission has held two regular competitive examinations for obtaining, or supplementing, eligible lists in all positions in the competitive class, and four special examinations for supplying lists of patrolmen for special duty during the summer, for inspector of plumbing, and for health physician: It is noted that when a vacancy exists in a given position applicants for examination for such position are more numerous than when no immediate appointment is likely to be made, therefore the special examinations have been more successful than those held at fixed intervals and denominated "regular."

As appointing boards and officers have become more familiar with the working of the civil service law and rules less friction and difficulty has been experienced by the commission in its administration, and such boards and officers have greatly aided the commission in that particular during the past year. There have been some difficulties in the labor class, where, contrary to the conditions once existing in religious fields whereof it was said, "The harvest truly is great, but the laborers are few," the number of laborers is greatly in excess of the demand for their services, and it has required patience and tact on the part of the employing officer and the commission to follow the law and at the same time maintain the efficiency of the service without injustice and hardship to those seeking employment, but it is believed such has been accomplished by rotating the laborers, giving to each set a brief period of employment. This has been done, however, only in the class of work not requiring particular skill or experience and works well.

The commission has had less occasion for formal meetings than heretofore—an average of once a month has sufficed—the routine work having been done by the secretary under instruction of the commission. The expenses of the commission have been less the past year than formerly.

Appointments of special policemen for service during the summer, and whose terms expired November 1, 1901, were made from lists certified by the commission. At the expiration of the term of the city plumbing inspector such position was filled by selection from a list certified by the commission, the person having the highest rating being chosen. One employee in the engineer's department and one patrolman resigned. The vacancies thus created have not been filled. The service of one janitor in the police department was dispensed with, the station wherein he was employed having been discontinued. In other respects the personnel of the competitive class employed is unchanged from last year.

In conclusion the commission begs leave to thank those who have assisted it in administering the law and rules, as well as those who have rendered assistance in formulating tests for positions requiring technical knowledge beyond the scope of the average person's attainments.

Respectfully submitted.

Ogdensburg

OGDENSBURG, N. Y., January 4, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to the provisions of section 10 of chapter 370 of the laws of 1899 we herewith submit the following as the annual report of the municipal civil service commission of the city of Ogdensburg, N. Y., for the year ending December 31, 1901.

The commission at present consists of James E. Kelly, chairman, and Dr S. E. Brown. The third member, Frank Owen, resigned, said resignation having been received April 23, 1901, and no appointment has been made to fill the vacancy.

During the year there have been no changes in the official roster submitted to your board for the year ending December 31, 1900. We have not received any requisitions for eligible lists in either the competitive or non-competitive classes during the year. There have not been any vacancies or appointments in either of these classes.

We have from time to time furnished properly certified lists of laborers to the street, water and park departments.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Olean

OLEAN, N. Y., January 6, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to section 10, chapter 370, of the laws of the state of New York of the year 1899, I have the honor to submit the following report for the year 1901:

There has been little change on the books of the municipal civil service commission of Olean, N. Y., in regard to the persons employed in the classified service of the city, and with one or two exceptions the official roster is the same as it was for the year 1900.

Under rule XXII of the Olean municipal rules, the commission held a non-competitive examination of one person who was certified to the commission by the appointing officer of the fire department for the position of bunker. The needs of the service required that such position should be filled at once, and as there was no eligible list at the time, the commission held such examination and found that this person was qualified. His name appears in the annexed copy of the official roster, together with the date of his examination and appointment.

During the year 1901 twenty-six laborers have been registered in the labor class, five of whom belonged to the first grade, ten to the second grade, nine to the third and the balance to the fourth grade of the labor class.

There is one position in the city's classified service which is not filled at this time, but for which an examination is intended to be held in the near future as soon as the necessary arrangements can be made for that purpose. The commission refers to the office of inspector of plumbing.

It is believed that the operation of the civil service law, so far as it is applicable to city government, has given general satisfaction in the city of Olean. The pay-rolls of said city are stamped with the certificate of the commission that the persons named therein have been appointed or employed pursuant to the rules and regulations of the civil service, and it is believed that everything has been done in compliance with the rules of the said commission and the law of the state in every respect so far as the commission has been able to understand the said laws. It has been the aim of the municipal civil service commission of the city of Olean to enforce the civil service law and to carry out its provisions in every respect, and it is thoroughly convinced that that aim has been attained and that the results have been highly satisfactory to the people of our city.

Annexed hereto appears a copy of the official roster of the classified service of this city.

Oneida

ONEIDA, N. Y., January 7, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: Referring to your communication under date of January 2, 1902, there have been no appointments made in the classified service of this city since the approval of our rules by the State Commission on July 2, 1901.

As we understand section 10, chapter 370 of the laws of 1899, and rule XXXV of this commission, the official roster applies only to persons appointed, employed, promoted or reinstated in conformity with the provisions of the law and our rules.

If we are in error, and the roster should contain the names of those appointed prior to July 2, 1901, we will furnish such roster.

Yours respectfully,

An examination for fire marshal was also held during the year. Two applications were received for said examination, only one passing successfully, viz: Thomas Redmond, 93 per cent.

The above named person was duly certified and was thereafter appointed fire mashal.

On December 16, 1901, an examination was held for the position of janitor of the Oswego normal school; this examination was held under the joint auspices of the local and State Board and the records and results of said examination are now on file in your office.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., January 13, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: Report of the municipal civil service commissioners of the city of Poughkeepsie for the year 1901:

Charles P. Colwell, E. B. Sweet, E. T. Sisson, civil service commissioners. Hon. George Hines, mayor.

This city is now working under the civil service rules and everything is apparently satisfactory.

The commissioners met at different periods during the year whenever it was necessary.

There have been examinations held for patrolmen, firemen, assistant engineer, clerk, health warden, etc.

There have been appointments made to the positions mentioned above, and a record is kept of all persons who have successfully passed the different examinations.

We feel that the civil service as now conducted is giving entire satisfaction.

Respectfully yours,

Rensselaer

RENSSELAER, N. Y., January 15, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: We, the undersigned, constituting the municipal civil service commission of the city of Rensselaer, do file the following report, as such, to and for the term of our appointment.

No written report has been heretofore made by us for reasons hereafter appearing.

The members of this commission consisted originally of Messrs. Lewis H. Curreen, George Strohmaier and T. Almern Griffin, appointed in January, 1900.

Upon entering upon the duties of the commission we found a state of affairs not encouraging.

With a charter practically removing fully 75 per cent of the few public offices in existence without the jurisdiction of the commission, and in addition a classification that exempted fully 75 per cent of the remaining 25 per cent of positions, the field left was not only small but barren.

The commission held its first meeting for organization on February 10, 1900, and directed the secretary to examine rules and classifications with a view to amendment, and obtain from the city clerk the papers, etc., of the former commission.

We found on entering upon the duties of the commission no printed rules, as required by statutes, and no papers excepting a copy of the rules and classifications adopted by the former commission, and no evidence of any proceedings or transactions of the former commission.

On February 14, 1900, amendments to the rules and classification had been approved and adopted, conforming to the charter of the city and requirements of the positions reclassified.

As no appointments were made for sometime thereafter, the commission were left without further duties to perform.

At the time of the adoption of the rules as amended an appropriation was requested from the common council for printing the rules, etc., as required by law, but refused, of which this commission made report to your honorable body.

Aside from the registration of street laborers, but few matters came before the commission for the remainder of the year.

In the spring of 1900 the membership of Mr. Griffin became vacant by removal from the city, and during the summer Commissioner Strohmaier resigned his office. The mayor appointed George Zepf to fill vacancy caused by resignation of Mr.

Strohmaier and subsequently appointed Lewis Near commissioner in place of Mr. Griffin, and Mr. Griffin as secretary of the commission.

During the year 1900 but little was done by this commission, excepting an endeavor to have their rules printed without avail, and early in the spring of 1901, after the matter was called to the attention of the State Commission, the rules of this commission were duly printed and filed with the State Commission on July 14, 1901.

During this period of seeming inactivity, several appointments to the public service in the city had been made to fill vacancies, coming within the provisions of the rules and classification of the civil service commission; but the appointees evidently ignored this commission until the city treasurer upon notification from the commission refused to pay salaries.

This effectual notification of the actual existence of a municipal civil service commission in the city of Rensselaer resulted in an examination for the position of sanitary inspector and health officer, which we submit was not a farce but a fair examination for the duties of the positions. Two other appointees, one an assessor, another a commissioner of charities, have not qualified under the rules of this commission and raise a presumptive question as to the legality of any of their acts, that of the assessor particularly involving the liability of the city.

We report an actual register of the city laborers since entering upon the duties of the office and a certificate as to such employment regularly issued each month to the city treasurer before any claims were paid, and an attempt, although by surrounding circumstances rendered somewhat abortive, to enforce the law.

With the narrow limits of a small city and as many positions as possible removed beyond the jurisdiction of the commission, and the remainder filled prior to our assuming office, our efforts were naturally limited, and when to this is added the fact that we were considered as obstructionists and nonentities, we possibly have performed all that we could, although not as fully in requirements of statute as we may have desired.

With the increasing of the limits of the municipality, the increase of positions necessary and the appointments under the newer city, we leave to our successors a wider field and better opportunity for carrying into effect the rules of civil service in the city of Rensselaer.

Rochester

ROCHESTER, N. Y., January 29, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: The municipal civil service commission of the city of Rochester, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 370 of the laws of 1899, submit this report of the manner in which said law and the rules and regulations thereunder have been administered in this city during the year 1901.

At the beginning of the present year the commission was reorganized by the appointment of two commissioners and a new secretary. It will be impracticable for this commission to make such report of what was done by the Rochester commission during the year 1901 as could be made by the outgoing commission, who undoubtedly are more familiar with their own work. To remedy the matter in the future I would here suggest an amendment to the law requiring all reports to be filed by the first day of January, thus making it the duty of the commission to make the report before the expiration of their term of office.

The rules of the Rochester commission were approved by the mayor and Rochester commissioners and by the State Commissioners on January 1, 1900, and went into immediate operation, the only amendments thereto during the past year being section 2 of rule XXXVII, changing the minimum age of candidates for positions in the police department to twenty-one years instead of twenty-three, and to rule XXXIX, adding to the list in the competitive class the position of blacksmith.

The records of the past year show that between January 1 and December 31, 1901, twelve examinations in the competitive class were held, in which 499 candidates competed. In seven of these examinations the mental test was accompanied by a physical examination and in three by a practical test. Four promotion examinations were held during the year.

The table appended hereto shows in detail the number and nature of the examinations, the number of candidates examined at each and the results of the examinations.

Copies of the questions in each examination are hereto annexed.

Appeals of candidates from the decisions of the examiners have been heard and considered by the commission, and in several cases the original ratings have been changed.

The expenses of the commission for the year have aggregated $1,875 for salaries, compensation for special examiners and stationery and supplies, leaving a balance of the $2,000 appropriation for this department of $125 at the end of the year.

The rulings of the commission have twice been the subject of investigation by the courts. In the case of Lee J. Rowley, referred to in the annual report of last year, the commission has been governed in their action by the ruling of the Honorable James M. Dunwell, justice of the supreme court, a copy of the order and judgment being hereto attached.

As a result of the promotion examination for captain in the police department, James E. Ryan appealed on the rating, manner of marking and procedure of the examination. He secured a temporary injunction restraining the commission from certifying, completing and confirming the list as announced after compiling the general results. This matter is still in litigation.

In only two instances the commission has requested legal opinion from the corporation counsel; copies of these opinions are hereto annexed.

The commission is required by the civil service law to keep an official roster of the classified civil service of the city and to transmit a copy of the same to the State Commission with this report. So far as possible such roster has been prepared, and a copy thereof showing the names, positions and compensation of all persons in the classified service as shown by the roster is 751. (Appendix 5.)

In conclusion the present commission begs to assure you that during their administration they will endeavor to administer the civil service law according to the constitution and the statutes as relating to civil service.

Respectfully submitted.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., February 1, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: Persuant to section 10, chapter 370, laws of 1899, the municipal civil service commission of the city of Syracuse submits its annual report for the year 1901. There has been no change in the membership of the commission since its last annual report was submitted.

The aim of the commission during the past year has been to carry out the intent of the civil service law of the state of New York and of the municipal civil service rules and regulations.

In accordance with the desire of the State Civil Service Commission, it was decided to create the position of chief examiner to whom would be intrusted the duty of conducting the various examinations which would be ordered from time to time by the commission. At the request of the commission Chas. S. Fowler, chief examiner of the State Civil Service Commission, took charge of the examination. The result of that examination was submitted to this commission on January 2, 1901. On January 5, 1901, by unanimous vote of the commission Herbert B. Myron was appointed chief examiner, the appointment taking effect January 15, 1901.

During the past year the chief examiner has had entire supervision of all examinations ordered by the commission. We believe that under this system the needs of the public service are better provided for and that the rights of the individual applicant for employment in the public service are better protected.

The rules and regulations of the civil service were amended with the approval of the State Commission by adding to the exempt class of the classified service the position of "five city marshals," and to the competitive class the position of inspector of vacancies in the water department.

The following schedules of subjects and relative weights were adopted:

*Papers not rated.

I have endeavored to make all my examinations practical. It has been my aim to test the applicant's ability to perform the duties of the special position for which he is trying rather than his general ability. Whenever occasion demanded I was assisted by the heads of the various departments in preparing questions of a technical character, etc.

I have adopted the State Civil Service system of conducting examinations, preparing questions, rating papers, and filing reports in so far as they were applicable to our conditions.

I desire to express my gratitude to Charles S. Fowler, chief examiner of the State Civil Service Commission, for the valuable assistance he has rendered me on many occasions.

Troy

TROY, N. Y., January 30, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: In compliance with section 10, chapter 370, of the laws of 1899, we herewith present the report of the municipal civil service commission of the city of Troy, N. Y.

The appropriation made for the commission by the board of estimate and apportionment, and confirmed by the common council, was $3,050. The commission was charged with the duty of qualifying 432 election officials, including 216 inspectors, 108 poll clerks, 108 ballot clerks, the names being certified to the mayor by the republican and democratic county committees.

Laborers to the number of 450 were registered, this unusual number due to the construction of an addition to our water-works system.

Eighty-one meetings were held during the year, 100 applications were filed, 30 examinations conducted and 84 persons qualified for positions; 66 persons were employed, leaving only 18 qualified persons still unemployed.

Our police force has been increased during the year by ordinance of the common council by one sergeant and twelve patrolmen. The positions were filled by promotion from the regular force and the new appointees were made supernumeraries.

The public works department employed additional street superintendents to the number of 6, who were appointed on the certificate of this commission that the appointees had complied with the law requirements.

The commission has conducted its examinations according to the law and the rules and regulations recommended by your commission, particular attention being paid to the certification of pay-rolls, salary drafts and all claims where services are paid for of a character other than contract work.

Every department of the city government has contributed its full share in observing the civil service law.

We submit a full list of the employees of the city, elective and appointive, as a part of this report.

Respectfully submitted.

UTICA, N. Y., December 31, 1901

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: In pursuance of the provisions of the state civil service law, I herewith submit to you my annual report for the year just closed, as follows:

The civil service commission of the city of Utica is composed of Messrs. Francis K. Baxter, chairman; Charles H. Poole and Lotus N. Southworth, and the secretary of the commission is William J. Cahill.

The commission held 22 meetings for the purpose of certifying to pay-rolls and conducting examinations. One person was examined in the non-competitive class, and one hundred and nine in the competitive class.

One hundred and forty-five applications were filed for examination in the competitive and non-competitive classes, and sixty applications for registry on the labor list.

The civil service law is being enforced in all of the departments and commissions of this city, and has been strongly supported by the mayor.

Respectfully submitted.

Watertown

WATERTOWN, N. Y., January 13, 1902

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: In compliance with section 10 of chapter 370 of the laws of 1899, we herewith present to your honorable commission the report of the municipal civil service commission of the city of Watertown, N. Y.

This commission was appointed October 21, 1898, and at that time consisted of James M. Dorsey, Gary M. Jones and George W. Reeves. The same commissioners still remain in office, except George W. Reeves, who resigned. In his place

Charles J. Bellinger was appointed. John H. O'Brien was appointed secretary October 7, 1899, and still continues to act. Our rules and regulations went into effect in this city September 26, 1899.

Since making our last report our rules have been so amended that we can report that they are now being enforced in a very satisfactory way. It is with pleasure that we report that the appointing heads realize that they must recognize the civil service law, and are appreciating in a way its advantages.

Since our last report we have furnished lists from which the following appointments have been made: 3 promotions to captaincies in the fire department, 1 driver in fire department, 2 firemen, 1 callman, 1 foreman of public works.

In conclusion we will say that the law is being strictly enforced in every class, except the labor class. In this class we are forced to allow considerable leeway for the same reasons set forth in our report of last year. With this single exception and one or two isolated cases, we can say that the civil service law is being applied in this city in a very satisfactory manner.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Watervliet

WATERVLIET, N. Y., December 31, 1901

To the State Civil Service Commission:

GENTLEMEN: The municipal civil service commission of the city of Watervliet hereby respectfully submits the following report for the year ending December 31, 1901:

The commissioners who were appointed by Honorable Abram Hilton, mayor of the city of Watervliet, upon assuming their office decided that certain changes in the classification of the employees would operate to the improvement of the civil service.

The changes which were made were approved by the mayor and received the approval of your honorable body February 20, 1901. Each department is now rated and graded according to law and the rules and regulations which have been approved by your honorable body.

During the year the municipal commission has received 31 applications for 8 different positions. Eight competitive examinations have been held, at which 28 applicants have been examined. The applications of three persons have been approved, but the applicants have not yet been examined.

The eligible lists have been revised and the names of 4 persons have been taken from the eligible lists, their eligibility having ceased upon the establishment of new lists and upon due notice according to law. The names of 20 persons have been certified by the secretary of the different boards of the city for 5 different positions. From these certifications 7 appointments have been made, including one veteran. One name upon the eligible lists has been given a new rating as the result of a new competitive examination. One non-competitive examination has been held and one person appointed as a result of the same.

In the labor class there have been 8 persons registered and one appointment has been made from that class. There are at present on the eligible lists the names of 28 persons for the 9 different positions.

The commission has held 15 meetings and has endeavored to be perfectly fair and just in its examinations of each applicant for a position, basing its decision upon the merits of the answers given to the questions propounded by the board and due consideration has been given in each case to the previous experience of the applicant.

The commission has always given to the veterans of the late civil war the preference to which they are entitled under the law.

The civil service law is being enforced in all its details and all record books, etc., required to be kept are kept.

Proper certification has been made by the secretary of all pay-rolls of the different departments of the city.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Digest of decisions affecting the civil service law and rules, or relating to appointments and removals in the civil service, rendered by the supreme court and the court of appeals during the year 1901

ACTION FOR SALARY

A clerk in a department of one of the cities which was consolidated into the present city of New York, who has been assigned, by a proper certificate, to a department in the consolidated city, which has not been since abolished, and who has duly reported for work in such department and has not been discharged or removed, may maintain an action for his salary, and a defense that as a simple public employee he cannot recover compensation except for services rendered, his salary not being an incident to his position, cannot be sustained, even assuming that the action covers a period of time during a portion of which he did not actually render services, although ready and willing to do so, since a refusal to give him work was not equivalent to a dismissal which can only be made for cause, in conformity with the provisions of the city charter. (Graham v. City of New York, 167 N. Y. 85.)

CERTIFICATION OF PAY-ROLL

The fact that the assignment of members of the police force of the city of New York to duty in the sanitary squad was irregular, in that their fitness was not ascertained in the manner required by the statute, will not justify the municipal civil service commission in refusing to certify the pay-rolls of the men so assigned, as they are entitled to their salaries not because they are detailed to the service of the board of health but because they are members of the police force. (Stone v. N. Y. Civil Service Commission, 63 App. Div. 273.)

CERTIORARI

The special provisions of section 184 of the charter of cities of the second class, relating to removal of members of the police force, do not constitute the determination of the commissioner of public safety in such a case a judicial determination, and consequently such a removal cannot be reviewed by certiorari. (People ex rel. Graveline v. Ham, 59 App. Div. 314.)

The validity of the removal of a school commissioner of Troy by the mayor of that city, without charges or hearing or any proceeding of judicial nature, cannot be reviewed by a writ of certiorari. The mayor's assumption that he had power under the statute to remove the commissioner at pleasure is not a judicial determination that can be reviewed by certiorari. (People ex rel. Howe v. Conway, 59 App. Div. 329.)

The action of the fire commissioners of Long Island City in removing the engineer of the fire department of that city for incapacity cannot be reviewed by certiorari where the statute under which they acted prescribes no condition or form preliminary to removal and does not authorize the issuance of a writ of certiorari to review the determination of the commissioners. (People ex rel. Paynter v. Gleason, 63 App. Div. 435.)

The duty imposed upon municipal civil service commissioners "to prescribe, amend and enforce rules for the classification of the offices, places and employments in the classified service, and for appointments and promotions therein and examinations therefor," is in its nature administrative rather than judicial, and consequently their action in classifying a position under a particular schedule is not reviewable by certiorari. (People ex rel. Mack v. Burt, 65 App. Div. 157.)

The fact that the commissioner of buildings of the borough of Brooklyn granted to an inspector of buildings a hearing upon charges preferred against him prior to his removal, when he was not bound to do so, did not make the proceeding a judicial one or confer upon the inspector any right to a writ of certiorari. (People ex rel. Scheel v. Guilfoyle, 65 App. Div. 498.)

The fact that a school janitor in New York city was given a hearing upon charges, before a committee of the school board, pursuant to one of its by-laws, does not make the action of the school board in adopting the report of the committee and dismissing the janitor a judicial determination which can be reviewed by certiorari. (People ex rel. Purcell v. Simonson, 66 App. Div. 18.)

Removal of subordinate holding a position subject to competitive examination, who has had an opportunity to make an explanation, where the reasons for the removal are stated in writing, are filed in the department and upon their face are entirely sufficient to justify it, is not a judicial act in nature or in character, and is therefore not reviewable by certiorari. (People ex rel. Kennedy v. Brady, 166 N. Y. 44.)

CITIES OF THE SECOND CLASS

The common council of the city of Albany has power under the uniform charter for cities of the second class to abolish the position of station-house keeper. (People ex rel. Dunn v. Ham, 166 N. Y. 477; reversing same case, 57 App. Div. 367.)

The provisions of the uniform charter for cities of the second class in regard to the fixing of salaries are discussed in Pryor v. City of Rochester, 57 App. Div. 486; 166 N. Y. 548.

CLASSIFICATION

Semble, that a city treasurer's clerk, whose duties are not wholly clerical but involve the handling of city moneys for which the treasurer is personally responsible, is to be regarded as a confidential appointee, is exempt from passing a civil service examination, and the municipal civil service commission has no power to declare the position competitive.

Where, however, the appointee alleges in an action for his salary that the commission has included his position in the competitive class and it does not appear that he has passed a civil service examination before appointment, his complaint states

no cause of action as his appointment is illegal, being in violation of the rules of the commission, and further, because he could not recover his salary until the city pay-roll had been certified by the commission. (Rowley v. City of Rochester, 34 Misc. 291.)

A person appointed as a deputy sheriff and assigned to take charge of the steam heating apparatus in a county jail but who was expected to and did, in fact, act as a turnkey or deputy sheriff whenever called upon so to do, which was almost every night, occupies a confidential position and is exempt from competitive examination under the civil service law. (Matter of Blust v. Collier, 62 App. Div. 478.)

EXAMINATION—RATING NOT REVIEWABLE

Under the civil service law the question of fitness in civil service examinations is not open to review, and where civil service commissioners give a candidate for police captain a rating of zero as to physical fitness it is final and disqualifies him from being placed on the eligible list. (Matter of Allaire v. Knox, 33 Misc. 555; 62 App. Div. 29.)

MANDAMUS

Not the proper remedy where two appointees claim the same position. (People ex rel. Gaffigan v. Nickerson, 56 App. Div. 588.)

The verdict of a jury rendered in a mandamus proceeding upon the trial of the issue whether the abolition of the veteran's position was in good faith and for the purpose of economy is of the same force as a verdict rendered in an ordinary action at law. (People ex rel. Nason v. Feitner, 58 App. Div. 594.)

The fact that papers submitted in opposition to a motion for a peremptory writ of mandamus to procure the reinstatement of a veteran discharged from a position in the civil service contains several denials of matters alleged in the petition, which, however, were not essential to show the relator's right to reinstatement, does not require the denial of the motion if, under the law, the veteran is entitled to reinstatement. (Matter of Stutzbach v. Coler, 62 App. Div. 219.)

Where a veteran brings a mandamus proceeding to enforce his right to preference in appointment to a position already filled by the appointment of another incumbent, such incumbent must be made a party to the proceeding. (People ex rel. Mesick v. Scannell, 63 App. Div. 243.)

A determination by a police surgeon of the city of Rochester, after a physical examination made pursuant to section 34 of chapter 193 of the laws of 1888, added thereto by chapter 484 of the laws of 1900, that a member of the then existing park police force was not physically qualified for police duty on account of his diminutive stature, is judicial in its character and cannot be reviewed by mandamus. (People ex rel. Apfel v. Casey, 66 App. Div. 211.)

POLICE AND FIRE

The commissioner of public safety in cities of the second class has jurisdiction to hear and determine charges preferred against a member of the fire department for offences committed prior to the creation of the office of commissioner of public safety. A statute changing the tribunal before which such charges are to be heard is not retroactive, as it does not affect the offence itself or the question of the penalty. (People ex rel. Spain v. Coyle, 55 App. Div. 223.)

Evidence insufficient to sustain a removal. (People ex rel. Shires v. Magee, 57 App. Div. 281.)

The mayor of a city who is the legally constituted tribunal to hear and determine charges preferred against a member of the police force has jurisdiction to hear and determine charges of misconduct committed prior to the commencement of his term of office. Bias or prejudice on the part of the mayor is not a ground of reversal of his determination. (People ex rel. Miller v. Elmendorf, 57 App. Div. 340.)

Section 165 of the charter of the city of Elmira regulating the trial upon charges of misconduct of members of the fire department of that city before the board of fire commissioners, which provides that the accused member shall not be suspended for a longer period than thirty days "without an opportunity of being heard in his defence, and that upon hearing the defense in the case the majority of such commissioners may discharge or restore such member," contemplates a proceeding judicial in its character reviewable by certiorari. The accused member is entitled to defend himself at the trial by counsel, and the denial of this right constitutes an error which will render the proceeding illegal. (People ex rel. Ellett v. Flood, 64 App. Div. 209.)

The rule of the Greater New York charter fixing salaries of police officers transferred upon consolidation discussed. (Martin v. State of New York, 34 Misc. 582.)

Rule for determining guilt of police officer on trial for charges, New York city. (People ex rel. Clark v. Roosevelt, 168 N. Y. 488.)

Telegraph linemen of the Brooklyn police department did not become patrolmen in the New York force under the charter of 1897, nor entitled to patrolmen's salary. (Higgins v. City of New York, 67 App. Div. 173.)

An order retiring a fireman of the city of New York who is a veteran of the civil war for defective vision, signed by the commissioner two weeks beforehand and upon his departure from the city, prepared before a medical examiner of the fireman required by the department had taken place, approved as to its issue upon a telephonic communication had by employees of the commissioner with him at the place to which he had gone, and apparently designed to prevent a promotion to which the fireman was entitled as first on an eligible list, is invalid. The fire commissioner acts in a quasi judicial capacity when retiring a member of the department, and is by statute required "to determine the circumstances", and such a state of facts does not indicate the exercise of any discretion upon his part in making the retirement. (People ex rel. Williamson v. Scannell, 34 Misc. 709.)

The assignment of a patrolman on the police force of the city of New York to duty as a roundsman is a promotion, and under sections 288 and 304 of the Greater New York charter and the civil service law can only be made after a competitive examination. (People ex rel. Colbert v. Knox, 57 App. Div. 155.)

The power of the police board of the former city of New York to promote, with the approval of the mayor, a member of the police force for special and particular acts of heroism and his right to receive such promotion still exists unaffected by any constitutional or statutory provisions regulating appointments and promotions in the civil service and providing for a competitive examination "when practicable." The civil service statutes and the Greater New York charter itself contains exceptions which preserve the right of a member of the police force appointed before that charter took effect to promotion for a particular act of gallantry performed thereafter by providing that the authority conferred thereby shall not be so exercised as to take from any policeman or fireman any right or benefit conferred by law or existing under any lawful regulations of the department in which he serves, and such language is broad enough to embrace rights or benefits not then in possession or enjoyment, but in expectancy under any law which entitled him to special honors or rewards for some particular meritorious act while in the service, and he is therefore properly promoted without passing a civil service examination. (People ex rel. Leary v. Knox, 166 N. Y. 444; reversing same case, 54 App. Div. 634.)

The grade of an employee in the service of a municipality, appointed after passing a competitive examination, is fixed by the position for which he passed the examination and which he actually occupies and not by the salary which he received when appointed. A candidate having passed a competitive examination for the position of topographical draughtsman received a permanent appointment to that position at a salary of $1320 a year, which was less than the minimum salary of the grade in which the position of draughtsman was classified. Subsequently his superior increased his salary to $1800 a year, which was the maximum salary attached to the grade in which the position was classified. Held that the increase of salary did not constitute a promotion within section 15 of the civil service law. (People ex rel. Lodholz v. Knox, 58 App. Div. 541.)

PROBATIONARY TERM

A veteran appointed to a position for the probationary term of three months cannot be removed during the probationary period except upon charges and after hearing. (People ex rel. Hoeges v. Guilfoyle, 61 App. Div. 187.)

PROVISIONAL APPOINTMENT

Rule XXXIV of the New York city civil service rules providing that where there is a vacancy in the competitive class and no eligible lists a provisional appointment may in case of urgency be made after non-competitive examination, but that such appointment shall continue for only one month, and that any such appointment made before the promulgation of the rules on July 11, 1899, shall continue but a month longer, is a rule authorized by the civil service law and applies to the municipal court of the city of New York and to its attendants; and therefore an attendant appointed without competitive examination and before such promulgation is entitled at most to salary for only one month thereafter. The appointee could not receive successive temporary appointments to the same position. (Ulrich v. City of N. Y., 33 Misc. 508.)

REINSTATEMENT

Rule XLIII of the civil service rules of the city of New York relating to the reinstatement of employees who resign, which provides, "If such employment was after due certification for the same, under these rules or under the civil service statutes in force at the time the examinations were held, or if such person shall have passed the examination or attained a place upon the eligible list for such position, such person may be re-employed without further examination. If it was not subject to these rules or to such statutes, such person may be re-employed upon passing an examination pursuant to these rules," furnishes the only authority for reappointing employees who voluntarily resign.

Where such an employee, who had never passed a civil service examination, and whose position from which he had resigned at the time of his original appointment thereto was not subject to civil service rules or regulations, submits to and fails to pass a civil service examination for reinstatement in his position for appointment to which an examination had been made necessary and pending an appeal to the chief examiner the appointing power reinstates him in his position, "subject to the civil service rules and regulations," and thereafter the chief examiner dismisses the appeal, the employee, notwithstanding the fact that after his reinstatement by the appointing power and before the dismissal of his appeal, he entered upon the performance of his duties and continued to perform them for several months does not come within the provision above quoted of rule XLIII, and is not entitled to a writ of mandamus compelling the civil service commissioners to certify his name upon the pay-roll. (People ex rel. Gumprecht v. Knox, 66 App. Div. 517.)

REMOVAL AND REINSTATEMENT

A regular clerk in the department of buildings in the city of New York was served with notice of the commissioner's intention of removing him because of absence without leave and failure to notify the department of his change of residence, and was given opportunity to make an explanation in writing. He accordingly submitted a written explanation which did not deny the truth of the charges but attempted to explain them. The commissioner refused to allow him to introduce testimony establishing the truth of the facts set out in the explanation and removed him. Held that the relator was not entitled to give any evidence establishing the truth of his explanation; that when he had offered his explanation it was for the commissioner to say whether it was satisfactory and that the commissioner's conclusion could not be reviewed by the courts. (People ex rel. Hart v. Brady, 58 App. Div. 219.)

The failure of a person who claims that he was illegally removed from a position on January 3, 1898, to institute proceedings to compel his reinstatement until July 1, 1900, constitutes laches. The claim that at the time he was removed the law governing his right to secure reinstatement and the method of procedure were doubtful and unsettled, and that the first decisions settling the law on the subject of removal had been then recently rendered does not excuse the delay. (Matter of Murphy v. Kellar, 61 App. Div. 145.)

A person unlawfully removed from a position in the civil service who does not institute proceedings to compel his reinstatement until after the officer removing him dies and his successor is appointed, has no standing to enforce his right to reinstatement by a writ of mandamus directed to the deceased officer's successor unless it appears that he made a demand upon such successor for restoration to his position prior to beginning the proceeding. (People ex rel. Taylor v. Welde, 61 App. Div. 580.)

Rule XLII of the New York city civil service rules is invalid in so far as it requires a statement of the cause of removal to be served upon the appointee or employee (not a regular clerk, the head of a bureau, a veteran, or exempt fireman) and that he be afforded an opportunity to present an explanation in writing as being a substantial limitation upon the power of removal conferred on the heads of departments by section 643 of the charter. Chapter 183 of the laws of 1898 only operated to supersede section 1543 in part, and upon the repeal of that

A school attendance officer in New York city is not a member of the "educational staff" entitled to retention until "removal for cause" under section 1117 of the charter. (People ex rel. Kinney v. White, 64 App. Div. 390.)

A janitor of a public school, transferred to the service of the school board of the present city of New York by section 1536 of the Greater New York charter, which provides in section 1075 thereof that "Janitors may be removed by the school board on complaint of the principal of the school, the superintendent of school buildings, or a member of the school board," may be removed without a trial or a judicial hearing. (People ex rel. Purcell v. Simonson, 66 App. Div. 18.)

A bath attendant of the city of New York receiving three dollars a day is to be classed in schedule F of the classified civil service; he cannot be removed peremptorily, and where his place has not been filled he can recover his wages where he, although ready to serve, was prevented from so doing by his superior officer. (Holt v. City of New York, 35 Misc. 642.)

REMOVAL AND REINSTATEMENT—VETERANS AND EXEMPT FIREMEN

While the constitution provides for a preference of veterans in appointment and promotion in the civil service within the state and does not in terms or otherwise provide that they shall be continued in the public service in preference to other employees, the legislature, although it cannot enact laws repugnant to the provision of the constitution, may legislate farther in that direction if in its judgment it ever seems wise to do so, and as it created the civil service system in this state substantially as it now is before there was any constitutional provision on the subject, so it is within its power to place a limit upon the removal of veterans employed in the public service as has been done by the provisions of section 21 of the civil service law. (Matter of Stutzbach v. Coler, 168 N. Y. 416.)

A veteran volunteer fireman, in absence of notice to the appointing power of his claim to preference as such, may be removed in the same manner as if he were not entitled to such protection. Notice that he is a veteran volunteer fireman served upon the appointing power after his removal is ineffective. (People ex rel. Carll v. White, 59 App. Div. 17. Contra Matter of Stutzbach v. Coler, 62 App. Div. 219, 168 N. Y. 416.)

A veteran holding a position in the civil service may be removed for the reason that the position which he occupies is abolished on economical grounds, and its duties may be attached to the existing office held by a person not a veteran. (People ex rel. Nason v. Feitner, 58 App. Div. 594.)

Upon the trial of a janitor who is a veteran upon a charge that he failed to properly clean and keep in order a building to which he had been assigned the janitor should, after evidence has been given in support of the charges, be allowed to state and prove whether or not it was possible for him to keep the building clean with the force with which he was supplied and whether the building was in fact clean during the period in question. He should also be allowed to present testimony tending to show that the person who preferred the charges was not actuated by a proper motive but by pique or ill feeling. The burden of proof is on the party who preferred the charges and if he fails to sustain them, the accused is entitled to have the charges dismissed. (People ex rel. Keane v. Dooling, 60 App. Div. 321.)

A veteran village officer appointed for a definite term fixed by the charter need not be reappointed at the end of the term. He is not, after the expiration of such term, an employee of the village who cannot be removed except after hearing upon charges. (People ex rel. Curran v. Board of Trustees, 61 App. Div. 71.)

wrote a letter to his superior officer requesting reinstatement, and upon the failure of the officer to comply with such demand instituted on November 27, 1900, a mandamus proceeding to secure his reinstatement, is guilty of such laches as requires the denial of the relief sought. Semble, that the most to which he would be entitled would be to be reinstated for the unexpired term of the probationary period, as at the expiration of the probationary term he could be lawfully dismissed without a trial or hearing. (People ex rel. Hoeges v. Guilfoyle, 61 App. Div. 187.)

The removal of a veteran without charges, notice or opportunity to be heard is not unlawful if the removing officer had no knowledge at the time of the removal that he was a veteran; but if the employee after his removal notifies the appointing officer that he is a veteran and demands reinstatement, he is entitled to be reinstated provided he has not been guilty of such laches as constitutes a waiver of his legal right. (Matter of Stutzbach v. Coler, 62 App. Div. 219.)

A veteran of the civil war who desires to avail himself of the preference in regard to removal from a position in the service must give to the appointing power notice of the facts which entitle him to such privilege. Such a notice after he has been dismissed from his position is ineffectual to secure his reinstatement. (People ex rel. Dixon v. Simonson, 64 App. Div. 312. Contra Matter of Stutzbach v. Coler, 62 App. Div. 219, 168 N. Y. 416.)

The provisions of the New York charter, sections 646 and 648, defining the powers of the commissioner of buildings in regard to discipline and removal of his subordinates was not intended to override the restriction in relation to the discharge of veterans imposed by the veteran act and the civil service law. (People ex rel. Thane v. Constable, 65 App. Div. 176.)

The fact that when the relator was discharged the appointing officer did not know that he was a veteran does not affect the relator's right to reinstatement. (Matter of Pratt v. Phelan, 67 App. Div. 349.)

A deputy city clerk appointed as such and assigned to the borough of Queens is not entitled to the protection of the civil service law and the charter provisions against removal of regular clerks, etc., even though he be an exempt fireman, and being alone in the branch office performs all its work and is the caretaker of the records and papers of that particular office. He does not by the performance of these duties become a clerk but remains at all times a deputy, and as such is not protected from summary removal by any statute. (People ex rel. McGraw v. Scully, 35 Misc. 613.)

SALARIES

The civil service rules do not fix salaries but merely establish a classification. The fact that his position comes within the grade described in the rules as "Fourth grade, draughtsman—Annual compensation of more than $1320, but not more than $1800," that being the lowest grade in which the position of draughtsman is mentioned, does not entitle a draughtsman whose salary has been fixed by the head of the department in which he is employed at the sum of $900 per annum to at least $1320 per annum. (Powell v. City of New York, 65 App. Div. 421.)

SCHOOL JANITORS—NEW YORK CITY

1 The names of cleaners employed by a school janitor in New York city at his own expense should not be carried on the monthly pay-roll submitted to the civil service commission for certification. . (Matter of Dowling, 35 Misc. 316.)

2 The fact that a janitor of a public school in the city of New York employs and pays, out of his own salary, persons not taken from the civil service eligible list, to aid him in the performance of his duties by sweeping, scrubbing and similar labor, and that there is in the classified civil service of the city of New York a similar position known as "cleaner," the holder of which performs like services, does not justify the civil service commission in refusing to certify such janitor's name upon the city pay-roll and thus prevent him from obtaining his salary.

Quære, whether the rule that no officers, having the power of appointment or employment, shall select or appoint any person for appointment or employment except in accordance with the civil service law applies to janitors of public schools. (Matter of Doyle, 67 App. Div. 231.)

VETERAN PREFERENCE

A veteran who submits to a competitive civil service examination for promotion and receives thereon a rating which renders him ineligible is not entitled to review the rating of the examiners by mandamus. The preference accorded to veterans, for a refusal to allow which the remedy of mandamus is given, is to an appointment where the veteran's name appears upon the eligible list; it does not entitle him to a preference in being placed upon such list. (Matter of Allaire v. Knox, 62 App. Div. 29.)

A veteran deprived of any right of preference in appointment or promotion has a remedy by mandamus, and it is not a sufficient answer to show that the position in question has been filled by the appointment of another incumbent. It is necessary in such case, however, to make the incumbent a party to the mandamus proceeding. Although the name of the relator, a veteran, is upon the eligible list, the appointing officer has a right either to call upon the municipal civil service commission for the eligible list or to call for an examination of an employee of the department for the purpose of making a transfer under rule LXVII (New York municipal civil service rules) although such employee is not a veteran. The appointing officer must be presumed to have acted in good faith in thus proceeding. (People ex rel. Mesick v. Scannell, 63 App. Div. 243.)

The civil service law does not compel the board of trustees of a village when filling a vacancy in the office of street commissioner, caused by the expiration of the prior incumbent's term of office, to give an honorably discharged soldier of the civil war a preference in appointment over a veteran volunteer fireman (sic) although the honorably discharged soldier was a prior incumbent of the office. (People ex rel. Conlin v. Village of Dobbs Ferry, 63 App. Div. 276.)

Section 20 of the civil service law does not entitle a veteran seeking employment as a laborer in the service of the state of New York to a preference in appointment. Such section entitles a veteran to claim a preference in appointment only when his qualifications and fitness have been ascertained as provided in the act and the rules and regulations adopted in pursuance thereof. (Sweet v. Partridge, 66 App. Div. 309.)

VETERAN—PREFERENCE IN RETENTION

The preference accorded to veterans by the constitution and the civil service law extends not only to their appointment but to their retention in employment so long as the position to which they have been appointed exists, and if for reasons of economy it is necessary to remove some of the employees holding the same position, the veteran is entitled to be retained as against all other persons not entitled to a preference, notwithstanding that his superior officer avers that he is the least efficient employee and the one who would be the least missed. (Matter of Stutzbach v. Coler, 168 N. Y. 416, 62 App. Div. 219. 34 Misc. 119.)

A veteran who was superintendent of the general bureau of elections, abolished by chapter 95 of the laws of 1901, which established a board of elections consisting of four commissioners charged with duties theretofore performed by the superintendent, is not entitled to maintain a proceeding under section 21 of the civil service law to require the commissioners of election to assign him to such a position as he may be fitted to fill at the same salary he received as superintendent until after the duties of the various employees of the new board have been prescribed and their salaries fixed and the rights of other veterans who may make similar claim can be ascertained. (People ex rel. Rodenbogh v. Voorhis, 63 App. Div. 249.)

Where a city constantly employs at its main pumping station six assistant engineers, and occasionally at the auxiliary station six additional assistant engineers, the work and compensation at both stations being identical, an assistant engineer who alone of all the assistant engineers is within the protection of the veteran act is, when the closing of the auxiliary station renders it necessary to reduce the force, entitled to be retained even though his retention will necessitate the discharge of some assistant engineer not a veteran. (Matter of Pratt v. Phelan, 67 App. Div. 349.)

OPINIONS OF ATTORNEY-GENERAL.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 9, 1901

Hon. ERASTUS C. KNIGHT, Comptroller, Albany, N. Y.:

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of recent date, asking for my opinion as to whether the commission to classify into grades and fix the salaries of officers and employees of the various charitable and reformatory institutions of the state, provided for by chapter 383 of the laws of 1899, had the power, under the terms of said statute, to specify the qualifications necessary for any person who was occupying a position in one of the state institutions mentioned at the time when said act went into effect, and secondly, whether said commission was empowered, under the terms of said statute, to omit from such classification any position which already existed in a state institution, subject to the classification, said position having been legally filled by the board of managers prior to the classification.

Chapter 383 of the laws of 1899 amends section 17 of the state finance law, and, so far as material to the questions under consideration, provides as follows:

"The state comptroller and president of the state board of charities, subject to the approval in writing of the governor, shall classify into grades the offices and employees of the various charitable and reformatory institutions required by law to report to the comptroller, and shall fix the salaries and wages to be paid to such officers and employees. Differences in the expense of living and rates of wages in the localities in which such institutions are situate may be considered."

In replying to the first question it will be necessary to consider separately the status of "officers" and "employees."

As to officers: An examination of the state charities law shows that in many instances some if not all of the officers of institutions are designated by statute, while in some instances, as in the case of the New York state soldiers' and sailors' home, the Craig colony for epileptics, the institutions for juvenile delinquents and the houses of refuge and reformatories for women, it is left to the discretion of the boards of managers to designate the necessary officers and prescribe the duties of the officers. For instance, in the case of the Syracuse state institution for feeble-minded children, the statute designates as officers a superintendent, a treasurer, a steward, a medical assistant and a matron. In the case of the state custodial asylum for feeble-minded women, the officers enumerated are a superintendent and a matron, and in the case of the Thomas asylum, a superintendent, a matron and a physician.

Section 3, article X of the state constitution, provides that, "When the duration of any office is not provided by this constitution, it may be declared by law, and if not so declared, such office shall be held during the pleasure of the authority making the appointment." There is no term fixed by statute for any of the officers referred to, and it follows that under the constitutional provision above quoted their terms of office are during the pleasure of the appointing power. The various officers referred to, who were in office at the time of the passage of this act, had, then, a vested right to retain their offices until removed by the power which appointed them. This power of removal, the legislature had no right to vest in any other body or person. Neither had the legislature any authority to delegate to any other body or person the power to prescribe or shorten the terms of office. This principle has been settled by the court of appeals in the recent case of People ex rel. Percival v. Cram, 164 N. Y., 166. If, then, the conclusion should be reached that it was the intention of the legislature to permit the Commission to prescribe preliminary qualifications for persons already in office, such provision would be clearly a violation of the constitutional provision above quoted, as its immediate and necessary effect would be to remove from office the persons who had not such qualifications before the expiration of their terms of office and without any action on the part of the appointing power. It is needless to say that the law will not permit to be done by indirection that which is expressly prohibited by direct action.

In the construction of statutes a legislative intent to violate the constitution is never to be assumed, if the language of the statute can be satisfied by a contrary construction. When the language of an act will bear two constructions, equally obvious, that which accords with the provisions of the constitution is of course to be preferred. It is obvious that a construction can be given to the provision in question which will be entirely reasonable and do no violence to the language employed and still preserve its constitutionality.

Without considering at this time whether the power to "classify into grades" could, under the accepted rules of construction, be held to include the power to fix preliminary qualifications, it is certain that these words do not of necessity imply any such power, and as the latter construction will uphold the statute and relieve it from the constitutional objection, it is our plain duty to adopt it.

As to employees not officers: We come now to consider the status of employees in these institutions who are not officers. It is probable that the section of the constitution which I have quoted affords no protection to this class, but as has already been shown it is necessary in order to uphold the provision in question to give it an interpretation which excludes the power of the Commission, to prescribe preliminary qualifications for officers. In the act the two classes, "officers" and "employees," are placed upon an equality and are referred to together. The same provisions which apply to "officers" are made applicable to "employees." The only consistent interpretation of the statute therefore is, that the Commission has only the same power with respect to "employees" that it has as to "officers." Such an interpretation leads to the conclusion that the legislature did not intend to confer upon the Commission the power to prescribe preliminary qualifications as to employees who were in the employ of the state in the institution in question at the time of the passage of the act.

I come now to consider the latter portion of your question, which is, whether the Commission had the power to omit from its classification any position which already existed in a state institution, subject to the classification, said position having been legally filled by the board of managers prior to the classification; and, for reasons which will be apparent, I shall, as in my discussion of your first question, consider separately the status of the "officers" and "employees" of and in the institutions.

As to officers: As I have already stated, the statute provides that certain institutions shall have certain officers. For instance, section 65 of the state charities law provides, as to the Syracuse state institution for feeble-minded children, that "the superintendent shall be the chief executive officer of the institution." It also provides (subdivision 2) that the superintendent shall "appoint a steward, a medical assistant and a matron, who, with the superintendent, shall constantly reside in the institution or upon the premises adjoining, and shall be termed the resident officers thereof." Section 66 provides for a treasurer and prescribes his powers and duties.

These offices having been established by legislative enactment, I am of the opinion that they cannot be abolished except by a repeal or amendment of the statute which created them. The legislature cannot delegate to the Commission any part of its legislative function, and apparently it has not attempted to do so. The Commission has no power to prescribe any rule or regulation which shall have the effect of abolishing any such office.

I have referred to an instance in which the legislature has expressly established certain offices. There are other instances in which the power to establish offices and fill them by appointment has been expressly conferred upon boards of managers.

In the case of institutions for juvenile delinquents, it is provided by section 122 of the state charities law that the boards of managers "shall appoint a superintendent and such other officers as they may deem necessary for the conduct and welfare of the institution under their charge." I am of the opinion that the power thus conferred upon boards of managers has not been taken from them by the act of 1899, either expressly or by necessary implication, and that the status of such officers is the same as that of those above referred to when the legislature has established the office by express enactment. Some of the considerations hereinafter referred to in my discussion of the status of employees bear with equal force upon this question.

As to employees: In considering this branch of the question it is necessary to take into account certain provisions of the statutes conferring upon superintendents and boards of managers certain powers with reference to employees.

By section 65 of the state charities law the superintendent of the Syracuse institution is authorized, subject to the regulations of the board of managers, to "employ such teachers, attendants and assistants as he may think proper and necessary to economically and efficiently carry into effect the design of the institution; prescribe their several duties and places, fix their compensation, and discharge any of them."

By section 63 the board of managers of the state custodial asylum for feeble-minded women are authorized "to appoint a superintendent, a matron, and employ all assistants that may be necessary for the proper management of the asylums."

Without going into further detail it is sufficient to say that similar powers are conferred by statute upon the superintendent or board of managers, or both, of each of the institutions in question.

From these provisions it is clearly apparent that the legislative intent was to vest in these local officers, who might reasonably be supposed to be more familiar with the necessities of their institutions than any other persons could possibly be, the power of determining how many employees were necessary, and who such employees should be.

I am unable to see any suggestion in the act of 1899 that it was the intention of the legislature to take away or qualify the power of appointment and employment which had thus been given to the local authorities. Of course the power to fix salaries is expressly conferred upon the Commission, and by necessary implication is taken away from the local authorities. As to the other provisions above referred to, however, the situation is entirely different. The repeal of a statute by implication is not favored in the law, and so far as possible the two statutes must be read together and effect given to both. Can effect be given to the provisions last referred to and, at the same time, reasonable effect be given to the act of 1899? It seems to me that this can be done without doing violence to the language of either, and this leads to a consideration of the question: What is the natural and ordinary meaning conveyed by the words "classify into grades the officers and employees?" Naturally the first inquiry is, who are to be thus classified, and it seems to me that the answer is very apparent. It is not some persons or class of persons who may in the indefinite future become officers or employees in these institutions. It is "the officers and employees," meaning thereby the present officers and employees of the institution. Perhaps I can more clearly convey my meaning by an illustration. Suppose that one were authorized and directed to "classify into grades" the pupils in a certain school. To my mind this would simply mean that he should take the pupils then in attendance at the school and divide them into grades according to their scholarship and attainments. It would not mean that he should establish grades and standards for pupils not in attendance at the school, neither would it mean that he should refuse to establish grades for pupils who were actually in attendance for the reason that they were not sufficiently advanced in their studies or for any other reason. So these words, as employed in this statute, do not convey to my mind any intention on the part of the legislature except that the Commission should classify into grades the officers and employees whom they found in these institutions, and after having so classified them, should fix their salaries.

JOHN C. DAVIES

ALBANY, N. Y., December 13, 1901

Hon. WILLIS E. MERRIMAN, Second deputy comptroller, Albany, N. Y.:

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your two letters dated respectively November 1st and 6th, asking for my opinion as to the effect of section 4, chapter 521 of the laws of 1901, which section reads as follows:

"No person holding a position or employed in any department, bureau, commission or office to which this act applies and for which a definite salary or compensation has been appropriated or designated, shall receive any extra salary or compensation in addition to that so fixed."

The framers of the statute evidently intended to prohibit any person from receiving additional compensation for services which they may be said to have contracted to give to the state at a fixed compensation or salary. When a person enters the employ of the state by way of accepting a position in any department, bureau, commission or office, the time of employment being regulated by law or custom, such person in my judgment cannot be paid additional compensation for services incident to their employment, nor can they receive additional compensation from any other department for services performed during the time which they were under contract to give to the particular department, bureau, commission or office, at a fixed compensation or salary. The state being the common paymaster, there cannot be two salaries running to that class of persons described in the statute at one and the same time.

If a person employed in one department performs services in some other department, and at such time as he has not contracted to give his services to the department in which he is regularly employed or appointed, upon the presentation of his account, duly approved, by the official who gave him the extra employment, with his own affidavit attached thereto, setting forth the nature of the services rendered, the particular hours when performed, in order that it may be determined by a perusal of said affidavit that the claim made is not in conflict with the statute, I am of the opinion that you would be justified in paying the same, provided there was an appropriation available for the payment thereof.

Yours very truly

JOHN C. DAVIES

Attorney-general

1 The term "Commission" or "State commission" means the State Civil Service Commission.

2 The term "municipal commission" means the municipal civil service commission of a city.

3 The "civil service" of the state of New York or any of its civil divisions or cities includes all offices and positions of trust or employment in the service of the state or of such civil division or city, except such offices and positions in the militia and the military departments as are or may be created under the provisions of article eleven of the constitution.

4 The "state service" shall include all such offices and positions in the service of the state or of any of its civil divisions except a city.

5 The "city service" shall include such positions in the service of any city.

6 The term "appointing officer" signifies the officer, commission, board or body having the power of appointment to subordi-

§ 3 State Civil Service Commission. The governor is authorized to appoint, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, three persons, not more than two of whom shall be adherents of the same political party, as civil service commissioners, and said three commissioners shall constitute the State Civil Service Commission. They shall hold no other official place under the state of New York. The governor may remove any commissioner, and any vacancy in the position of commissioner shall be so filled by the governor, by and with the advice and consent of the senate, as to conform to said conditions for the first selection of commissioners. The three commissioners shall each receive a salary of three thousand dollars a year, and each of said commissioners shall be paid his necessary traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of his duty as a commissioner. [As amended by chapter 66, Laws of 1900.]

§ 4 Officers and employees of the Commission. The Commission may elect one of its members to be president, and may employ a chief examiner, a secretary, and such other officers, clerks and examiners as it may deem necessary or proper to carry out the purposes of this act, and such employees shall hold office during the pleasure of the Commission. The chief examiner shall be entitled to receive a salary at the rate of three thousand six hundred dollars a year, and he shall be paid his necessary traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of his duty. The secretary, and other officers, clerks and examiners shall receive salaries to be fixed by the Commission, and the secretary shall also be paid his necessary traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of his duty. The Commission may select suitable persons in the official service of the state or any of its civil divisions, after consulting the head of the department or office in which such persons serve, to act as examiners under its direction. Persons so selected shall be entitled to compensation from the Commission for their necessary expenses occasioned by the service actually rendered, in addition to the regular service required in the department or office where they are regularly employed. The compensation of examiners shall not exceed five dollars per day, except in the case of special and expert examiners employed in the preparation of questions and rating of candidates; the Commission shall not expend or authorize the expenditure of moneys for any purpose in excess of the sums appropriated therefor by law.

§ 5 Rooms and accommodations. It shall be the duty of the trustees of public buildings to cause suitable and convenient rooms and accommodations to be assigned or provided, and to be furnished, heated and lighted, at the capitol in the city of Albany, for carrying on the work and examinations of said Commission, and said Commission may order the necessary stationery, postage stamps, an official seal and other articles to be supplied, and the necessary printing to be done for its official use. It shall be the duty of the officers of the state of New York or of any civil division thereof, at any place where examinations are directed by the Commission or its rules to be held, to allow the reasonable use of public buildings, and to heat and light the same for holding such examinations, and in all proper ways to facilitate the same.

§ 6 The powers and duties of the Commission. The State Civil Service Commission shall

First—Prescribe, amend and enforce suitable rules and regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of this act and of section nine of article five of the constitution of the state of New York, as herein provided. The rules prescribed by the state and municipal commissions pursuant to the provisions of this act shall have the force and effect of law.

Second—Keep minutes of its own proceedings and records of its examinations and other official action.

Third—Make investigations concerning and report upon all matters touching the enforcement and effect of the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder, concerning the action of any examiner or subordinate of the Commission and any person in the public service, in respect to the execution of this act, and in the course of such investigations each commissioner and the secretary and the chief examiner shall have power to administer oaths.

Fourth—Have power to subpoena and require the attendance in this state of witnesses and the production thereby of books and papers pertinent to the investigation and inquiries hereby authorized and to examine them and such public records as it shall require in relation to any matter which it is required to investigate. And for the purposes of the examination hereby directed, the Commission possesses all the powers conferred by the legislative law upon a committee of the legislature or by the code of civil procedure upon a board or committee, and may invoke the power of any court of record in the state to compel the attendance and testifying of witnesses and the production thereby of books and papers as aforesaid.

Fifth—Make an annual report to the governor for transmission to the legislature, showing its own action, the rules and regulations and the exceptions thereto in force, and the practical effects thereof and any suggestions it may approve for the more effectual accomplishment of the purposes of this act.

Sixth—Meet in Albany at least once in each calendar month, except the month of August, and hold such other meetings as the needs of the public service may require. A majority of the members of the Commission shall constitute a quorum.

§ 7 Duties of public officers. It shall be the duty of all officers of the state of New York or of any city or civil division thereof to conform to and comply with and to aid in all proper ways in carrying into effect the provisions of this act, and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder and any modification thereof. No officer or officers having the power of appointment or employment shall select or appoint any person for appointment, employment, promotion or reinstatement except in accordance with the provisions of this act and the rules and regulations prescribed thereunder. Any person employed or appointed contrary to the provisions of this act or of the rules and regulations established thereunder, shall be paid by the officer or officers so employing or appointing, or attempting to employ or appoint, him, the compensation agreed upon for any services performed under such appointment or employment, or in case no compensation is agreed upon, the actual value of such services, and any expenses incurred in connection therewith, and shall have a cause of action against such officer or officers or any of them for such sum or sums and for the costs of the action. No public officer shall be reimbursed by the state or any of its civil divisions for any sums so paid or recovered in any such action.

§ 8 Unclassified service; classified service. The civil service of the state and of each of its civil divisions and cities shall be divided into the unclassified service and the classified service. The unclassified service shall comprise all elective offices; all offices filled by election or appointment by the legislature on joint ballot; all persons appointed by name in any statute; all legislative officers and employees; all offices filled by appointment by the governor, either upon or without confirmation by the senate, except officers and employees in the executive offices; all election officers; the head or heads of any department of the government, and persons employed in or who seek to enter the public service as superintendents, principals or teachers in a public school or academy or in a state normal school or college. The classified service shall comprise all positions not included in the unclassified service. All appointments or employments in the classified service shall be for a probationary term not exceeding the time fixed in the rules.

§ 9 Rules for the classified state service. Within one month after the passage of this act, the Commission shall make rules for the classification of the offices, places and employments in the classified service of the state, and thereafter from time to time rules for the classification of the offices, places and employments in such other civil divisions thereof, except cities, as after due inquiry by the Commission shall be found practicable, and for appointments and promotions therein and examinations therefor, not inconsistent with the constitution and the provisions of this act, and shall amend the same from time to time. No examination or registration shall be required of persons to be employed as laborers in the state service. Such rules and any modifications thereof, shall take effect when approved by the governor. Due notice of the contents of such rules, and of any modifications thereof, shall be given by mail to appointing officers and heads of departments affected thereby, and such rules shall be printed for public distribution. Subject to the provisions of this act and of the rules established thereunder, the Commission shall make regulations for and have control of examinations for the service of the state and the civil divisions thereof, except cities, and shall supervise and preserve the records of the same, but such examinations shall be held at least once a year in each of the following places: Albany, Amsterdam, Auburn, Binghamton, Buffalo, Dunkirk, Elmira, Geneva, Hornellsville, Ithaca, Jamestown, Johnstown, Kingston, Lockport, Malone, Middletown, Newburgh, New York, Ogdensburg, Olean, Oneonta, Oswego, Plattsburg, Poughkeepsie, Rochester, Saratoga, Syracuse, Utica and Watertown; and shall cover in each place all offices and positions for which competitive examinations are required, except such examinations as require special tools, machinery, appliances, or laboratory facilities.

§ 10 The classified city service. The mayor of each city in this state shall appoint and employ suitable persons to prescribe amend and enforce rules for the classification of the offices, places and employments in the classified service of such city, and for appointments and promotions therein and examinations therefor; and for the registration and selection of laborers for employment therein, not inconsistent with the constitution and the provisions of this act, and shall amend the same from time to time. Such persons shall be municipal civil service commissioners and shall constitute the municipal civil service commission of such city. All appointments or designations of municipal civil service commissioners shall be made in such manner that not more than two-thirds of such commissioners in any city shall at any time be adherents of the same political party. Such rules herein prescribed and established, and all regulations now existing for appointment and promotion in the civil service of said city, and any subsequent modification thereof, whether prescribed under the authority of a general law or of any special or local law, shall be valid and take or continue in effect only upon the approval of the mayor of the city and of the State Civil Service Commission. The authority by this section conferred shall not be so exercised as to take from any policeman or fireman any right or benefit conferred by law, or existing under any lawful regulation of the department in which he serves. All examinations herein authorized shall be public, and all rules shall be published, and, with all the proceedings and papers connected with said examinations, shall be at all times subject to the inspection of said State Commission and its agents; and said Commission shall set forth in its report the character and practical effects of such examinations, together with its views as to the improvement and extension of the same, and also copies of all rules made under the authority hereby conferred. Subject to the provisions of this act and of said rules, the municipal commission of any city shall make regulations for and have control of examinations and registrations for the service of such city, and shall supervise and preserve the records of the same. In case, for any reason, the mayor of any city within sixty days after he has the power to appoint, fails to appoint such municipal commissioners, the State Commission shall appoint them to hold office until the expiration of the term of the mayor then in office and their successors are appointed and qualify. It shall be the duty of such persons to prepare and to procure the approval of the rules herein provided for, and, if they fail to do so within sixty days after their appointment, the State Commission shall forthwith make said rules. It shall be the duty of such persons to make reports from time to time to the State Commission, whenever said Commission may request, of the manner in which this law, and the rules and regulations thereunder, have been and are administered, and the results of their administration in such city, and of such other matters as said Commission may require, and annually on or before the fifteenth day of January, to make such a report to said Commission; and it shall be the duty of said State Commission in its annual report to set out either these reports, or a sufficient abstract or summary thereof, to give full and clear information as to their contents. A copy of the roster of the classified civil service of such city shall be transmitted to the State Commission with the annual report aforesaid, and shall be filed in the office of said commission as a public record. The mayor may at any time remove any municipal civil service commissioner appointed by him. Said State Commission may also, by unanimous vote of the three commissioners, with the written approval of the governor, remove any municipal civil service commissioner appointed or employed under the authority of this section, for incompetence, inefficiency, neglect of duty or violation of the provisions of this act, or of the rules and regulations in force thereunder, or of any of them, specifying in writing the particulars of the incompetency, inefficiency, neglect of duty or violation charged, and filing the same as a public document in the office of the city clerk, or if there be no city clerk, in the office of the clerk of the board of aldermen, and a certified transcript thereof in the office of the State Civil Service Commission, first giving him an opportunity to make a personal explanation in self-defense. Whenever a municipal civil service commissioner has been removed by the unanimous vote of the three state commissioners, with the written approval of the governor, or whenever any municipal commissioner shall resign or be removed by the mayor pending an investigation by the State Commission of the administration of the civil service of the city in which such person is a municipal commissioner, or whenever any municipal commissioner shall resign or be removed by the mayor pending a hearing by the State Commission of charges preferred against such municipal commissioner, the State Commission and not the mayor of such city shall have power to appoint persons to fill such vacancies, and such persons so appointed by the State Commission shall hold office as municipal civil service commissioners of such city until the expiration of the term of the mayor then in office and until their successors are appointed and qualify. Said State Commission may at any time, by unanimous vote of the three commissioners, amend or rescind any rule, regulation or classification prescribed under provisions of this section, provided that said State Commission shall state the reasons for such action in writing and file the same and a certified transcript thereof as a public document as hereinbefore provided, and give an opportunity to the municipal civil service commissioners concerned to make a personal explanation and to file papers in opposition to such action. The said State Commission, however, shall not take such action upon any ground other than that the provisions or purposes of this act are not properly or sufficiently carried out by such rule, regulation or classification, nor without specifying in writing and detail in what particular such provisions or purposes are not carried out, nor shall said State Commission exempt from competitive examination any position, or place or employment in any city without the consent of the municipal commission of such city. [As amended by chapter 675, Laws of 1900.]

§ 11 Classification. The offices and positions in the classified service of the state or of any city or civil division thereof for which civil service rules shall be established pursuant to this act, shall be arranged in four classes to be designated as the exempt class, the competitive class, the non-competitive class and, in cities, the labor class.

1 The deputies of principal executive officers authorized by law to act generally for and in place of their principals;

2 One secretary of each officer, board and commission authorized by law to appoint a secretary;

3 One clerk, and one deputy clerk if authorized by law, of each court, and one clerk of each elective judical officer;

4 In the state service, all unskilled laborers and such skilled laborers as are not included in the competitive class or the non-competitive class; and in addition thereto there may be included in the exempt class all other subordinate offices for the filling of which competitive or non-competitive examination may be found to be not practicable. But no office or position shall be deemed to be in the exempt class unless it is specifically named in such class in the rules, and the reasons for each such exemption shall be stated separately in the annual reports of the Commission. Not more than one appointment shall be made to or under the title of any such office or position, unless a different number is specifically mentioned in such rules. Appointments to positions in the exempt class may be made without examination.

§ 13 The competitive class. The competitive class shall include all positions for which it is practicable to determine the merit and fitness of applicants by competitive examination, and shall include all positions now existing, or hereafter created, of whatever functions, designations or compensation, in each and every branch of the classified service, except such positions as are in the exempt class, the non-competitive class or the labor class. Appointments shall be made to or employment shall be given in all positions in the competitive class that are not filled by promotion, reinstatement, transfer or reduction under the provision of this act and the rules in pursuance thereof, by appointment of those graded highest in open competitive examinations conducted by the State or municipal commission, except as herein otherwise provided. The term of eligibility shall be fixed for each eligible list at not less than one nor more than four years. Appointment shall be made from the eligible list most nearly appropriate for the group in which the position to be filled is classified, and a new list shall be created for a stated position or group of positions only when there is no appropriate list existing from which appointment may be made. No person shall be appointed or employed under any title not appropriate to the duties to be performed, and no person shall be transferred to, or assigned to perform the duties of, any position subject to competitive examination unless he shall have previously passed an open competitive examination equivalent to that required for such position, or unless he shall have served with fidelity for at least three years in a similar position. Appointments to positions in the state service, the duties of which are confined to a locality outside of Albany county, shall, so far as practicable, be made from residents of the judicial district including such locality. The examinations shall be public and shall be practical in their character and shall relate to those matters which will fairly test the relative capacity and fitness of the persons examined to discharge the duties of that service into which they seek to be appointed. Such commission shall prepare lists of preliminary requirements and subjects of examination for the several positions or groups of positions in the competitive class and shall publish its rules and such information, and advertise such examinations in such manner as the nature of the examinations may require. Each of such commissions shall require intending competitors to file in its office a reasonable length of time before the date of any examination, a formal application in which the applicant shall state under oath:

1 His full name, residence and post-office address.

4 His right of preference by reason of military or naval service.

6 Such other information as may reasonably be required touching the applicant's merit and fitness for the public service.

Blank forms for such applications shall be furnished by said commissions without charge to all persons requesting the same. Such commissions may require in connection with such application such certificates of citizens, physicians, public officers or others having knowledge of the applicant, as the good of the service may require. Such commissions may refuse to examine an applicant, or after examination to certify an eligible, who is found to lack any of the established preliminary requirements for the examination or position for which he applies; or who is physically so disabled as to be rendered unfit for his performance of the duties of the position to which he seeks appointment; or who is addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating beverages to excess; or who has been guilty of a crime or of infamous or notoriously disgraceful conduct; or who has been dismissed from the public service for delinquency or misconduct; or who has intentionally made a false statement of any material fact, or practised, or attempted to practise, any deception or fraud in his application, in his examination, or in securing his eligibility or appointment. When the position to be filled involves fiduciary responsibility, the appointing officer, where otherwise permitted by law, may require the appointee to furnish a bond or other security and shall notify the state or municipal commission of the amount and necessary details thereof.

1 Whenever there are urgent reasons for filling a vacancy in any position in the competitive class and there is no list of persons eligible for appointment after competitive examination, the appointing officer may nominate a person to the State or municipal commission for non-competitive examination, and if such nominee shall be certified by such commission as qualified after such non-competitive examination, he may be appointed provisionally to fill such vacancy until a selection and appointment can be made after competitive examination, but such provisional appointment shall not continue for a longer period than two months in the state service, or one month in any city, nor shall successive temporary appointments be made to the same position under this subdivision.

fessional or educational character are required, and upon satisfactory evidence that for specified reasons competition in such special case is impracticable and that the position can be best filled by the selection of some designated person of high and recognized attainments in such qualities, the state or municipal commission may suspend the provisions of the rule requiring competition in such case, but no such suspension shall be general in its application to such place, and all such cases of suspension shall be reported in the annual reports of such commissions with the reasons for the same.

3 When the services to be rendered by an appointee in the state service are for a temporary period not to exceed one month and the need of such service is important and urgent, the appointing officer may select for such temporary service any person on the proper list of those eligible for permanent appointment without regard to his standing on such list.

§ 15 Promotion, transfer, reinstatement, reduction. Vacancies in positions in the competitive class shall be filled, so far as practicable, by promotion from among persons holding positions in a lower grade in the department, office or institution in which the vacancy exists. Promotions shall be based upon merit and competition and upon the superior qualifications of the person promoted as shown by his previous service, due weight being given to seniority. For the purposes of this section an increase in the salary or other compensation of any person holding an office or position within the scope of the rules in force hereunder beyond the limit fixed for the grade in which such office or position is classified, shall be deemed a promotion. No promotion, transfer or reinstatement shall be made from a position in one class to a position in another class unless the same be specially authorized by the State or municipal commission, nor shall a person be promoted or transferred to a position for original entrance to which there is required by this act or the rules an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those required for original entrance to the position held by such person, unless he shall have passed the examination or attained a place upon the eligible list for such higher position.

§ 16 The non-competitive class. The non-competitive class shall include such positions as are not in the exempt class or the labor class and which it is impracticable to include in the competitive class. Appointments to positions in the non-competitive class shall be made after such non-competitive examination as is prescribed by the rules.

§ 17 The labor class in cities. The labor class in cities shall include unskilled laborers and such skilled laborers as are not included in the competitive class or the non-competitive class. Vacancies in the labor class in cities shall be filled by appointment from lists of applicants registered by the municipal commissions. Preference in employment from such lists shall be given according to date of application. There shall be separate lists of applicants for different kinds of labor or employment, and the commissions may establish separate labor lists for various institutions and departments. Where the labor service of any department or institution extends to separate localities, the commissions may provide separate registration lists for each district or locality. The commissions shall require an applicant for registration for the labor service to furnish such evidence or pass such examination as they may deem proper with respect to his age, residence, physical condition, ability to labor, skill, capacity and experience in the trade or employment for which he applies.

§ 18 Official roster; reports of appointing officers. No person shall be appointed to or employed in any position in the classified service of the state or of any city or civil division thereof for which rules have been prescribed pursuant to the provisions of this act, until he has passed an examination or is shown to be especially exempted from such examination in conformity with such rules and the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of each appointing officer of the state or any such civil division thereof, except cities, to report to the State Civil Service Commission forthwith upon such appointment or employment the name of such appointee or employee, the title and character of his office or employment, the date of the commencement of service by virtue thereof and the salary or compensation thereof, and to report from time to time and upon the date of official action in or knowledge of each case, any separation of a person from the service or other change therein, and such other information as the Commission may require, in order to keep the roster hereinafter mentioned. The Commission shall keep in its office an official roster of the classified civil service of the state and of each of the civil divisions thereof for which rules have been prescribed pursuant to this act, except cities, and shall enter thereon the name of each and every person who has been appointed to, employed, promoted or reinstated in any position in such service, upon such evidence as it may require or deem satisfactory that such person was appointed to, promoted or reinstated in the service in conformity with the provisions of law and the rules prescribed pursuant to this act. The official roster shall show opposite or in connection with each name the date of appointment, employment, promotion or reinstatement, the compensation of the position, the date of commencement of service, and date of transfer in or separation from service by dismissal, registration, cancellation of appointment or death. In like manner the municipal commission of each city shall keep in its office an official roster of the classified civil service of such city, and shall enter thereon the name of each and every person who has been appointed to, employed, promoted or reinstated in any position in such service, upon such evidence as it may require or deem satisfactory that such person was appointed to, or employed, promoted or reinstated in the service in conformity with the provisions of law and of the rules, and it shall be the duty of each appointing officer of such city to report to such municipal commission in like manner as is hereinbefore provided for reports from appointing officers to the State Commission.

§ 19 Disbursing officers. It shall be unlawful for the comptroller or other fiscal officer of the state or any city or civil division thereof for which civil service rules have been prescribed pursuant to this act, to draw, sign or issue, or authorize the drawing, signing or issuing of any warrant on the treasurer or other disbursing officer of the state or such city or civil division thereof, for the payment of, or for the treasurer or other disbursing officer of the state or of such city or civil division thereof, to pay any salary or compensation to any officer, clerk or other person in the classified service of the state or of such city or civil division thereof, unless an estimate, pay-roll or account for such salary or compensation, containing the names of the persons to be paid, shall bear the certificate of the State Civil Service Commission, or in case of the service of a city, the certificate of the municipal civil service commission of such city, that the persons named in such estimate, payroll or account have been appointed or employed or promoted in pursuance of law and of the rules made in pursuance of law. Any officer, clerk or other person entitled to be certified by said commission, or either of them, to the comptroller, treasurer or other fiscal or disbursing officer of the state or any city or civil division thereof, as having been appointed or employed in pursuance of law and of the rules made in pursuance of law, and refused such certificate, may maintain a proceeding by mandamus to compel such commission or commissious to issue such certificate. Any sums paid contrary to the provisions of this section may be recovered from any officer or officers making such appointment in contravention of the provisions of law and of the rules made in pursuance of law, or any officer signing or countersigning, or authorizing the signing or countersigning of any warrant for the payment of the same, and from the sureties on his official bond, in an action in the supreme court of the state, maintained by a citizen resident therein, who is assessed for and is liable to pay, or within one year before the commencement of the action, has paid a tax therein. All moneys recovered in any action brought under the provisions of this section must, when collected, be paid into the treasury of the state or such civil division thereof, except that the plaintiff in any such action shall be entitled to receive for his own use the taxable costs of such action.

§ 20 Preferences, allowed honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines. In every public department and upon all public work of the state of New York and of the cities, counties, towns and villages thereof, honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines from the army and navy of the United States in the late civil war, who are citizens and residents of this state, shall be entitled to preference in appointment and promotion without regard to their standing on any list from which such appointment or promotion may be made, provided their qualifications and fitness shall have been ascertained as provided in this act and the rules and regulations in pursuance thereof; and the persons thus preferred shall not be disqualified from holding any position in the civil service on account of his age or by reason of any physical disability, provided such age or disability does not render him incompetent to perform the duties of the position applied for. Whenever any list of eligible persons, prepared under authority of this act, shall contain the names of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines, entitled to preference as aforesaid, any reference in this act or in the rules and regulations in pursuance thereof to the persons standing highest on such list, shall be deemed to indicate those standing highest of those entitled to preference by the provisions of this section, and such persons shall be given preference on any list of registered applicants for employment in the labor service, in accordance with the dates of their several applications, as though such applications had been filed prior to those of any persons on such lists not entitled to the preference provided by this section. A refusal to allow the preference provided for in this and the next succeeding section to any honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, or a reduction of his compensation intended to bring about his resignation, shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and such honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine shall have a right of action therefor in any court of competent jurisdiction for damages and also a remedy by mandamus for righting the wrong.

§ 21 Power of removal limited. Every person whose rights may be in any way prejudiced contrary to any of the provisions of this section shall be entitled to a writ of mandamus to remedy the wrong. No person holding a position by appointment or employment in the state of New York or in the several cities, counties, towns or villages thereof, who is an honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, having served as such in the Union army or navy during the war of the rebellion, and who is an honorably discharged soldier, sailor, or marine, having served as such in the army or navy of the United States during the Spanish-American war, or is an honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine of the regular army or navy of the United States, or who shall have served the term required by law in the volunteer fire department of any city, town or village in the state, or who shall have been a member thereof at the time of disbandment of said volunteer fire department, shall be removed from such position or employment, except for incompetency or misconduct shown after a hearing, upon due notice, upon stated charges and with the right to such employee or appointee to a review by a writ of certiorari. In cities of the first class, if the position so held by any such honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, or volunteer fireman shall become unnecessary or be abolished for reasons of economy or otherwise, the said honorably discharged soldier, sailor or marine, or volunteer fireman holding the same shall not be discharged from the public service, but shall be transferred to any branch of the said service for duty in such position as he may be fitted to fill, receiving the same compensation therefor. The burden of proving incompetency or misconduct shall be upon the party alleging the same. Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to the position of private secretary or deputy of any official or department, or to any other person holding a strictly confidential relation to the appointing officer. A person serving under a probationary or provisional appointment shall not be deemed to be holding a position within the meaning of this section.

§ 22 Misdemeanor to obstruct right of examination; false representation; impersonation in examination. Any commissioner, or examiner, or any other person who shall wilfully by himself or in co-operation with one or more persons, defeat, deceive or obstruct any person in respect of his or her right of examination, or registration, according to any rules or regulations prescribed pursuant to the provisions of this act, or who shall wilfully and falsely mark, grade, estimate or report upon the examination or proper standing of any person examined, registered or certified, pursuant to the provisions of this act, or aid in so doing, or who shall wilfully make any false representations concerning the same, or concerning the person examined, or who shall wilfully furnish to any person any special or secret information for the purpose of either improving or injuring the prospects or chances of any person so examined, registered or certified, or to be examined, registered or certified, or who shall personate any other person, or permit or aid in any manner any other person to personate him, in connection with any examination or registration, or application or request to be examined or registered, shall for each offense be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 23 Recommendations for appointment or promotion. No recommendation or question under the authority of this act shall relate to the political opinions or affiliations of any person whatever; and no appointment or selection to or removal from an office or employment within the scope of the rules established as aforesaid, shall be in any manner affected or influenced by such opinions or affiliations. No person in the civil service of the state or of any city or civil division thereof, is for that reason under any obligation to contribute to any political fund or to render any political service, and no person shall be removed or otherwise prejudiced for refusing so to do. No person in the said civil service shall discharge or promote or reduce, or in any manner change the official rank or compensation of any other person in said service, or promise or threaten so to do for giving or withholding or neglecting to make any contribution of money or service or any other valuable thing for any political purpose. No person in said service shall use his official authority or influence to coerce the political action of any person or body, or to interfere with any election.

§ 24 Political assessments prohibited. No officer, agent, clerk or employee under the government of the state of New York or any civil division or city thereof shall, directly or indirectly, use his authority or official influence to compel or induce any other officer, clerk, agent or employee under said government, or any civil division or city thereof, to pay or promise to pay any political assessment, subscription or contribution. Every said officer, agent, clerk or employee who may have charge or control in any building, office or room occupied for any purpose of said government, or any said division or city thereof, is hereby authorized to prohibit the entry of any person, and he shall not knowingly permit any person to enter the same for the purpose of therein making, collecting, receiving or giving notice of any political assessment, subscription or contribution; and no person shall enter or remain in any said office, building or room, or send or direct any letter or other writing thereto, for the purpose of giving notice of, demanding or collecting a political assessment, nor shall any person therein give notice of, demand, collect or receive any such assessment, subscription or contribution; and no person shall prepare or make out, or take any part in preparing or making out, any political assessment, subscription or contribution with the intent that the same shall be sent or presented to or collected of any officer, agent or employee, subject to the provisions of this act, under the government of the state of New York, or that of any civil division or city thereof, and no person shall knowingly send or present any political assessment, subscription or contribution to or request its payment of any said officer, agent or employee. Any person who shall be guilty of violating any provision of this section shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

§ 25 Officers or candidates not to promise influence, et cetera; "public officer" and "public employee" defined. Whoever, while holding any public office, or in nomination for, or while seeking a nomination or appointment for any public office, shall corruptly use or promise to use, whether directly or indirectly, any official authority or influence (whether then possessed or merely anticipated) in the way of conferring upon any person; or in order to secure or aid any person in securing any office or public employment, or any nomination, confirmation, promotion or increase of salary, upon the consideration or condition that the vote or political influence or action of the last named person, or any other, shall be given or used in behalf of any candidate, officer or party, or upon any other corrupt condition or consideration, shall be deemed guilty of bribery or an attempt at bribery. And whoever, being a public officer, or having or claiming to have any authority or influence for or affecting the nomination, public employment, confirmation, promotion, removal or increase or decrease of salary of any public officer, shall corruptly use, or promise, or threaten to use any such authority or influence, directly or indirectly, in order to coerce or persuade the vote or political action of any citizen or the removal, discharge or promotion of any officer or public employee, or upon any other corrupt consideration, shall also be guilty of bribery or of an attempt at bribery. Every person found guilty of such bribery, or an attempt to commit the same, as aforesaid, shall, upon conviction thereof, be liable to be punished by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than three thousand dollars, or to be imprisoned not less than ten days nor more than two years, or to both said fine and said imprisonment in the discretion of the court. The phrase "public officer" shall be held to include all public officials in this state, whether paid directly or indirectly from the public treasury of the state, or from that of any civil division thereof, or by fees or otherwise; and the phrase "public employee" shall be held to include every person not being an officer who is paid from any said treasury.

§ 26 Attendance of witnesses; fees. Witnesses and officers to subpoena and secure the attendance of witnesses before said Commission, shall be entitled to the same fees as are allowed witnesses in civil cases in courts of record. Such fees need not be prepaid, but the comptroller shall draw his warrant for the payment of the amount thereof, when the same shall have been certified to by the president of the Commission, and duly proved by affidavit or otherwise to the satisfaction of the said comptroller; and all state, county, town, municipal and other officers and their deputies, clerks, subordinates and employees shall afford the said board all reasonable facilities in conducting the inquiries specified in this act, and give inspection to said board of all books, papers and documents belonging, or in any way appertaining to the respective officers, and shall also produce said books and papers, and shall attend and testify when required to do so by said Commission.

§ 27 Taxpayer's action. The right of any taxpayer to bring an action to restrain the payment of compensation to any person appointed to or holding any office, or place or employment in violation of any of the provisions of this act, shall not be limited or denied by reason of the fact that said office, or place or employment shall have been classified as, or determined to be, not subject to competitive examination; provided, however, that any judgment or injunction granted or made in any such action shall be prospective only, and shall not affect payments already made or due to such persons by the proper disbursing officers, in accordance with the civil service rules in force at the time of such payments.

§ 28 Saving clause. All rules, regulations and classifications for appointment or promotion in the civil service of the state or any city or civil division thereof, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, established with the approval of the governor or the State Commission under authority of law prior to the passage of this act, shall continue in full force and effect until annulled or amended pursuant to the provisions of this act; and the state civil service commissioners and the municipal civil service commissioners of any city, now in office, appointed or designated under the provisions of law prior to the passage ot this act, shall continue in office until their successors are appointed and qualify, and shall have the same tenure and all the powers and duties which they would have if appointed under the provisions of this act. All merit and eligible lists of persons examined prior to the passage of this act, under the civil service rules and regulations in force at the time of such examination, shall be continued in full force and effect as if formed under the provision of this act, subject, however, to such reasonable regulation and revision as the rules shall prescribe.

§ 29 Repeal. Of the laws enumerated in the schedule hereto annexed, that portion specified in the last column is repealed. All other acts or parts of acts, whether general, special or local, and all rules, regulations and classifications for appointment or promotion in the civil service of the state or any civil division thereof, inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed; provided, however, that any act done or right accruing, accrued or acquired, or liability, penalty, or punishment incurred prior to the passage of this act shall not be affected or impaired: but the same may be asserted, enforced, prosecuted or inflicted as fully, and to the same extent, as if the several acts herein referred to had not been amended or repealed.

ALBANY, May 18, 1899

In compliance with the provisions of section 9 of article V of the constitution, and of chapter 370 of the Laws of 1899 of the state of New York, the State Civil Service Commission hereby prescribes the following rules for the regulation of the classified civil service of the state of New York, to take effect and have the force of law, revoking all other rules to that end, when approved by the governor.

WILLARD A. COBB
SILAS W. BURT
WM. MILLER COLLIER

Rule I—Definition of terms

The several terms hereinafter mentioned, whenever used in these rules or in any regulations thereunder, shall be construed as follows:

1 Chapter 370 of the Laws of 1899 shall be known as "The civil service law."

2 The term "Commission" or "State Commission" means the State Civil Service Commission.

3 The term "municipal commission" means the municipal civil service commission of a city.

4 The "civil service" of the state of New York or any of its civil divisions or cities includes all offices and positions of trust or employment in the service of the state or of such civil division or city, except such offices and positions in the militia and the military departments as are or may be created under the provisions of article XI of the constitution.

5 The "state service" shall include all such offices and positions in the service of the state, or of any of its civil divisions, except a city.

6 The "city service" shall include such positions in the service of any city.

7 The term "appointing officer" signifies the officer, commission, board or body having the power of appointment to subordinate positions in any office, court, department, commission, board or institution.

8 The term "class" refers to the divisions of the classified civil service based upon the distinctive methods of appointment to the positions comprehended therein.

9 The term "group" refers to the divisions in the class based upon the character of the duties of the positions, without regard to the salaries received.

10 The term "subdivision" refers to the divisions of positions in a group more specially arranged according to details for the purpose of examinations, identical in whole or in part.

11 The term "grade" refers to the divisions of any group or subdivision upon the basis of salary or compensation received.

12 The word "compensation" shall be construed as the annual salary of the position or its equivalent when stated by the day, week or month, and shall include proper commutation for lodgings and board, or either, when the same are furnished free as a part of such compensation, and such rate of commutation shall be fixed by regulation of the Commission.

13 The term "veterans" refers to honorably discharged soldiers and sailors from the army and navy of the United States, in the late civil war, who are citizens and residents of this state.

14 The terms "laborer" and "unskilled laborer" are used synonymously and shall be construed as applying only to persons employed as ordinary laborers, and shall not include mechanics, artisans, tradesmen and other skilled laborers, and no person shall be deemed a "laborer" who receives a compensation greater than $2 for each day of actual service or $60 per month.

15 The masculine pronoun "he" and its derivatives shall include the feminine pronoun "she" and its derivatives.

16 Whenever in these rules there is a direction that the Commission shall report any matter to the legislature it shall be construed as referring to the next ensuing annual report of the Commission to the legislature, as required by law.

Rule II—General provisions

1 The violation of any of the provisions of the civil service law or of these rules by any person in the civil service of the state or of any civil division or city thereof shall be considered a good cause for the dismissal of such person from the service.

2 No person in the civil service of the state or of any civil division or city thereof shall use his official authority or influence to coerce the political action of any person or body; or shall dismiss or cause to be dismissed, or make any attempt to procure the dismissal of, or in any manner change the official rank or compensation of, any person in such service, because of his political opinions or affiliations.

3 No question in any examination, or form of application or other proceeding by or under the State Commission or any municipal commission or their examiners shall be so framed as to elicit information concerning, nor any other attempt be made to ascertain the political opinions or affiliations of any applicant, competitor or eligible, and all disclosures thereof shall be discountenanced by the Commission and its examiners. And no discrimination shall be exercised, threatened or promised against or in favor of any applicant, competitor or eligible, because of his political opinions or affiliations.

4 No recommendation of an applicant, competitor or eligible involving any disclosure of his political opinions or affiliations shall be received, filed or considered by the Commission, by an examining board, or by any nominating or appointing officer.

5 No appointment or selection to or removal from an office or employment within the scope of any rules established under the civil service law shall be in any manner affected or influenced by any political opinions or affiliations.

6 No person in the civil service of the state or of any civil division or city thereof shall be obliged to contribute to any political fund or to render any political service; nor shall any such person, directly or indirectly, use his authority or official influence to compel or induce any other person in such service to pay or promise to pay any political assessment, subscription or contribution.

7 In making removals or reductions, or in imposing penalties for delinquency or misconduct, in the state service or city service penalties like in character shall be imposed for like offenses and action thereon shall be taken irrespective of the political opinions or affiliations of the offenders.

Rule III—Classification of the state service

1 The civil service of the state and of each of its civil divisions shall be divided into the unclassified service and the classified service.

2 The unclassified service shall comprise all elective offices; all offices filled by election or appointment by the legislature on joint ballot; all persons appointed by name in any statute; all legislative officers and employees; all offices filled by appointment by the governor, either upon or without confirmation by the senate, except officers and employees in the executive offices; all election officers; the head or heads of any department of the government; and persons employed in or who seek to enter the public service, as superintendents, principals or teachers in a public school or academy or in a state normal school or college.

3 The classified service shall comprise all positions not included in the unclassified service and shall be arranged in three classes; the exempt class, the competitive class, and the non-competitive class.

4 The classification by or under these rules in the competitive class of any position previously exempt from examination or subject to non-competitive examination, shall not be deemed to confer upon the person holding such position at the time of such change in classification any right or privilege of transfer or promotion to a position in the competitive class under these rules.

5 If at the time of promulgation of these rules there are in any office, department or institution more persons holding any position classified hereby in the exempt class than the number specified in such class by these rules, no further appointments shall be made under such exemption until the number of such persons in the service in said position shall have fallen below the number so specified.

Rule IV—Appointments to and employment in the classified service

1 In pursuance of the provisions of section 9 of article V of the constitution and of the civil service law there shall be provided, to ascertain merit and fitness for admission to the classified service, examinations to be made under the general direction of the Commission.

2 No person shall be appointed to or employed in any position in the classified service of the state or of any city or political division thereof for which rules have been prescribed pursuant to the provisions of the civil service law until he has passed an examination, or is shown to be especially exempted from such examination, in accordance with such rules and the provisions of the civil service law.

3 No person shall be appointed or employed under any title not appropriate to the duties to be performed, and no person shall be transferred to or assigned to perform the duties of any position subject to competitive examination, unless he shall have previously passed an open competitive examination equivalent to that required for such position, or unless he shall have served with fidelity in a similar position for at least three years next prior to the passage of the civil service law.

4 Appointments to positions in the state service the duties of which are confined to a locality outside of Albany county shall so far as practicable be made from residents of the judicial district including such locality.

5 Appointments to positions in the service of any county to which the provisions of these rules apply shall, so far as practicable, be made from residents of such county. [As amended June 16, 1900.]

4 All unskilled laborers and such skilled laborers as are not included in the competitive class or the non-competitive class.

5 All such other subordinate positions as the Commission may deem it impracticable to fill by competitive or non-competitive examinations.

No office or position shall be deemed to be in the exempt class unless it is specifically named in this rule, nor shall more than one appointment be made to or under the title of any such office or position, unless a different number is specifically mentioned in this rule, or unless the salary of such office or position is paid wholly from the salary or official emoluments of the head of the office, no part of which is to be returned or accounted for as public funds. [As amended Feb. 5, 1901.]

Rule VIII—Appointments to positions in the competitive class

1 Appointments shall be made to or employment shall be given in all positions in the competitive class that are not filled by promotion, reinstatement, transfer or reduction under these rules by selection from the persons graded highest on the most nearly appropriate eligible list resulting from open competitive examination held by the Commission, except as herein otherwise provided.

2 Whenever an appointing officer shall request a certification from the Commission for appointment to or employment in any position in the competitive class, he shall specify the title, duties and compensation of such position, so that certification may be made from the proper eligible list, or that when necessary a proper eligible list may be prepared as the result of an open competitive examination held for that purpose. The secretary shall thereupon as soon as practicable certify to the appointing officer for appointment, from the eligible list most nearly appropriate to such position, as it may then exist, the names of the three persons, if there be so many, standing highest on such eligible list, indicating such of them, if any, as are honorably discharged soldiers, sailors or marines from the army or navy of the United States in the late civil war, citizens and residents of this state, together with the average percentages and post-office addresses of such persons. If the appointing officer shall notify the Commission of more than one vacancy at any time, the secretary shall certify to the appointing officer the names of as many persons as there are vacancies to be filled with the addition of two names. No person shall be certified from an eligible list more than three times to the same appointing officer for the same or a similar position, except at the request of said officer, unless the person so certified is a veteran, in which case his name shall continue to be certified so long as it remains on the eligible list under these rules. Whenever the sex of those whose names are to be certified is fixed by any law, rule or regulation, or is specified in the request for certification, the names of those of the sex so fixed or specified shall be certified, but in other cases certification shall be made without regard to sex. When an eligible certified for appointment shall fail to accept an offer of appointment by mail within the four business days next succeeding the mailing of notice of appointment, or shall fail to accept an appointment within the same or next succeeding business day when notification is sent him by telegram, he shall be deemed to have declined the appointment, and upon proper notice of such fact from the appointing officer the secretary shall certify from the list an additional name or names to replace the names of persons so declining. An eligible who has declined an appointment shall not thereafter be certified for a position at the same or any less salary except upon his written request to the Commission. Whenever one or more eligibles shall have declined any appointment offered and an eligible whose relative standing is lower shall have been appointed to the position, the salary or compensation of such appointee shall not be increased within a period of six months after his appointment beyond that offered to the persons so declining.

3 From the persons whose names are so certified the officer shall make selection to fill the vacancy or vacancies, subject, however, to the provisions of the constitution giving preference in appointment to veterans. Whenever the appointing officer who shall have made a requisition to fill a certain number of vacancies shall appoint a number smaller than that of the vacancies named by him, he shall not make selection from the whole number certified to him but only from that number of names standing highest upon the list that would have been certified to him had the requisition stated the number of vacancies which he actually filled. Whenever an eligible list from which certification is to be made contains only one name, such person shall be eligible for temporary appointment until additional eligibles can be certified after competitive examination, but may be appointed permanently in the discretion of the appointing officer. [As amended May 8, 1900.]

4 Whenever there are urgent reasons for filling a vacancy in any position in the competitive class, and there is no list of persons eligible for appointment after competitive examination, the appointing officer may nominate a person to the State Commission for non-competitive examination, and if such nominee shall be certified by such Commission as qualified after such non-competitive examination, he may be appointed provisionally to fill such vacancy until a selection and appointment can be made after competitive examination, but such provisional appointment shall not continue more than ten days after notice to the appointing officer that an eligible list has been prepared for such position, nor in any case for a longer period than two months.

5 In case of vacancy in any position in the competitive class, where peculiar and exceptional qualifications of a scientific, professional or educational character are required, and upon satisfactory evidence that for specified reasons competition in such special case is impracticable, and that the position can be best filled by the selection of some designated person of high and recognized attainments in such qualities, the Commission may suspend the provisions of the rule requiring competition in such case, but no such suspension shall be general in its application to such place, and all such cases of suspension shall be reported to the legislature, with the reasons for the same.

6 When the services to be rendered by an appointee in the state service are for a temporary period, not to exceed one month, and the need of such service is important and urgent, the appointing officer may select for such service any person on the proper list of those eligible for permanent appointment. without regard to his standing on such list.

7 No person shall be eligible to temporary appointment to any position in the competitive class if he has received a temporary or provisional appointment within the previous four months.

8 The acceptance by an eligible of a temporary appointment shall not affect his standing on the register for a permanent employment, nor shall the period of temporary service be counted as part of the probationary service, in case of subsequent appointment to a permanent position.

9 The Commission may by special action except from examination under these rules any person engaged in private business who shall render any professional, scientific, technical or other expert service of an occasional and exceptional character to any state officer, and whose compensation in any one year shall not exceed $300; provided, that such limitation of compensation shall not apply to any such person employed by the governor, comptroller or attorney-general; and further provided, that the Commission may suspend such limitation of compensation by special resolution in other cases. All exceptions granted under this section, with the reasons therefor, shall be set forth by the Commission in its next annual report.

10 Whenever a vacancy exists in the competitive class, and there is no eligible list from which an appointment can be made thereto, and in an open competitive examination duly advertised there either are no applicants or none of the applicants appearing is found qualified, the head of the office may nominate a person to the Commission for non-competitive examination, and if such nominee shall be certified by the Commission as qualified, he may be appointed to fill such vacancy. In case there is a person serving in such a position under provisional examination, and no one applies to compete with him in an open competitive examination duly advertised, the provisional appointment of such person may be made permanent.

11 A person legally holding a position by appointment for a fixed term may be retained without examination at the expiration of such term upon receiving a reappointment, but otherwise the position shall be deemed vacant for the purpose of choosing his successor. [As amended November 14, 1900.]

Rule IX—Applications to enter examinations

1 No person shall be admitted to any examination for a position in the competitive class, until as provided by the civil service law, he shall have filed an application under oath upon a form prescribed by the Commission and accompanied by such certificates as may be prescribed.

2 Every applicant for examination must be a citizen of the United States, and an actual resident of the state of New York at the time of his application, provided, that such requirements as to citizenship and residence may be specially suspended by the Commission as to any position requiring high professional, scientific or technical qualifications, or in cases where through low compensation for services such requirements are disadvantageous to the public interests, but all such cases, whether of individuals or groups, with the reasons therefor, shall be reported to the legislature.

3 No application for examination shall be accepted, unless the applicant is within the age limitations fixed by the Commission for entrance to the position to which he seeks to be appointed.

4 The Commission may refuse to examine an applicant, or after examination to certify an eligible who is found to lack any of the established preliminary requirements for the examination or position for which he applies; or who is physically so disabled as to be rendered unfit for the performance of the duties of the position to which he seeks appointment; or who is addicted to the habitual use of intoxicating beverages to excess; or who has been guilty of a crime or of infamous or notoriously disgraceful conduct; or who has been dismissed from the service for delinquency or misconduct; or who has intentionally made a false statement in any material fact, or practised, or attempted to practise, any deception or fraud in his application or examination, or in securing his eligibility or appointment. Any of the foregoing disqualifications shall be good cause for the removal of an eligible from the service after his appointment.

5 In applications for examination for positions requiring scientific, professional or technical qualifications, the Commission may require evidences of special education for, or of practical experience for a satisfactory term in, such science, profession, art or trade; and shall require the production of such certificates of competency and licenses as are provided by the statutes of this state as necessary to enable the practice of any profession, art or trade.

6 Any application for a position in the civil service made in contravention of the provisions of section 4 of rule II will be rejected.

Rule X—Examinations

1 All examinations shall be public and shall be practical in their character and relate to such matters as will fairly test the relative capacity and fitness of the persons examined to discharge the duties of that service into which they seek to be appointed.

2 The Commission shall prepare lists of preliminary requirements and subjects of examination for the several positions and groups of positions in the competitive class, and under its direction and subject to its approval the chief examiner shall, from time to time, prepare such standard examinations for the positions and groups of positions aforesaid as shall be wholly or in part pertinent to them, under the provisions of the preceding section of this rule.

3 The Commission may further direct oral examinations or special practical tests of fitness for any particular positions requiring any scientific, professional or technical knowledge or manual skill.

4 For the purpose of making examinations of applicants, from time to time, as may be required, the Commission shall designate and select a suitable number of persons to be members of boards of examiners at such places as it deems necessary, and shall duly commission such persons as examiners; and the Commission may at any time substitute any other person in place of any one so selected. When persons selected as examiners are in the official service of the state, the head of the office in which such persons serve shall be consulted; and in the discharge of their duties as examiners, the persons so selected from the official service shall be responsible solely to the Commission, and shall act under its regulations and directions. The members of any board of examiners shall not all be adherents of one political party when other persons are available and competent to serve upon such board.

5 Examinations of a general character shall be held at least once a year in each of the following places: Albany, Amsterdam, Auburn, Binghamton, Buffalo, Dunkirk, Elmira, Geneva, Hornellsville, Ithaca, Jamestown, Johnstown, Kingston, Lockport, Malone, Middletown, Newburgh, New York, Ogdensburg, Olean, Oneonta, Oswego, Plattsburg, Poughkeepsie, Rochester, Sandy

Hill, Saratoga, Syracuse, Utica and Watertown, and may be held more often in such places, or at other places for specific purposes in the discretion of the Commission; and under its direction the chief examiner shall advertise such examinations in such manner as their nature may require. Previous notice of examinations shall be mailed to all persons who have made application in due form, with copies of such general or special regulations as the Commission shall prescribe.

6 Whenever physical qualifications are of prime importance in the proper discharge of duties in any position, applicants must pass a physical examination and be certified as qualified in such respect, either before admission to examination, or before record in the proper eligible list, or before certification for appointment, as the Commission may determine.

7 Whenever, in its opinion, any position to be filled in the competitive class has a fiduciary or executive character, the Commission may require, as a part of the examination, such special certificates by reputable and responsible citizens as to the character, trustworthiness and business experience of an applicant or eligible as it may deem proper and expedient. All such special certificates shall be properly filed and retained as public records in the office of the Commission.

8 When the position to be filled involves fiduciary responsibility, the appointing officer, where otherwise permitted by law, may require the appointee to furnish a bond or other security and shall notify the Commission of the amount and necessary details thereof.

9 No person who has entered any competitive examination for a position in the classified service shall be admitted within nine months from the date thereof to a new examination for the same position. [As amended November 28, 1899.]

10 Examination papers shall be rated on a scale of 100, and the subjects therein shall be given such relative weights as the Commission may prescribe. After a competitor's papers have been rated he shall be duly notified of the results thereof.

Rule XI—Eligible lists

1 Every competitor who attains an average percentage of 75 or over on all the obligatory subjects in any examination, and whose standing on every such obligatory subject is 60 or over, shall be eligible for appointment to the position for which he was examined; and the names of eligibles shall be entered, in the order of their average percentages, on the proper register of eligibles; provided that the names of competitors who have passed as above and whose claims for preference under section 9 of article V of the constitution have been allowed by the Commission, shall be placed in the order of their respective average percentages at the head of the proper register of eligibles.

2 When two or more eligibles on a register have the same average percentage, preference in certification shall be determined by the order in which their applications were filed, but neither priority in the date of application nor of examination will give any other advantage in position on the registers of eligibles.

3 Appointment shall be made from the eligible list most nearly appropriate for the group in which the position to be filled is classified, and a new list shall be created for a stated position or group of positions only when there is no appropriate list existing or when the existing list from which certification is to be made is likely to be exhausted.

4 The Commission shall prescribe the character of the distinct eligible lists, designating the positions that may be filled by certification from each of such lists. A transfer of names from one eligible list to another, prepared as above, may be made by direction of the Commission.

5 The term of eligibility shall be fixed by the regulations of the Commission at not less than one nor more than four years, with reference mainly to the probable number and frequency of certifications to be made from such lists respectively.

6 Merit lists for appointment in the state service existing at the time of the passage of the civil service law shall be continued as the eligible lists from which appointments are to be made until an examination for similar positions shall be held and reported by the Commission under these rules, and all eligible lists prepared as the results of fitness examinations are hereby abolished.

Rule XII—Term of probation

1 Every original appointment to or employment in any position in the competitive class shall be for a probationary term of three months, and an appointing or nominating officer in notifying a person certified to him for appointment or employment shall specify the same as for a probationary term only; and if the conduct, capacity and fitness of the probationer are satisfactory to the appointing officer, his retention in the service after the end of such term shall be equivalent to his permanent appointment, but if his conduct, capacity or fitness be not satisfactory he may be discharged at the end of such term, without regard to the provisions of rule XXIII limiting the power of removal.

Whenever two or more persons appointed from the same eligible list are serving as probationers in the same department, and there is necessity for a reduction of the force of such department affecting such persons, they shall be preferred for retention in the order of their original standing upon such list. [As amended March 21, 1900.]

2 Every officer under whom any probationer shall serve during any part of his probation shall carefully observe the quality and value of the services rendered by such probationer, and his conduct, and if so required shall report in writing to the proper appointing officer the facts observed by him, showing the character and qualifications of such probationer, and of the service rendered by him, and such reports shall be preserved on file.

Rule XIII—Season positions

1 All positions in the competitive class, where the nature of service is such that it is not continuous through the year, but recurs in each successive calendar year, shall be designated as season positions and shall be subject to the provisions of these rules applicable generally to positions in such class, except as herein otherwise provided.

2 Any person originally appointed to or employed in a season position, under the provisions of these rules, and who has been temporarily separated from the service by the expiration thereof in any year, shall be entitled to reappointment to or re-employment in the same position in the next ensuing year, upon filing in the office of the Commission, in such form as it may prescribe, a request for such reappointment or re-employment within six weeks previous to and at least thirty days before the date of resumption of such short-term service. The Commission shall certify to the proper appointing or employing officer the names and post-office addresses of the persons who have made such formal requests, and they shall be reinstated in the positions vacated by them in the previous year in the order of the date of their original appointment or latest promotion in the several grades, provided that in the meantime they are not disqualified from any of the causes recited in the fourth section of rule IX.

Rule XIV—Promotions

1 Except as otherwise provided in this rule whenever a vacancy occurs in any position in the competitive class above the lowest grade in any group, the chief examiner shall forthwith arrange to hold a promotion examination limited to those persons who have for more than six months served with fidelity in the next lower grade in such group in the same office, department or institution, provided, that if there are no persons who have served with fidelity for six months in the next lower grade, or provided all persons in the next lower grade fail in any promotion examination, then all persons in the second lower grade who have served with fidelity for six months in the same group in the same office, department or institution, shall have the right to compete in said promotion examination. On the request of the appointing officer the Commission may permit persons occupying two or more of the next lower grades to compete for the promotion, reasons for such course being set forth in detail.

Whenever after it is found by the State Commission not practicable to fill a vacancy in any position through promotion in the manner herein prescribed, such vacancy shall be filled by original appointment through competitive examination in accordance with the provisions of subdivision 1 of rule VIII. [As amended September 24, 1900.]

2 As provided by the civil service law an increase in the salary or other compensation of any person holding an office or position within the scope of these rules beyond the limit fixed for the grade in which such office or position is classified shall be deemed a promotion.

3 No promotion can be made from a position in one class or group to a position in another class or group, unless the same be specially authorized by the Commission, but a person employed in any position shall not, because of such appointment, be barred from the open competitive examination provided for original entrance to any other position.

4 The test of actual service being the main factor in fitness for promotion there shall be kept in every office continuous and comparative records of the efficiency, punctuality, attention and general good conduct of all persons employed therein. Such records shall at all times be open to inspection by the State Commission and if the same have been regularly and properly kept they shall constitute one of the elements in such promotion examination, with such relative weight as shall be assigned to them by the chief examiner. If such records have not been regularly and properly kept the chief examiner shall prescribe such tests as to him may seem best calculated to determine the relative merit and fitness of the persons entitled to enter the promotion examination.

5 The appointing officer shall notify the Commission of any vacancy in a position in his office to be filled by promotion, and thereupon, after consultation with the appointing officer the Commission shall direct a competitive examination of those entitled to enter the same under the provisions of this rule, and shall publish the same by notice, giving date and place, posted conspicuously in the office where such vacancy exists, and sent by mail to those eligible to such examination.

6 After consultation with the appointing officer under whom the vacancy exists the Commission shall appoint an examining board of three members. The written part of the examination shall be confined to the duties of the office in which the vacancy occurs, and particularly to the duties of the position to be filled. Due weights will be given to the candidates' seniority and past record in the office and to any special fitness for the duties of the higher position.

7 The conduct of such examination and the preparation of the eligible list shall be subject to the general provisions of rules X and XI; provided, however, that no eligible list for promotion shall be valid beyond one year. The Commission shall certify from the eligible list for promotion in the same manner provided in section 2 of rule VIII for certification for original appointment, except that where vacancies in the position of first assistant physician in any of the state hospitals are to be filled, the Commission shall certify in addition to the three highest names upon the eligible list the names of all persons at that time connected with the institution in which the vacancy exists whose rating is 85 per cent or over. [As amended May 8 and July 10, 1900.]

8 No recommendation of any person for promotion, whether verbal or written, shall be entertained or received, unless made in the ordinary course of duty by his immediate official superiors, and the presentation of any recommendation other than that of such superiors shall be considered an unwarrantable interference with the public service, and the person so recommended may be required to show, before being certified for promotion, that such recommendation was not made by his request or connivance.

9 When an appointing officer shall submit information in writing to the State Civil Service Commission showing that there is any person in his department whose services therein and whose experience and qualifications are of such a character that such person can better discharge the duties of the position in which there is a vacancy than any of the persons who are entitled to enter the promotion examination, the Commission shall direct an inquiry into the matter, and if satisfied that the statements of the appointing officer are correct, may authorize the promotion of such person.

10 Whenever there is but one person entitled to promotion to fill a vacancy and willing to compete therefor, or whenever an appointing officer is desirous of promoting all the persons in a particular grade entitled to compete for promotion, such person or persons may be promoted to the next higher grade without examination upon a certificate of the facts and the approval of the Commission [As amended July 29 and October 2, 1899.]

Rule XV—Transfers

1 A person who has received an absolute appointment to any position in the competitive class may be transferred to a position in the same group, subdivision and grade in any other office, provided that for original entrance to the position proposed to be filled by transfer there is not required by these rules, in the opinion of the Commission, an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those involved in the examination for original entrance to the position held by the person proposed to be transferred; but this restriction shall not apply in case the name of such person shall be upon the eligible list for the position to which he is proposed to be transferred.

2 No transfer can be made from any position in the unclassified service to any position in the classified service, nor from any position in one class to any position in another class, nor from any position in any grade, subdivision or group in the competitive class to any different grade, subdivision or group in that class, unless the same shall be specially authorized by the Commission, and such authorization shall be reported, with the reasons therefor, to the legislature; provided, that a person who, by promotion or transfer from a position in the classified service, has entered a position appointment to which is made by the governor, by and with the consent of the senate, and has served continuously therein from the date of said promotion or transfer, may be retransferred from such unclassified position to the position from which he was so transferred, or to any position to which transfer could be made therefrom.

Rule XVI—Reinstatement in service

1 Any person who has held a position by appointment under the civil service rules, and who has been separated from the service through no delinquency or misconduct on his part, may be reinstated without re-examination in a vacant position in the same office and in the same group, subdivision and grade, within one year from the date of such separation, provided that for original entrance to the position proposed to be filled by reinstatement there is not required by these rules, in the opinion of the Commission, an examination involving essential tests or qualifications different from or higher than those involved in the examination for original entrance to the position formerly held by the person proposed to be reinstated.

2 Whenever in any department or institution an office or position is abolished, or whenever the number of positions of a certain character is reduced, the person or persons legally holding the office, or filling the position, shall be entitled to reappointment to or reinstatement in the said position or office if it is thereafter within one year re-established under the same or any other designation.

Rule XVII—Certificates for promotion, transfer and reinstatement

1 Upon the written request of an appointing officer, stating the essential facts in regard to any proposed promotion, transfer or reinstatement, the Commission will, if such promotion, transfer or reinstatement be in accordance with law and the provisions of these rules, issue its certificate of that fact to such officer.

2 All promotions, transfers and reinstatements herein authorized shall be made only after the issuance of such certificate, except those which may be specifically exempted from such condition by regulation of the Commission.

Rule XVIII—Definition of the non-competitive class

The non-competitive class shall include such positions as are not in the exempt class and which it is impracticable to include in the competitive class.

The head of any office, department or institution in which there may be a vacancy or vacancies in any position or positions in this class, may name for examination a person for each vacancy. The Commission may provide by special regulation that in any institution where a number of persons are employed in the same grade, the employing officer may name for examination more than one person, in order that there may be a list of qualified persons from which to make an immediate selection in case of vacancy. Such nomination may be made to the Commission, or to an examiner or board of examiners, as the Commission may prescribe by regulations.

2 The Commission shall select, appoint and commission examiners or boards of examiners to test the qualifications of persons named for employment in positions in the non-competitive class, and they shall be subject to the provisions of the fourth section of rule X.

3 Examinations for positions in the non-competitive class shall be such as shall determine the following qualifications:

First—That the person examined is within the limits of age prescribed for the position or employment to which he has been named;

Second—That he is properly certified as free from any physical defect or disease which would be likely to interfere with the proper discharge of his duties;

Third—That his character is such as to qualify him for such position or employment; and Fourth—That he possesses the requisite knowledge and ability to enter on the discharge of his duties in the service.

To preserve a uniform standard in such qualifications for like positions and employments in the several institutions and offices of the state service, the Commission, after consultation with the principal officers concerned, may by regulations prescribe uniform limitations and tests for the government of the examiners.

Rule XX—Reports of appointing officers

For the purpose of certification to the comptroller, or other fiscal officer, for the payment of salaries and to enable the Commission to keep an official roster of the classified service as required by law, each appointing and employing officer, from time to time after the date of the promulgation of these rules and upon the date of the official action in or knowledge of each case, shall report to the Commission as follows:

(a) Every appointment or employment whether probationary, temporary, or otherwise, in the classified service, with the date of commencement of service and the title and compensation of the position.

This includes every employment or designation of any person to render any service, whether permanent, temporary or special, to the state of New York or any of its civil divisions to which these rules shall be extended, in any capacity whatever, compensation for which is to be made to the person employed or designated, except in the military service and the unclassified service as defined by law and by section 2 of rule III.

(i) Every reinstatement in a position, with the date and salary thereof.

Rule XXI—The official roster

The Commission shall keep in its office an official roster of the classified state service, and shall enter thereon the name of each and every person who has been appointed to, employed, promoted or reinstated in any position in such service upon such evidence as it may require or deem satisfactory that such person was appointed to, or employed, promoted or reinstated in the service in conformity with the provisions of law and of these rules. The official roster shall show opposite, or in connection with each name, the date of appointment, employment, promotion or reinstatement, and the office in which and the compensation of the position, date of commencement of service, and the date of transfer in or separation from the service by dismissal, resignation, cancellation of appointment, or death.

Rule XXII—Certification for payment for services

For the purpose of certification of payrolls, estimates and accounts as required by section 19 of the civil service law, appointing officers and heads of departments shall furnish the Commission with payrolls, estimates, accounts and certificates in form and manner as follows:

1 Heads of departments, officers and institutions in the state service whose employees are paid individually direct from the treasury of the state or any civil division thereof, shall furnish the Commission, at least five days before payment is to be made, payrolls in duplicate, showing the names of the persons to be paid, the title of the position held or kind of service performed by each person, the rate and amount of compensation to which he is entitled, and the period for which he is to be paid, and shall certify that the persons named therein are employed solely in the proper duties of the positions and employments indicated, and that persons described as or proposed to be paid as "laborers" are employed at ordinary unskilled labor only. After examination and certification by the Commission as hereinafter prescribed, such payrolls shall be transmitted by it to the comptroller or fiscal officer of such civil division for further examination and payment as required by law, and one of said duplicates shall accompany the warrants on the treasurer or other disbursing officer.

2 For payments for irregular or occasional services, and for advances of salary to regular employees, the head of such a department, office or institution shall transmit to the Commission the original account or a special payroll or a request for advance payment, bearing his written approval, which approval shall be deemed to be a certificate of the facts required by the preceding section to be certified on the regular payrolls. Upon examination and certification by the Commission such account, payroll or request shall be forwarded to the comptroller or other fiscal officer.

3 Heads of departments, offices or institutions whose employees are paid directly by the department without previous detailed estimates to the comptroller, shall furnish the Commission, before payment is made, or in case of employees of the department of public works and of the state engineer and surveyor on the canals, outside of Albany, before credit is claimed from the comptroller on such payrolls, the payrolls and certificates as required in section one hereof, and except in the case noted, disbursing officers of such departments, offices and institutions shall not pay such persons until the Commission shall certify as hereinafter prescribed. Heads and disbursing officers of such departments, offices and institutions shall file the payrolls certified by the Commission as vouchers in claiming credit from the comptroller or other fiscal officer for such payments.

4 The estimates for payment of officers and employees, and for services of state hospitals and charitable institutions required by law to render detailed estimates in advance, under what is known as the "estimate system," containing the names, titles of positions held or kind of service performed and rate of compensation of all officers and employees in the classified service with the certificate specified in section one hereof, shall be submitted to the Commission for certification before approval by the comptroller or other department having power of revision of such estimates, and no vouchers for payments for services shall be received unless in accord with such estimates, and the certificate of the Commission.

5 The secretary or assistant secretary of the Commission shall compare such payroll, estimate or account for services with the official roster and shall attach thereto or place thereon a certificate in form substantially as follows:

"I hereby certify that the person (or persons) named in this (or the attached) payroll (or estimate or account) for services rendered to the state of New York in the .....containing .....names have been appointed or promoted to or employed in the positions or places and at the rates of compensation indicated in pursuance of the civil service law, and the rules made in pursuance thereof as shown by the official roster of the state service, except (Here insert the names in regard to which the payroll, estimate or account disagrees with the official roster.)

"Secretary of the State Civil Service Commission"

To provide for the making of such certifications and for other purposes the Commission shall designate an employee in its office to act as assistant secretary of the Commission, under and by direction of the secretary when that officer is on duty and for him and in his stead in his absence.

6 Upon satisfactory evidence that, with intent to evade the provisions of law and of these rules, any person appointed to or employed in any position in the classified service has been assigned to perform duties other than those for which he was examined and certified, or under any title not appropriate to the duties to be performed, the Commission will refuse certification, and remove his name from the official roster.

Rule XXIII—Causes for removal

(Repealed October 17, 1901.)

Rule XXIV—Extension of rules

These rules shall not be deemed to extend to the offices, places and employments in the civil divisions of the state, until after due inquiry by the Commission it shall be found practicable, of which finding proper and timely notice shall be given.

In pursuance of the foregoing provision these rules have been extended to the offices, places and employments in the civil service of the counties of Erie, Kings, New York, Queens and Richmond, to take effect from and after June 16, 1900. [As amended June 16, 1900.]

Rule XXV—Administrative regulations

The Commission shall prescribe and enforce suitable regulations for carrying into effect the provisions of these rules and those of the civil service law and of section 9 of article V of the constitution, not inconsistent therewith; and shall prescribe blank forms for all applications, certificates, reports, records and returns required under these rules and the regulations made in pursuance thereof.

Such boards shall consist of three or more members, one of whom shall act as secretary and two or more of whom may conduct an examination in the absence of the others. The secretary shall keep a record of the proceedings of the board and of the examinations held by it, and shall report to the Commission the names of persons examined and the results of their examinations. The application and examination papers of candidates shall be forwarded to the Commission with the report.

6 Examiners shall take care to secure uniformity and fairness in the conduct of examinations. They must not disclose the details of answers of candidates. No examiner or other person serving under the Commission shall attempt to influence the marking or grading of any candidate, or the selection, nomination, appointment or employment of any person in the civil service.

Regulation IV—Application

1 All applications for admission to examination shall be made upon the blank forms prescribed and furnished by the Commission, and no one will be admitted who has not made such application in satisfactory form.

2 In every application for examination for original appointment in the competitive class, the applicant must state on oath and in his own handwriting: (1) the position or kind of examination desired; (2) his full name, residence and post-office address; (3) his term of residence in this state; (4) his citizenship, and if naturalized, the date and place of his naturalization; (5) the date and place of his birth; (6) his previous employment in the civil service, if any; (7) his business or employment for the last preceding five years; (8) his education; (9) if in the army or navy of the United States in the late civil war and honorably discharged therefrom, the name of organization or vessel to which attached, date of enlistment or commission, position or rank, and date and cause of discharge from the service; (10) such other information as the Commission may require touching his eligibility and fitness for the public service.

3 The application must be accompanied (1) by a certificate of a practising physician in good repute that he has examined the applicant and found him free from any physical defect or disease that would interfere with the proper discharge of his duties in the position applied for; (2) by the certificates of not less than three nor more than five reputable citizens that they have been personally acquainted with the applicant for at least one year and believe him to be of good moral character, of temperate and industrious habits and in all respects fit for the service he wishes to enter, and that they are willing that such certificate shall be published for public information, and (3) if the applicant is an honorably discharged soldier or sailor of the late civil war, by the adjutant-general's certificate of his honorable discharge or other satisfactory evidence of the same.

5 The limits of age at the time of application for the following-named positions are as follows: stenographer, telegrapher. stenographer and telegrapher, messenger, chainman, minimum, 18 years; regents' clerk, minimum, 16 years; page, minimum, 14 years, and maximum, 18 years; junior clerks, minimum 16 years, and maximum 21 years. For all other positions the minimum age limit is 21 years, with no maximum limit. [As amended September 27, 1899; January 24, 1900.]

6 Defective applications will be suspended and applicants notified to amend the same, but no such notice will be given or opportunity granted a second time.

7 Applications must be filed at least five days before the date of examination to entitle the applicant to enter the same.

8 The date of the reception of all applications shall be indorsed thereon, and entered of record by the Commission, and if the applicants for any position are in excess of a number that can be examined at a single examination, they will be notified to appear in their order on the respective records, provided that veterans shall have precedence in such notification.

9 Applications and accompanying certificates, not returned for correction, will remain on file in the office of the Commission, and under no circumstances will be returned to the applicant.

10 All applications for admission to examinations must be directed to the "State Civil Service Commission, Albany, N. Y."

11 Candidates for examination for positions in the non-competitive class shall file applications on blank forms prescribed by the Commission containing such information as the Commission shall deem necessary in regard to their eligibility and fitness for the positions applied for. Such applications may be presented at the time of examination and shall be forwarded to the Commission by the examiners together with the examination papers.

Regulation V—Examinations

1 Competitive examinations will be held from time to time for such positions as shall be specially requested by appointing officers and for those for which, in the opinion of the Commission, the number of applicants or lack of eligibles renders an examination desirable. The preliminary requirements, subjects of examinations and relative weights for positions in the competitive class shall be published from time to time. The place and date of an examination for any position, when determined, and any other material information in regard thereto, will be posted in the office of the Commission in the capitol at Albany at least ten days before the date of such examination.

All examinations of a public and general interest shall be advertised by the chief examiner so far as practicable in every county of the state at least ten days before the date of the examination by one insertion of a suitable notice in one or more prominent newspapers of the county; examinations of a professional and technical nature shall be advertised, so far as practicable, in suitable periodicals published in this state.

2 Notice of examination will be mailed ten days previous to the date thereof to each applicant then entitled to enter the same. If an applicant fails to receive due notice of an examination, or gives satisfactory reasons for failure to attend an examination he shall be notified to attend the next examination for the same subdivision and group, provided such examination occurs within one year from the date of filing the original application.

3 Applicants must present themselves promptly at the hour and place specified in their official notification signed by the chief examiner of the Commission, and no one will be admitted to an examination except upon the production of such notification.

4 In order to properly identify competitors, each person presenting himself for examination shal fill out a "declaration sheet" on which he shall state the essential facts contained in his application paper. Each declaration sheet shall bear a different number which shall be used to designate the examination papers of the competitor. The name of the competitor shall not appear on his examination papers except on the declaration sheet.

5 For the further identification of appointees and for the prevention of impersonation in examinations, every person appointed after a competitive examination shall be required to fill out an identification sheet to be called "declaration of appointee." Said declaration shall require a reiteration of the essential facts of the application and declaration sheet and the statement of such other facts as the chief examiner shall require, and shall be filled out by the appointee in the presence of the appointing officer or his representative who shall attach his certificate of such fact. Such declaration shall be forwarded with the notice of appointment to the State Civil Service Commission and shall be filed with the examination papers of the appointee. [As amended November 23, 1899.]

6 The relative weights given to the several subjects or qualifications in an examination shall be fixed before the date thereof by the chief examiner under the direction of the Commission.

7 Non-competitive examinations for provisional appointments under the provisions of rule VIII shall be in their scope and character the same as competitive examinations to fill vacancies in the same positions.

8 Whenever an oral examination shall be prescribed as part of any scheme of examinations, a stenographic record of the oral questions and answers shall be made and the transcript thereof shall be preserved with the examination papers or report.

Regulation VI—Marking and grading of examination papers

1 So soon as practicable after an examination the papers of the competitors shall be marked and the general average of each ascertained. Such marking and ascertainment shall be under the direction of the chief examiner, and, so far as practicable, shall be made at the office of the Commission.

2. The marking of each competitor's papers shall be made on the scale of 100, which maximum shall represent the highest attainable accuracy, and 0 shall represent entire ignorance. The average of the marking of the several answers upon any one subject shall be the standing on that subject.

No person shall have his name entered upon an eligible list who fails to attain an average percentage of 75, or over, on all the obligatory subjects in the examination, and a percentage of 60 or over on every such obligatory subject.

3 The absolute or general average standing of each competitor will then be made up in form substantially as follows, in accordance with the respective weights accorded to the subjects:

EXAMINATION OF .....

Subjects	Relative weights	Standing on subjects	Products
1 Writing from dictation.....	3	95	285
2 Copying from manuscript	2	78	156
3 Handwriting.....	4	80	320
4 Spelling.....	3	98	294
5 Arithmetic.....	4	62	248
6 Geography and history.....	1	70	70
7 Constitutional questions	1	63	63
8 Making a summary	2	75	150
Total weight and product.....	20	.....	1,586
General average standing			79.30

It will be observed that the standing on each subject is multiplied by the weight given that subject and the product placed in the third column, and the sum of these products, divided by the sum of the weights, gives the general average standing.

4 Within five days after the filing of the report of any competitive examination, each competitor will be advised by mail by the secretary of the Commission as to the result of his examination and his relative position on the eligible list. Prior to that time no inquiries to the Commission, or its officers, will be answered, nor will any letters, explanatory of errors presumed to have been made in an examination, receive any attention.

5 A competitor receiving such notice may, in person or by duly authorized agent, in the presence of any officer of the Commission, inspect his examination papers, and, if in his opinion, injustice has been done him, he may, within fifteen days after the receipt of notice, appeal to the Commission, specifying particularly and in detail the cause of complaint. Such appeal will be considered by the Commission, and, if necessary, it will direct the revision of the marking or grading of the appellant's papers, or otherwise do justice in the premises.

Regulation VII—Eligible lists

1 After an examination for positions in any grade or subdivision in the competitive class, the names of such competitors as are eligible under the provisions of rule XI shall be entered upon an eligible list for such position in order as follows:

First, the names of veterans in the order of their rating; and, second, the names of other eligibles in the order of their rating. Opposite the name of each eligible shall be entered his post-office address and his rating. The accuracy of all such lists shall be checked by two officials in the office of the Commission.

2 The eligible list so prepared shall be entered by the secretary in the proper place in the register of eligible lists, which may be kept by the card system, or otherwise, as deemed most convenient. Whenever there remain on the register any eligibles for any position at the time when the eligibles ascertained by a new examination are to be entered thereon, the names of all the eligibles shall be subject to the above regulation as to the order in which they shall be entered.

3 The term of eligibility shall be one year from the date of filing of the report of the examination or until a new list of eligibles for the same positions shall be filed, if longer than one year, unless otherwise prescribed by the Commission. The term of eligibility for the position of state hospital superintendent shall be three years, and for the positions of court stenographer, state hospital matron, assistant civil engineer, first assistant physician, woman physician, regents examiner, court interpreter, engineering draughtsman, architectural draughtsman, apothecary, examination clerk, technical and trade instructors, chemist, steward, milk expert, butter expert, cheese expert, vinegar expert, chief engineer, inspector of boilers and engines, building inspector, inspector of nurseries, junior physician, librarian and library assistant, two years. Whenever a person whose name is on an eligible list for any position shall enter a new examination for the same position within his term of eligibility his eligibility on account of the former examination shall cease from the date of filing of the report of the new examination, and from such date he shall be credited with the mark and relative position obtained in the new examination. If he fail in the new examination, his name shall be stricken from the eligible list.

4 Copies of eligible lists shall not be furnished by the Commission except to the appointing officers having the right of selection from such lists. The lists will be open to public inspection.

5 The secretary shall certify eligibles upon the requisition of an appointing officer in accordance with the provisions of section 2 of rule VIII in such form as the Commission may prescribe. No appointment shall be made from any certificate of eligibles after the expiration of the eligible list from which such certificate is drawn, nor after receipt by the Commission of a report of examination providing new eligibles for such list. If the appointment shall be made of any person other than one of the three standing highest on the eligible list, the appointing officer shall forward to the Commission with the notice of appointment copies of all correspondence to and from the persons declining such appointment, in accordance with the provisions of rule XX and section 2 of rule VIII. [As amended May 7, 1900.]

6 Section 13 of the civil service law requiring appointments to positions in the state service, the duties of which are confined to a locality outside of Albany county, to be made, so far as practicable, from residents of the judicial district including such locality, shall be applied as follows:

(a) In certifications from the eligible lists of clerks, junior clerks, bookkeepers, stenographers, pages, teachers, storekeepers, messengers, janitors, assistant steam engineers, assistant electrical engineers, firemen, court stenographers, court attendants, court clerks, building inspectors, milk experts, veal inspectors, housekeepers, nurses, supervisors, watchmen, florists and gardeners. [As amended January 2, 1901.]

(d) In certification from the eligible list of court attendants for appointment in the appellate division of the supreme court, residents of the judicial department in which the vacancy exists shall be preferred. [As amended March 15, 1901.]

When the services to be performed in any position for which eligibles are to be certified from any of the eligible lists mentioned in this section are confined to a locality outside of Albany county, the secretary shall certify from the proper eligible list the person or persons standing highest who are residents of the judicial district in which the service is located; or, in case of guards, of the judicial districts indicated in (b) above; but if there be no eligibles who are residents of such judicial district, or if all such eligibles shall decline the appointment, the person or persons standing highest on the whole eligible list shall be certified.

For the purpose of certification under this regulation, the residence of any person shall be deemed to be the place stated by such person in his application to be his legal residence at the time such application is filed, but in case any person has removed from the judicial district in which he resided at the time of the filing of his application for examination, such person shall no longer be eligible to appointment from that district, but shall, after three months, be on the eligible list for the judicial district into which he has moved. [As amended February 6, 1900.]

Regulation VIII—Accounts

1 All accounts for compensation as examiners or for preparation of questions or marking of answers and papers, or other expenses of examinations, shall be certified by the chief examiner.

2 All accounts for other expenses of the Commission, except those for salaries and official expenses fixed by statute, and those certified as above by the chief examiner, shall be certified by the secretary.

3 All accounts certified by the chief examiner and secretary shall be approved by the Commission before payment.

5 The examination papers of a competitor will be exhibited only to the competitor or his duly authorized representative, or to the appointing officer to whom his name is certified.

6 Copies of questions used in examinations cannot be furnished except in cases where they are published by the Commission for general information.

7 The qualifications of applicants and subjects of examination, as prepared from time to time, will be published, but in regard to certain positions in which vacancies are rare the nature and extent of the examinations may not be determined until vacancies occur.

8 Eligible lists may be published with the standing of the persons named in them, but under no circumstances will the names of persons passing below the minimum standing be published, nor will their examination papers be exhibited or any information given about them, except as provided in the fifth section of this regulation.
